Soviets Denounce Scouting Flights By U.S. On Cuba

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government's official paper Izvestia denounced U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuba and reiterated that the Soviet Union will side with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's island nation if it is attacked.

Izvestia stepped into a controversy between Havana and Washington with a long article Friday sharply condemning the aerial surveys of Cuba that the United States has conducted periodically since the missile crisis of October 1962.

INFLUENTIAL WRITER

The article was signed by "Observer," which means someone influential in Soviet Premier Khrushchev's regime. And its headline was: "No one is allowed to violate the sovereignty of Cuba."

In Washington, a State Department spokesman declined comment.

"The flights of American warplanes over Cuba are an unconcealed violation of the sovereign rights of an independent state, a violation of the United Nations charter and of generally recognized standards of international law," the article charged.

"This is a most dangerous policy which could lead to the risk of a new sharpening of tension in the Caribbean area."

"Gentlemen, do not try to intimidate us. If Cuba is subjected to a treacherous attack, the Soviet Union will not put up with it and will side with Cuba. It has declared this before and confirms this now," the article said.

Izvestia said it is an inalienable right of Cuba "to take the necessary measures to put an end to the intrusion of foreign warplanes into its airspace."

"If the provocations are continued against Cuba," it said, "the responsibility for them will be borne by those who organize these provocations."

The United States intends to continue the flights.

First Family Makes Visit Among Poor

INEZ, Ky. (AP) — President Johnson went to the roots of Appalachia's poverty Friday, visiting two families who live in tarpaper shacks in this unemployment-plagued eastern Kentucky town.

FRIENDLY CHAT

Visiting like a next-door neighbor, the President squatted on a pile of lumber on the front porch of the flimsy dwelling where Tom Fletcher, his wife and their eight children live.

With the Fletchers during the 10-minute chat with Johnson were Noah Bowen, his wife and three children. They live in a nearby shack similar to the Fletchers'.

Fletcher, 38, told Johnson he has been out of work most of the past two years. He said he earned about $400 last year to support his large family.

Most of the conversation was out of the hearing of newsmen.

But, upon leaving, Johnson told Fletcher: "Take care of yourself. And don't you forget now: I want you to put those boys through school."

Mrs. Johnson departed with a wave and called, "Bye, chillun."

At Pittsburgh, Johnson told some 1,300 delegates to the national convention of the League of Women Voters in a downtown Pittsburgh hotel that women should assume a leading role in the war on poverty.

"I expect the women of America to be the first to enlist in this war because of their children and the children of future generations," he said.

Laotian Reds Oppose 'Right' In Cabinet Bid

This came on the heels of an announcement from Souvanna that agreement had been reached on the right-wing demands. It threatened to block efforts of the premier to put his government back into full operation.

In addition, a leader of the junta that seized power in this administrative capital Sunday made clear it would not relinquish control until a government is formed "according to our wishes." It wants men it approves added to the Cabinet.

Souk Vongsak, secretary of state for the Pathet Lao, declared his group opposes any Cabinet reshuffle and refuses to deal with the junta leaders.

He told a news conference that the aim of the junta is "to sabotage the policy of peace and neutrality in Laos" and to destroy the coalition. He said the junta is "illegal and the Pathet Lao does not recognize it."

Souk's statement indicated a formal turndown would come from Prince Souphanouong, deputy premier and leader of the Pathet Lao.

1st U.N. Soldier Shot On Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — A British soldier of the Cyprus U.N. peace force was shot and wounded in the leg in Nicosia on Friday night. It was the first reported casualty suffered by U.N. troops since they replaced unilateral British attempts to police the warring island March 27.

A U.N. spokesman said the soldier, a member of the Sherwood Foresters Regiment, was not seriously hurt.

He was wounded in an outburst of fire along the borderline separating the Greek and Turkish sectors of the capital in the northern suburb of Neapolis.

The firing came immediately after two explosions caused by grenades or plastic explosive charges tossed at a sandbagged Greek Cypriot forward gun position.

Solon Offers Trial Change In Rights Bill

Limits Jail Term To 30 Days; Fine Stopped At $300

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judges could not impose more than 30 days in jail or $300 fines without jury trials in civil rights cases under an amendment introduced in the Senate on Friday by the Democratic and Republican leaders.

It is similar to a provision in the 1957 civil rights bill dealing only with voting rights discrimination. But it offers some concession to Southern forces who want jury-trial guarantees in all criminal contempt cases — not just civil rights — except when contempt is committed in court.

BI-PARTISAN MOVE

The amendment was offered by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois on behalf of himself and Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, as the civil rights debate struggled through its 39th day.

President Johnson and Senate leaders guiding the rights bill have called for passage of the House-approved measure without change. But Dirksen indicated his jury-trial proposal has the blessing of the Justice Department.

The GOP leader said he and Mansfield have discussed it with Justice Department representatives as well as several senators.

"I trust it will be agreeable to everybody," Dirksen added.

Mansfield expressed hope that the amendment can be voted on next Tuesday, in the first balloting since the Senate took up the measure last month. When the vote comes will depend on the willingness of Southern foes of the measure to pause in their talking.

The Dirksen - Mansfield amendment would limit to a $300 fine and 30 days in jail contempt sentences without a jury trial under all injunctive provisions of the 1964 bill. And it would bring the 1957 measure into line by reducing the jail ceiling in voter rights cases from 45 days to 30 days.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles on the tax election to be held in Ouachita Parish Tuesday. Today's article covers Proposition No. 2 and No. 3.)

By SAM HANNA

Tax renewals are included in the five propositions to be voted on Tuesday in Ouachita Parish to operate the Green Oaks Detention Home and the Ouachita Parish Health Unit.

Proposition No. 2 is a quarter of a mill tax for the detention home, presently supported by a quarter-mill tax that is expiring on the Ouachita taxrolls.

The Ouachita Parish Health is in much the same bracket as the detention home since Proposition No. 3 calls for the renewal of a one-mill tax to support the health unit.

With a quarter-mill tax to support it, the detention home, located on Milhaven Road, operates on an annual budget of about $32,000 provided by the parish.

Juvenile officials use it frequently in cases where youngsters — some in trouble, others running away from home, still others from broken homes — are kept for a few days.

Without the detention home, authorities, in some cases, would have to use the jail to house youngsters. At present youngsters who are placed in the home stay an average of three to eight days.

Last year the records show that 439 juveniles were housed at the Green Oaks Detention Home, which has been in operation for eight years — six of those under parish supervision and financing.

Meantime, Proposition No. 3 is a one-mill renewal for the health unit, now located in new quarters at 2913 DeSiard Street under the directorship of Dr. W. Carroll Summer.

The Police Jury, through the mill tax, provides about $135,000 annually for the health unit, which provides health service to the public without charge.

With the assistance of the state and federal governments, the new health unit is located with the Northern Regional Of-

Defense Leader To Close Additional Military Bases

McNamara's Act To Save $68 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced Friday 63 closings, reductions and consolidations of military installations and activities at an estimated ultimate saving of $68 million annually.

Most of the individual actions involved relatively minor operations — including some unused Florida seaplane bases — and they will be carried out over a 3½-year period to reduce the economic impact on localities and personnel.

NO NOTIFICATIONS

None of the 11 government-operated naval shipyards and no major Army, Air Force or Navy bases were involved in the announcement — but the turn of some of them may come in six to nine months.

When completed, the Pentagon said, Friday's actions will eliminate 10,056 civilian jobs and military assignments — about 6,400 in the United States and 3,600 overseas. Those affected domestically will be largely civilians, those overseas largely military personnel.

The Defense Department estimated that this latest step will combine with earlier ones in a three-year program of reduction and realignment of facilities and operations to bring an ultimate over-all annual saving of $551 million a year in operating costs and the elimination of 81,600 civilian jobs and military assignments.

An added over-all result, the Pentagon said, will be the release of 697,000 acres of land for sale or nondefense use by the government. And 61 industrial plants will have been made available for sale.

All career workers whose jobs are eliminated will be offered other spots and moving expenses will be paid for employes who must pull up stakes to take another job elsewhere in a defense installation, the Pentagon said.

In order to assure widest opportunity for new jobs, displaced workers will be retrained for new skills at government expense, the announcement added.

All the closings, reductions and consolidations will be carried out without basic impairment of the nation's military might, McNamara said.

Fifty-five of the action's announced Friday affect facilities and operations in the United States — at ultimate annual savings of $47 million.

Eight others will involve unspecified overseas bases and operations in four countries — at an estimated $21-million annual saving.

The major single installation listed for virtual elimination is the Watertown arsenal near Boston. Nearly all of it is to be turned over to the General Services Administration by September 1967 at an annual saving of $5.3 million and a personnel cut of $849.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, D-Mass., said he is extremely distressed by this decision.

Storm Dumps 3.03 Inches Of Rain Here; Winds Cause Minor Damage

By SARAH LITTLE World Staff Writer

A severe thunderstorm boiled through the Monroe area Friday, dumping more than three inches of rain and inflicting minor damage when wind gusts rose to 50 miles an hour.

Flash flooding throughout the entire area resulted from the storm which hit here after tornadoes struck at Shreveport, Greenwood, Miss., Dixie and Springhill.

HEAVY DELUGE

The FAA at Selman Field said a total of 3.03 inches of rain fell in Monroe between 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Friday. Weathermen said that more than two inches of rain fell in a 50-minute period from 11:10 a.m. to 12-noon. Wind gusts of 50 miles per hour hit the city about 11:45 a.m., blowing in the back wall of Edwards and Sons Garage at 2206 Louisville Ave., and knocking two by six timbers across a truck at the rear of the garage.

However, for the most part, the wind blew at about 18 to 20 miles per hour throughout the severe thunderstorm and temperatures varied only slightly. There was a two-degree variation in the temperature after 6 a.m., with the high hitting 67 and the low 65. Temperatures took a plunge after 6 a.m. Friday, since they were recorded at 75 degrees between 1 and 6 a.m.

Lightning reportedly touched off a fire at 809 Burroughs St., but no one was injured. Lightning also struck at Weil's Cleaners at North Fourth and Olive Streets in Monroe causing damage to a machine. A transformer on N. 18th Street in Monroe also was hit by lightning causing temporary loss of power at Cascio's Sea-Food Tavern, but Utilities Commission officials said only a fuse was blown.

City electrical officials said the day was surprisingly quiet for their department, with only a few very minor power failures which lasted for only a matter of minutes in each case. However, according to officials, no

LBJ Promises Rails Review For Tax Relief

WASHINGTON (AP)—A railroad spokesman said Friday that President Johnson has promised the industry "fair and reasonable" review of its request for federal tax relief following settlement of the five-year-old work rules dispute.

But, emphasized J.E. Wolfe, Johnson's promise was not given in exchange for the railroads' acceptance of Wednesday's settlement in the labor dispute.

Wolfe was chief negotiator for nearly 200 railroads in the White House talks that led to settlement of the dispute over jobs, wages and working conditions of train operating employes.

Wolfe brought up the matter of tax relief several hours before the railroads accepted the labor settlement drafted by federal mediators, but he said his talk with Johnson "wasn't a trade and barter session."

Viet Cong Fires On U.S. General

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Friday that an Army plane carrying Lt. Gen. William Westmoreland, deputy commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam, was fired on while taking off from an airport some 500 miles north of Saigon. Three men were reported wounded.

A Pentagon spokesman said that despite the small-arms fire, the plane carrying a number of U.S. personnel in addition to Westmoreland, continued on its flight Friday and landed some time later at Danang.

First reports indicated the firing was from ambush. No retaliation by U.S. or South Vietnamese forces was reported.

The three men wounded were not believed to be badly hurt since the flight was not interrupted.

Twister Hits Shreveport; Two Injured

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Two persons were hospitalized and more than 200 houses were damaged or destroyed by tornadoes that hit the extreme northwestern corner of Louisiana early Friday.

At least two twisters hopped, skipped and jumped over an area of about 3,000 square miles. Five communities bore the brunt of the blows, which came after earth-softening thunderstorms made it easy to uproot trees and utility poles.

2 IDENTIFIED

The two persons hospitalized were Mrs. W. R. Hunt of the Ford Park subdivision in the Cross Lake area of northwest Shreveport, and four-year-old Gregory Scott Williford, from just across the lake from the subdivision.

Mrs. Hunt suffered a possible leg fracture and lacerations when the roof of her home caved in. The boy suffered a possible skull fracture when the family home was demolished.

(See Pictures, Page 8-A)

There were reports of other injuries, but none that required hospital care. Huge, century-old liveoak and gum trees were strewn across thoroughfares, temporarily blocking ambulances from the stricken area in northwest Shreveport.

In nearby Bossier City, the subdivisions of Glendale and Southern Terrace, in the northern part of the city, reported many houses damaged, but no serious injuries. Bossier City is across Red River from Shreveport.

At Greenwood, 10 miles west of Shreveport, the assistant chief of the volunteer fire department, Lee Hunt, estimated there were 10 to 22 houses damaged. Among them was the home of Mrs. Miller Mays, across the street from the fire station.

Hunt said Mrs. Mays happened to be outdoors when the twister hit, and she held onto a tree until it blew away. Then she held onto a post until it was yanked out of the ground. She fled to the garage. It was blown away, but Mrs. Mays escaped injury.

In the Dixie Community, 15 miles north of Shreveport, the Presbyterian church building was reported damaged, as well as some nearby dwellings.

Twister Hits Shreveport; Two Injured

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Two persons were hospitalized and more than 200 houses were damaged or destroyed by tornadoes that hit the extreme northwestern corner of Louisiana early Friday.

At least two twisters hopped, skipped and jumped over an area of about 3,000 square miles. Five communities bore the brunt of the blows, which came after earth-softening thunderstorms made it easy to uproot trees and utility poles.

2 IDENTIFIED

The two persons hospitalized were Mrs. W. R. Hunt of the Ford Park subdivision in the Cross Lake area of northwest Shreveport, and four-year-old Gregory Scott Williford, from just across the lake from the subdivision.

Mrs. Hunt suffered a possible leg fracture and lacerations when the roof of her home caved in. The boy suffered a possible skull fracture when the family home was demolished.

There were reports of other injuries, but none that required hospital care. Huge, century-old liveoak and gum trees were strewn across thoroughfares, temporarily blocking ambulances from the stricken area in northwest Shreveport.

In nearby Bossier City, the subdivisions of Glendale and Southern Terrace, in the northern part of the city, reported many houses damaged, but no serious injuries. Bossier City is across Red River from Shreveport.

At Greenwood, 10 miles west of Shreveport, the assistant chief of the volunteer fire department, Lee Hunt, estimated there were 10 to 22 houses damaged. Among them was the home of Mrs. Miller Mays, across the street from the fire station.

Hunt said Mrs. Mays happened to be outdoors when the twister hit, and she held onto a tree until it blew away. Then she held onto a post until it was yanked out of the ground. She fled to the garage. It was blown away, but Mrs. Mays escaped injury.

In the Dixie Community, 15 miles north of Shreveport, the Presbyterian church building was reported damaged, as well as some nearby dwellings.

McNamara's Act To Save $68 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced Friday 63 closings, reductions and consolidations of military installations and activities at an estimated ultimate saving of $68 million annually.

Most of the individual actions involved relatively minor operations — including some unused Florida seaplane bases — and they will be carried out over a 3½-year period to reduce the economic impact on localities and personnel.

NO NOTIFICATIONS

None of the 11 government-operated naval shipyards and no major Army, Air Force or Navy bases were involved in the announcement — but the turn of some of them may come in six to nine months.

When completed, the Pentagon said, Friday's actions will eliminate 10,056 civilian jobs and military assignments — about 6,400 in the United States and 3,600 overseas. Those affected domestically will be largely civilians, those overseas largely military personnel.

The Defense Department estimated that this latest step will combine with earlier ones in a three-year program of reduction and realignment of facilities and operations to bring an ultimate over-all annual saving of $551 million a year in operating costs and the elimination of 81,600 civilian jobs and military assignments.

An added over-all result, the Pentagon said, will be the release of 697,000 acres of land for sale or nondefense use by the government. And 61 industrial plants will have been made available for sale.

All career workers whose jobs are eliminated will be offered other spots and moving expenses will be paid for employes who must pull up stakes to take another job elsewhere in a defense installation, the Pentagon said.

In order to assure widest opportunity for new jobs, displaced workers will be retrained for new skills at government expense, the announcement added.

All the closings, reductions and consolidations will be carried out without basic impairment of the nation's military might, McNamara said.

Fifty-five of the action's announced Friday affect facilities and operations in the United States — at ultimate annual savings of $47 million.

Eight others will involve unspecified overseas bases and operations in four countries — at an estimated $21-million annual saving.

The major single installation listed for virtual elimination is the Watertown arsenal near Boston. Nearly all of it is to be turned over to the General Services Administration by September 1967 at an annual saving of $5.3 million and a personnel cut of $849.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, D-Mass., said he is extremely distressed by this decision.

According to the Encyclopedia Britannica:

January was named after Janus, the two-faced Roman god of beginnings.

February stems from the Latin word februare, "to purify." February was originally the first month.

March was named for the Roman god Mars, god of war and protection of vegetation, since March is basically the beginning of the agricultural year.

April stems from the Latin word aperire "to open" and is based on the fact that April is the month when buds usually open.

May's origin is actually unknown but sometimes it is said May was named for an obscure Roman goddess named Maia.

June was referred to by the poet Ovid as being named for the goddess Juno. However, this is disputed and some say it was named for Junius Brutus, an emissary of the emperor.

July was named for the Roman emperor Julius Caesar.

August was named for the Roman Emperor Augustus.

September was the seventh month in the old calendar and the name stems from the Latin word septum (seventh).

October in the old calendar was the eighth month and derives its name from the Latin word for eight.

November was the ninth old calendar month and the name comes from the Latin word noven.

December was the 10th month in the old calendar and comes from the Latin word decem. (10)

I am often out in the morning and evening at school bus time. Every Ouachita Parish school bus that I have seen has been loaded and the children standing in the aisles all the way down to where the driver is sitting. Who is the head of the buses and who would you see to go about getting more buses for these children?

Transportation supervisor for Ouachita Parish schools is Morris Griggs, and, in that job, he makes recommendations for the purchase of buses and establishment of routes, besides other duties.

Final authority in these matters, of course, is the parish school board to which Griggs and his superior, Supt. Milton Hall, report. Suggestions and complaints normally are directed to Griggs.

As to the problem implied in the question, however, Griggs notes that 16 new buses will be in use in the fall, seven of them on new routes in crowded areas, plus nine replacements, several of them larger buses. Bids on the buses, in fact, were opened at a board meeting last Tuesday.

The buses, plus the opening of a new school in the paper mill area (Riser School), should provide considerable relief, Griggs said.

Why can't the firing range northeast of the municipal airport be reopened now that livestock in the vicinity has been moved to a safer distance from the range?

The proximity of livestock to the shooting range was never a factor in the closing of the range. The reason was the danger to people, both those using the range and visitors. There was no regulation on the range and the Monroe city council received, or had brought to its attention, a number of complaints because there was no one in charge of the range. The range, as it was being used was considered dangerous. The need is to have a qualified person in charge of the range at all times.

How can an elderly person with a small income which may range as low as $60 a month, who owns his own home, get some assistance on hospitalization and medical treatment? He cannot be admitted to Charity Hospital because he owns his own home, but hospital and medical fees elsewhere are too high for a meager income to cover.

According to the Louisiana Department of Public Welfare, whose office here are on Hall Street, there is medical aid provided for any person over 54 years of age who meets eligibility qualifications under the Medical Assistance to the Aged Program created by the Kerr-Mills Act. Anyone in need can apply to the Department of Public Welfare to have his or her eligibility determined. This can be done in advance of any medical treatment, or can be done by relatives if the person is hospitalized. In this case, the department will send a worker to the hospital to take the application.

If a person 65 years of age draws around $90 a month social security check, can they draw any old age pension in addition to this amount?

Again the Department of Public Welfare should be contacted in reference to this question. Workers there say that old age assistance would depend on the circumstances, the need and amount of any other income. A social security check does not necessarily disqualify the person for old age assistance, because many who draw social security also draw old age assistance checks.

Would it be safe for children to keep a dog in the house if the dog had a cough. I have heard you can contact diseases from dogs just as you do from humans.

According to a local veterinarian, some diseases can be passed from dogs to humans and vice versa. One example of such a communicable disease is ringworm. However, the doctor said he cannot recall any disease that could be passed from dog to human that involved a cough. As for whether it would be safe to keep the dog in the house, the question cannot be properly answered until the cause of the cough is determined. This could only be done by a competent animal doctor, as there are many causes of coughs in dogs.

If a husband, at the time of his death, has property in his name, would the wife have to pay to have said property put in her name? If so, how much? If the husband dies and leave neither father nor mother, nor children, would the wife automatically get all of the property or would part of it have to be divided among the brothers and sisters of the husband?

A proper disposition of this question would require a complete disclosure of the applicable facts to a competent attorney for an application of the law controlling the situation. Generally speaking, the title to the property, if in the husband's name, could not be changed without the opening of his succession and his heirs being put in possession by the courts. The cost of the proceeding, according to the local Bar Association, would vary with the size of the estate.

In answer to the latter part of the question, if the husband dies, leaving no legitimate issue, nor father or mother, and leaves no will, his brothers and sisters would inherit a share of the property. If the property involved is community property and the only heirs are children of the marriage, the surviving spouse would have usfruct of property for life or until remarriage. This means free use of the property.

If a husband and wife own some property and they have no children, if the husband should die first, would the property become the wife's or could the husband's brothers and sisters legally claim a part of it by Louisiana law? If so, what if the wife should die first?

Once again, a proper disposition of this question would require a complete disclosure of the applicable facts to a competent attorney. If the husband dies, leaving no legitimate issue nor surviving parents, his brothers and sisters can inherit part of the properyt and vice versa.

How much, if any, psychiatric training does a general practitioner receive? If the doctor detects a man's mental condition (knowing the man's mother was in an institution and the man was reported to him as dangerous), is the doctor to discuss this matter with the man's legal family? What is the doctor to do and how far can he go?

According to a local physician, the general practitioner of today receives quite a bit of psychiatric training as a medical student and in his further training after medical school. The medical profession in general, stresses the recognition of psychiatric syndromes and the general practitioner is certainly capable of recognizing these abnormalities. However, in cases of severe mental disturbance, the average general practitioner does not attempt to treat this individual alone. He calls in a psychiatrist to handle the treatment of the mental disease.

In reference to the second part of this question, if the doctor feels the patient is mentally incapable of comprehending, then he will discuss the diagnosis with the man's legal family. However, if he feels that the patient's mental condition does not affect his ability to comprehend, then the diagnosis is considered "priviledged communication" and he does not discuss the diagnosis with anyone but the patient. The doctor can do nothing in regard to a patient except make his diagnosis known and present his recommendations as to treatment. A doctor cannot force treatment on a patient.

My husband's mother and father were divorced when he was very young. When he started to school, he started under his stepfathers name since his mother had remarried. Although his name was never legally changed and he was not adopted by his stepfather, all documents such as his social security card, driver's license, etc., bear his stepfather's last name. Does he have to go to court for this to be his legal name. Would it affect such things as inheritance, wills, etc?

Legal authorities advise that the legal changing of a name is a court process. To be sure of the correct procedure in this situation, you should obtain the counsel of a lawyer.

FLAMING MOTORS AND pieces of fuselage fly through air in spectacular deliberate crash of DC7 airliner. The test was intended to show results of a "survivable" crash but plane, carrying 15 dummies and other equipment, burst into flames shortly after takeoff and after striking a hill. (AP Wirephoto)

EXPERIMENTAL PLANE CRASH

Planned 'Crack-Up' Highly Successful

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — An airliner loaded with dummies broke into pieces, caught fire and crashed in a cloud of smoke and dust Friday at a small airport north of Phoenix.

Officials said the spectacular experimental crash was more severe than planned, but "very successful."

The four-engine DC7A airliner shot off the end of the runway on a simulated takeoff. Its right wing sheared off two telephone poles. The fuselage appeared to bounce off a small mound, then sail over a 150-foot-high hill.

Fire erupted from a break in the fuselage. Flaming engine parts and other components of the craft flew off. The fuselage and wings landed behind the hill, about 100 yards from the planned impact area.

Only seconds before the impact, an unidentified motorbike rider showed up suddenly and stopped in the impact area as the DC7 started its 4,000-foot run to destruction.

The cyclist moved to the side of a nearby hill at the last moment and viewed the crash from about 200 yards away. Officials said they did not get the name of the cyclist, who apparently eluded a number of security guards in the area.

The $190,000 crash program is sponsored by the Federal Aviation Agency. Aviation Safety Engineering & Research Division of the Flight Safety Foundation is carrying out the experiments. A Super Constellation is to be crashed later this year.

Wreckage of the plane was scattered over an area a quarter-mile long and 100 yards wide.

The wings and fuselage were about 300 yards from the end of the runway. The tail section was almost severed and the fuselage was torn nearly in half just forward of the wings.

Inside the fuselage, a large doll representing a child dangled from an experimental infant seat harness. An adult dummy was hanging out of a seat and two other dummies were buried under crumpled seats.

The plane carried only a small amount of gasoline and quick action by firemen helped prevent extensive damage to technical equipment on the craft.

"As severe as this mess looks, it would have been survivable for the majority of passengers," said Don Carroll, program director for the project. "I think it was very successful."

Carroll said primary purpose of the crash was to test instrumentation of the plane and, he added, this appeared to perform perfectly.

Officials said the pilot and copilot would have been killed, but information from test data will have to be compiled to determine which of the passenger dummies could have lived through the crash.

OSWALD DANGER

FBI Denies Claim By Dallas Police

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A Dallas police lieutenant said Friday an FBI agent told him the FBI knew Lee Harvey Oswald "was capable of assassinating the president."

Lt. Jack Revill told The Associated Press that FBI agent James Hosty made the remark as Oswald was being brought in to police headquarters after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and the murder of Dallas policeman J. D. Tippit on Nov. 22.

Revill said another officer was with him and heard the remark.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover told the Dallas Times Herald: "That is absolutely false. The agent made no such statement and the FBI did not have such knowledge."

Hoover made his statement by telephone to the Times Herald.

The Dallas Morning News had quoted what it called a source close to the Warren Commission as saying Revill had reported to Police Chief Jesse Curry that Hosty told him: "We knew he (Oswald) was capable of assassinating the president, but we didn't dream he would do it."

Revill told The AP by telephone from Sacramento, Calif., where he is attending a convention, that he had not quoted Hosty as saying "We did not dream he would do it." But he said the first part of the quotation was accurate and "It's in writing."

Revill said he put it in a memorandum to Curry shortly after talking with Hosty.

Revill said any further comment would have to be made by Curry.

Oswald was charged with murder in the deaths of Kennedy and Tippit on Nov. 22. Two days later, Oswald was shot to death by Jack Ruby during a jail transfer. Ruby was convicted and given the death sentence last month. He has appealed.

The News' story said:

"Lt. Revill appeared before Warren Commission investigators here several weeks ago; Police Chief Jesse Curry testified before the commission in Washington Wednesday. Neither would comment on their appearances or their testimony.

"Chief Curry was reported to have been questioned about the incident and was said to have given the commission a photostatic copy of Lt. Revill's five-paragraph memo. He also was said to have given the commission the name of a second Dallas police officer who supported Revill's statement and filled in other parts of the conversation between Revill and Hosty.

"The second officer, V. J. (Jackie) Bryan, a member of the criminal intelligence squad, also declined comment.

"Chief Curry had the report in hand within hours of President Kennedy's death—even before all the facts and circumstances concerning Oswald were known.

"Gordon Shanklin, special agent in charge of the Dallas FBI office, denied any such statement was made by Hosty.

"The commission Thursday had not talked to agent Hosty, but the News' source said he anticipated that the agent would be called to testify."

Gold Certificates Issued Before '34 Legal Once More

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Treasury told coin collectors Friday that they're no longer breaking the law if they have U. S. gold certificates issued prior to Jan. 30, 1934.

That's the date when for all intents and purposes the United States went off the gold standard.

At the time people were told to turn in their gold certificates for other money and that it was against the law to hold onto any. The Treasury estimates there were $393 million of gold certificates in circulation at the beginning of 1934.

He calls in a psychiatrist to handle the treatment of the mental disease.

In reference to the second part of this question, if the doctor feels the patient is mentally incapable of comprehending, then he will discuss the diagnosis with the man's legal family. However, if he feels that the patient's mental condition does not affect his ability to comprehend, then the diagnosis is considered "priviledged communication" and he does not discuss the diagnosis with anyone but the patient. The doctor can do nothing in regard to a patient except make his diagnosis known and present his recommendations as to treatment. A doctor cannot force treatment on a patient.

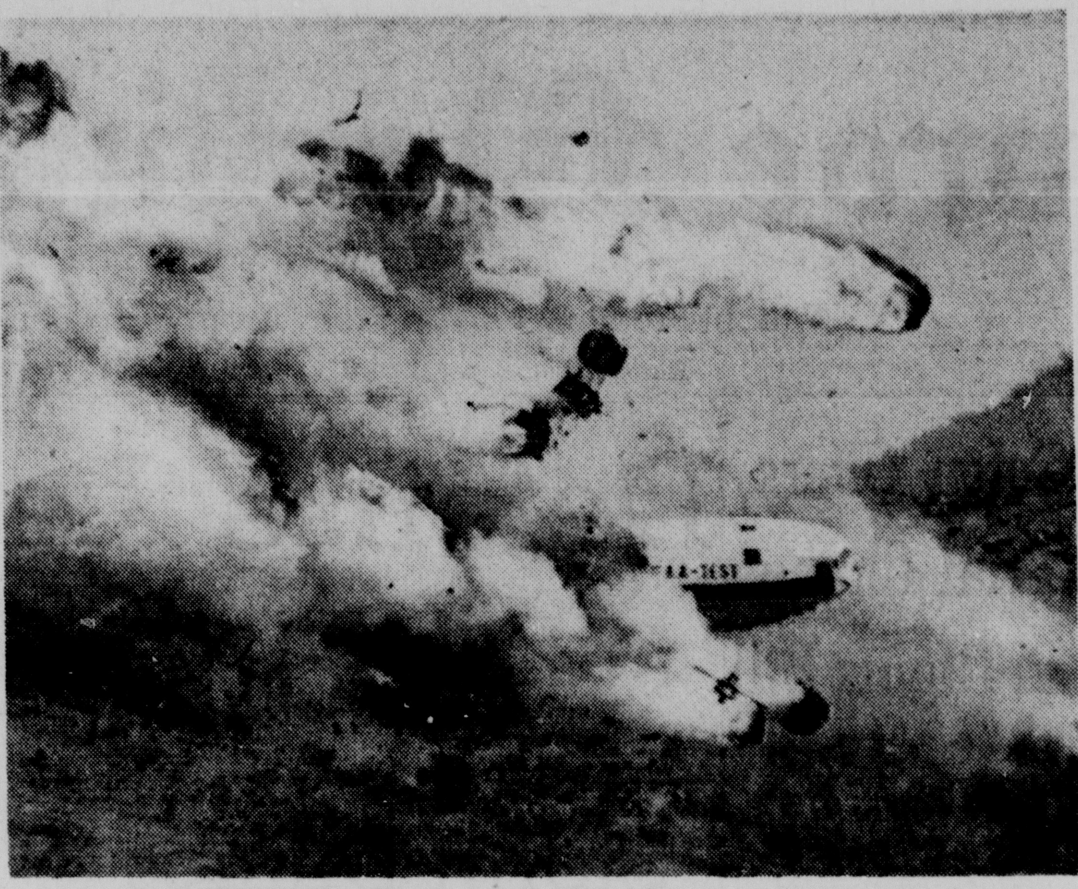
Legal authorities advise that the legal changing of a name is a court process. To be sure of the correct procedure in this situation, you should obtain the counsel of a lawyer.



FLAMING MOTORS AND pieces of fuselage fly through air in spectacular deliberate crash of DC7 airliner. The test was intended to show results of a "survivable" crash but plane, carrying 15 dummies and other equipment, burst into flames shortly after take-off and after striking a hill. (AP Wirephoto)

EXPERIMENTAL PLANE CRASH

Planned 'Crack-Up' Highly Successful

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — An airliner loaded with dummies broke into pieces, caught fire and crashed in a cloud of smoke and dust Friday at a small airport north of Phoenix.

Officials said the spectacular experimental crash was more severe than planned, but "very successful."

The four-engine DC7A airliner shot off the end of the runway on a simulated takeoff. Its right wing sheared off two telephone poles. The fuselage appeared to bounce off a small mound, then sail over a 150-foot-high hill.

Fire erupted from a break in the fuselage. Flaming engine parts and other components of the craft flew off. The fuselage and wings landed behind the hill, about 100 yards from the planned impact area.

Only seconds before the impact, an unidentified motorbike rider showed up suddenly and stopped in the impact area as the DC7 started its 4,000-foot run to destruction.

The cyclist moved to the side of a nearby hill at the last moment and viewed the crash from about 200 yards away. Officials said they did not get the name of the cyclist, who apparently eluded a number of security guards in the area.

The $190,000 crash program is sponsored by the Federal Aviation Agency. Aviation Safety Engineering & Research Division of the Flight Safety Foundation is carrying out the experiments. A Super Constellation is to be crashed later this year.

Wreckage of the plane was scattered over an area a quarter-mile long and 100 yards wide.

The wings and fuselage were about 300 yards from the end of the runway. The tail section was almost severed and the fuselage was torn nearly in half just forward of the wings.

Inside the fuselage, a large doll representing a child dangled from an experimental infant seat harness. An adult dummy was hanging out of a seat and two other dummies were buried under crumpled seats.

The plane carried only a small amount of gasoline and quick action by firemen helped prevent extensive damage to technical equipment on the craft.

"As severe as this mess looks, it would have been survivable for the majority of passengers," said Don Carroll, program director for the project. "I think it was very successful."

Carroll said primary purpose of the crash was to test instrumentation of the plane and, he added, this appeared to perform perfectly.

Officials said the pilot and copilot would have been killed, but information from test data will have to be compiled to determine which of the passenger dummies could have lived through the crash.

OSWALD DANGER

FBI Denies Claim By Dallas Police

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A Dallas police lieutenant said Friday an FBI agent told him the FBI knew Lee Harvey Oswald "was capable of assassinating the president."

Lt. Jack Revill told The Associated Press that FBI agent James Hosty made the remark as Oswald was being brought in to police headquarters after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and the murder of Dallas policeman J. D. Tippit on Nov. 22.

Revill said another officer was with him and heard the remark.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover told the Dallas Times Herald: "That is absolutely false. The agent made no such statement and the FBI did not have such knowledge."

Hoover made his statement by telephone to the Times Herald.

The Dallas Morning News had quoted what it called a source close to the Warren Commission as saying Revill had reported to Police Chief Jesse Curry that Hosty told him: "We knew he (Oswald) was capable of assassinating the president, but we didn't dream he would do it."

Revill told The AP by telephone from Sacramento, Calif., where he is attending a convention, that he had not quoted Hosty as saying "We did not dream he would do it." But he said the first part of the quotation was accurate and "It's in writing."

Revill said he put it in a memorandum to Curry shortly after talking with Hosty.

Revill said any further comment would have to be made by Curry.

Oswald was charged with murder in the deaths of Kennedy and Tippit on Nov. 22. Two days later, Oswald was shot to death by Jack Ruby during a jail transfer. Ruby was convicted and given the death sentence last month. He has appealed.

The News' story said:

"Lt. Revill appeared before Warren Commission investigators here several weeks ago; Police Chief Jesse Curry testified before the commission in Washington Wednesday. Neither would comment on their appearances or their testimony.

"Chief Curry was reported to have been questioned about the incident and was said to have given the commission a photostatic copy of Lt. Revill's five-paragraph memo. He also was said to have given the commission the name of a second Dallas police officer who supported Revill's statement and filled in other parts of the conversation between Revill and Hosty.

"The second officer, V. J. (Jackie) Bryan, a member of the criminal intelligence squad, also declined comment.

"Chief Curry had the report in hand within hours of President Kennedy's death—even before all the facts and circumstances concerning Oswald were known.

"Gordon Shanklin, special agent in charge of the Dallas FBI office, denied any such statement was made by Hosty.

"The commission Thursday had not talked to agent Hosty, but the News' source said he anticipated that the agent would be called to testify."

Gold Certificates Issued Before '34 Legal Once More

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Treasury told coin collectors Friday that they're no longer breaking the law if they have U. S. gold certificates issued prior to Jan. 30, 1934.

That's the date when for all intents and purposes the United States went off the gold standard.

At the time people were told to turn in their gold certificates for other money and that it was against the law to hold onto any. The Treasury estimates there were $393 million of gold certificates in circulation at the beginning of 1934.

Police Jury To Organize Here Monday

The Ouachita Parish Police Jury — now increased to 19 members—will meet Monday at 10 a.m. to organize for the coming four years.

After being sworn in Friday morning by Clerk of Court B. S. McRaney, the Police Jury voted to hold its organizational meeting Monday.

Webb Roberts of Ward 7 was unable to attend the Friday ceremony, preventing the Police Jury from organizing. Under the law, all jurors had to be present for a meeting immediately after the swearing in ceremony.

Major item on the agenda for the first meeting will be the selection of a new Police Jury.

After Tuesday's tax election, the Police Jury is scheduled to meet May 1st to promulgate the returns.

Ward 1 — John W. Wilhite.
Ward 2 — Leland Carpenter.
Ward 3 — Curtis Joinor, M. W. Montgomery, Bernie Van, C. W. Whetstone.
Ward 4 — Mrs. Bertha Kincaid.
Ward 5 — John Carter, Leslie Hamm, I. B. Jackson, Arlan Rawls.
Ward 6 — Lloyd W. Coon.
Ward 8—J. H. Brown.
Ward 9 — Jesse W. Wilson.
Ward 10 — Robert Downing, John Ensminger, T. W. Humphries, A. E. Montgomery Jr.

Northeast Play Tryouts Slated For Next Friday

Tryouts for three one-act plays at Northeast State College will be held next Friday from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Biedenharn Recital Hall. The plays, all projects of the Theatre Directing class, are open to any interested Northeast State students.

Scheduled for production on May 22, the one-acts are the serious drama "Jacob Comes Home"; a comedy, "Who Is Virginia," and the tragedy "Where the Cross Is Made."

Directing "Jacob Comes Home," the tragic story of the final homecoming of a Jewish soldier during the war, by William Koslenko, will be Carolyn and Jim Brooks, both of Monroe.

"Who Is Virginia" is from an original script by George Brian of the NLSC speech faculty and teacher of the Theatre Directing class. Laney Ware of Bastrop and Sue Broomfield of West Monroe are co-directors. The comedy calls for two men and two women. "A knowledge of French on the part of one of the women would be most useful," Brain said.

By playwright Eugene O'Neil, "Where the Cross Is Made" has a religious theme. It will be directed by students Mike Moore of Sterlington and Ronnie Richardson of West Monroe.

Mental Illness To Be Subject Of Tech Speech

RUSTON (Special) — To appear at a 9:40 a.m. convocation at Louisiana Tech Monday in Howard Auditorium will be Judge Luther W. Youngdahl of Washington, D. C., a former governor of Minnesota.

Judge Youngdahl will speak on "The Lostlings of Society," a topic concerning mental illness and mental retardation.

A member of Minnesota College of Law for 12 years, Judge Youngdahl also served as assistant dean. In 1942 he was elected to the Minnesota Supreme Court and was elected governor of Minnesota in 1946. In 1950, he became a three-term governor.

He is now a member of the advisory council of Judges of National Council on Crime and Delinquency, is on the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America and is one of the vice presidents of the American Bible Society.

Louisiana Tech Senior Receives Education Aid

RUSTON (Special) — John M. Rayford III of Leesville, who will be graduated from Louisiana Tech in August, has received a $1,300 fellowship from the University of Arkansas to work on a master's degree in English during the school year beginning September.

He is scheduled to teach one class in freshman English at the university in Fayetteville.

Rayford, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rayford Jr., of Leesville, is majoring in English and minoring in history at Tech.

He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha, social fraternity, and Omicron Delta Kappa, leadership organization. He also is a member of the Wesley Foundation and has been listed on the scholarship honor roll at Tech for the last seven semesters.

U.S. Striving For Privately Built Reactors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is seeking to interest private industry in converting closed nuclear reactors into commercial electric power plants.

Huge reactors to be withdrawn from the production of weapons materials—under the curtailment program described by President Johnson in his speech to The Associated Press on Monday—could add substantially to the nation's output of atom-generated electric power.

The Atomic Energy Commission has found encouragement at its Savannah River, S.C., installation, where 11 Southern utility companies have undertaken a joint "feasibility study" of converting one plutonium-producing reactor.

With less success to date, the AEC has invited "expressions of interest" from private industry in the possible conversion of one of three reactors scheduled for shutdown at the Hanford, Wash., nuclear center.

Some interested comment has been received at Hanford, but so far nothing which would indicate that public or private power interests in the Pacific Northwest are ready to consider seriously the linking of electric-generating equipment to the nuclear firebox.

However, private industry has been invited also to consider possible civilian uses for some of the reactor's auxiliary facilities at Richland, Wash., to be left idle by the Hanford plutonium cutback. These include a water treatment plant, administration building, and shops.

An AEC official said the Hanford and Savannah river reactors could deliver "many hundreds of megawatts" of electric power—that is, many hundreds of millions of watts—if it can be determined that conversion is feasible economically.

Cost is the chief obstacle to the conversion of the veteran plutonium reactors now being retired. None of the country's 13 existing commercial power reactors is yet competitive with coal-fueled generators, although the newer and larger reactors are approaching that goal.

The feasibility study in South Carolina, being conducted by the Bechtel Corp. for the associated utilities which call themselves the Savannah River Nuclear Study Group, is concerned with both the technology and economics of the conversion.

The companies are putting up $300,000 to $400,000 for the study. They operate over a huge area including North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Virginia and Louisiana.

Officers Report Thefts Cleared In West Monroe

West Monroe police reported Friday that two thefts had been cleared with the apprehension of juveniles. Currently under investigation is a house burglary.

An 11-year-old boy was charged with shoplifting a pair of shoes from the Dollar Store. Several items taken from the Godfrey Whitten residence, 407 Wheelis St., were recovered by police and a 16-year-old girl was charged. Both cases were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Police are investigating a burglary reported by Flossie Brown, Negro, 26 Short Lee St. Several items were reportedly taken Thursday night.

West Monroe officers also booked Lester Lineback, 58, 1202 Tulane St., on charges of possession of illegal barbiturates.

EXTRA SUNSHINE

Daylight 'Savings' Slated For Sunday

NEW YORK (AP) — Many parts of the nation will have an extra hour of evening sunshine starting Sunday with the advent of Daylight Saving Time.

Equally, sunrise will dawn an hour later — a situation not generally enjoyed by farmers, early-bird commuters and some others.

The new schedule in most areas arrives officially at 2 a.m. Sunday, when the time changes to 3 a.m., but the usual practice is to reset clocks and watches upon retiring Saturday night.

Most areas which change to daylight time will observe it until the last Sunday in October.

All six New England states will go on daylight time, a routine practice for years.

So will New York, New Jersey the District of Columbia, Wisconsin, West Virginia, California, the State of Washington and neighboring British Columbia.

Oregon will, except for Malheur County; Maryland, except for westernmost Garret County; Pennsylvania, except for Yatesville, population 472.

The Pennsylvania daylight savers will return to Eastern Standard Time the last Sunday in October, except for La Jose—population 150—which will return a month earlier.

The northern Virginia area adjacent to the District of Columbia will start daylight time Sunday. The major part of the state will observe it from the Sunday after Memorial Day to the Sunday before Labor Day. Eight counties and the cities of Norton and Bristol — all in the southwest part of the state — will stay on standard time.

Clocks in Indiana, which differ in the winter, will jibe during the summer. The western edge of the eastern time zone runs through Indianapolis. The western half of the state — excepting areas around Chicago, Evansville, Vincennes and Terre Haute — has year-round Central Daylight Time to match the Eastern Standard Time in Indianapolis and eastern Indiana. The excepted areas, on standard in the winter, join the rest of the western half on daylight for the summer, making everything even.

In Ohio, an eastern belt from Lake Erie to the Ohio River will go on daylight time Sunday. This involves probably more than half the state's population, including the cities of Cleveland, Akron and Youngstown. Chesapeake will go on daylight time while surrounding Lawrence County stays on standard, but otherwise the daylight time area is contiguous.

The St. Louis metropolitan area and some eastern Missouri towns go on daylight time.

Los Alamos, the "government city," will be the only city in New Mexico to go on daylight time.

In Iowa, where there is no state daylight saving law, 48 of the 99 counties, primarily in the east, have voted locally to go on daylight time starting Sunday. This is a switch from recent years when only eastern border cities observed it.

Southern Idaho will not have daylight time. Some of northern Idaho will stay on standard time also but most of the remaining northern area will follow the lead of nearby Washingotn and go daylight.

Operator Group Hits Unionized Coal Industry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Independent Coal Operators Association Friday vigorously criticized the unionized segment of the coal industry during a congressional hearing on the administration's anti-poverty program.

Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., acting subcommittee chairman, ruled that the statement did not pertain to the poverty issue.

He directed that it be sent to another subcommittee dealing with labor matters.

The association's statement was presented by its president Robert Holcomb who charged that independent coal operators were the targets of "conspiracy" to put them out of business.

He said this conspiracy was being fostered by the United Mine Workers Union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Associatoin which recently signed a contract making it more costly for unionized coal operators to purchase non-union mined coal for resale.

Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., interrupted Holcomb while he was reading his statement and questioned whether this was relevant to the hearing issue.

Roosevelt said he hadn't heard anything yet pertaining to the poverty bill, but he said all witnesses should be given the widest latitude. He allowed Holcomb to finish.

Holcomb, who is owner of the Dixie Mining Co. of Kentucky, insisted that his statement was pertinent to the poverty problem in the Appalachian states.

He said his testimony described the forces "that have produced 300,000 jobless men."

Cuba Wants U.N. To Stop U.S. Flights

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Cuba contends that things are moving toward a new Caribbean crisis and wants U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to try to stop U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuban territory.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa suggested this in a letter made public at U.N. headquarters Friday after it had been published in newspapers in Havana. The Cuban delegation gave Thant the letter Thursday.

Roa wrote that Cuba was sure Thant would "make the demarches — steps — that your wisdom and experience advise you to make" about the facts set forth in his letter.

He was not specific. But the letter complained about U2 plane flights over Cuba, concentration of U.S. jet planes around Cuba and what it charged was trespassing on Cuban soil by U.S. Marines from the Guantanamo Naval Base.

Roa said the situation had the elements of the one that produced the crisis of October 1962, when the United States and the Soviet Union had a grave and perilous confrontation over Soviet missiles in Cuba.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia warned Friday morning that if "a treacherous attack" on Cuba resulted from a dispute over the U2 flights, the Soviet Union would take Cuba's side.

Clocks in Indiana, which differ in the winter, will jibe during the summer. The western edge of the eastern time zone runs through Indianapolis. The western half of the state — excepting areas around Chicago, Evansville, Vincennes and Terre Haute — has year-round Central Daylight Time to match the Eastern Standard Time in Indianapolis and eastern Indiana. The excepted areas, on standard in the winter, join the rest of the western half on daylight for the summer, making everything even.

In Ohio, an eastern belt from Lake Erie to the Ohio River will go on daylight time Sunday. This involves probably more than half the state's population, including the cities of Cleveland, Akron and Youngstown. Chesapeake will go on daylight time while surrounding Lawrence County stays on standard, but otherwise the daylight time area is contiguous.

The St. Louis metropolitan area and some eastern Missouri towns go on daylight time.

Los Alamos, the "government city," will be the only city in New Mexico to go on daylight time.

In Iowa, where there is no state daylight saving law, 48 of the 99 counties, primarily in the east, have voted locally to go on daylight time starting Sunday. This is a switch from recent years when only eastern border cities observed it.

Southern Idaho will not have daylight time. Some of northern Idaho will stay on standard time also but most of the remaining northern area will follow the lead of nearby Washingotn and go daylight.

Operator Group Hits Unionized Coal Industry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Independent Coal Operators Association Friday vigorously criticized the unionized segment of the coal industry during a congressional hearing on the administration's anti-poverty program.

Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., acting subcommittee chairman, ruled that the statement did not pertain to the poverty issue.

He directed that it be sent to another subcommittee dealing with labor matters.

The association's statement was presented by its president Robert Holcomb who charged that independent coal operators were the targets of "conspiracy" to put them out of business.

He said this conspiracy was being fostered by the United Mine Workers Union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Assosiatoin which recently signed a contract making it more costly for unionized coal operators to purchase non-union mined coal for resale.

Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., interrupted Holcomb while he was reading his statement and questioned whether this was relevant to the hearing issue.

Roosevelt said he hadn't heard anything yet pertaining to the poverty bill, but he said all witnesses should be given the widest latitude. He allowed Holcomb to finish.

Holcomb, who is owner of the Dixie Mining Co. of Kentucky, insisted that his statement was pertinent to the poverty problem in the Appalachian states.

He said his testimony described the forces "that have produced 300,000 jobless men."

Cuba Wants U.N. To Stop U.S. Flights

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Cuba contends that things are moving toward a new Caribbean crisis and wants U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to try to stop U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuban territory.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa suggested this in a letter made public at U.N. headquarters Friday after it had been published in newspapers in Havana. The Cuban delegation gave Thant the letter Thursday.

Roa wrote that Cuba was sure Thant would "make the demarches — steps — that your wisdom and experience advise you to make" about the facts set forth in his letter.

He was not specific. But the letter complained about U2 plane flights over Cuba, concentration of U.S. jet planes around Cuba and what it charged was trespassing on Cuban soil by U.S. Marines from the Guantanamo Naval Base.

Roa said the situation had the elements of the one that produced the crisis of October 1962, when the United States and the Soviet Union had a grave and perilous confrontation over Soviet missiles in Cuba.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia warned Friday morning that if "a treacherous attack" on Cuba resulted from a dispute over the U2 flights, the Soviet Union would take Cuba's side.

Who Defeated Nixon?

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who could have made a rather good president during his more vigorous years in office if he had paid less attention to "Assistant President" Sherman Adams, of vicuna coat fame, and to his brother, Milton, probably is the leading monkey-wrench thrower in the Republican party. Many credit him with the defeat of former Vice-President Richard M. Nixon in the 1960 presidential race and now it looks as if he may bring about the nomination this year of a Republican who can't win.

At almost every presidential election, the Democrats play a big part in the nomination of the Republican presidential candidate by repeatedly asserting that the man they actually fear most is the man who can't win. Since Eisenhower's presidency, he and the Democratic leaders are probably the ones who have done most to mess up the thinking of Republican leaders. It looks as if they may do the same thing again this year.

It is well known that the only man the Democrats are much afraid of is Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona. They fear him because he has taken a stand opposite to theirs and they think sentiment throughout the country may be swinging mightily toward his way of thinking. Their procedure, of course, is to try to make the Republican chieftains think Goldwater can't win. Former President Eisenhower, who is carrying a personal chip on his shoulder because he thinks Goldwater did not pay him enough homage, is trying to help the Democrats put over that line of thinking.

Once, in the last year of his presidency, Eisenhower had a chance to give the Republicans a big boost. He could have scored a big Republican presidential victory if he had given Nixon his immediate, outright and wholehearted support. With the power of the presidency behind him and with the people still reluctant to elect an all-out "liberal," Eisenhower undoubtedly possessed enough force to give Nixon the little additional boost he needed, but he withheld it.

Whether President Eisenhower actually brought about the nomination of Nixon for the 1960 presidential race is a matter of disagreement between veteran Republicans. He did nothing to prevent it but he never acted much as if he thought Nixon was the ideal man for the race and he went so far as to name half a dozen bright young Republicans as eligible for the nomination, thus giving the impression that almost anyone of them would be as acceptable as Nixon. He gave Nixon some support in the presidential race but did nothing like what he could have done to gain the election of the Republican candidate. In fact, he scarcely acted as if he cared who won, either before or after the election.

There are three things we can credit most with the defeat of Nixon. One was Eisenhower's muddling and puddling tactics. Another was the fact that Nixon, who had the election in the bag, threw it out the door by going on the defensive in public debates with the more personable and younger John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee. The third was that just enough Chicago votes seemed to have been swung over at the right time to give Kennedy that state's electoral votes and the election. Nixon could have been elected by the elimination of any one of those factors. Eisenhower's failure to push when a push was needed was what really let the Republicans down.

Retired General Eisenhower insisted on numerous occasions that he was "a political novice, a neophyte among professionals" with "no great liking for politics." On the first two counts, we certainly agree, and so should the Republican leaders. They should agree so thoroughly that they will pay no attention whatever to him either prior to or at the Republican national convention. If they do, he will, in all likelihood, mess them up as thoroughly as he did during Nixon's 1960 candidacy.

There are some Republicans who want Eisenhower to accept the role of elder statesman but about the only thing any one of them could gain by it would be a chance to run and be defeated. For those wanting his advice, the point is not that his function in this role would help the nominee, chosen with his blessing, to be elected. It did not do so in 1960, when Eisenhower still had all of the power of the presidency at his back.

Fear has been expressed by some Republican governors, visiting Washington in recent days, that the convention may become involved in wild and prolonged disagreement which would damage the party's reputation and leave a poor impression on the country.

The ex-president's position is not made easier in that he expressed displeasure to friends with the 1960 campaign records of both Nixon and Lodge, though he did little, when he could have, to help their ticket and actually was responsible for their defeat.

In our opinion, the best way the Republicans can lose the 1964 presidential race is to listen to the advice of the Democrats and Eisenhower on the question of nominating a candidate. And it is difficult to decide whose advice would be likely to hurt them more.

Castro Misses Grease

Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba is a slick customer but the United States came near making him and his path even slicker.

Representative Kenneth Keating, R., N. Y., who has a 53 rating when it comes to voting conservative, and therefore sometimes displeases the south, has a way of keeping his eyes open against catering to communist countries. He ferreted out a pending deal in which some $2 million worth of lard would have gone to Castro's Cuba from this country, and called the discovery to the attention of the department of commerce. That office immediately slapped a ban on the transaction and included lard among the articles that can't be sold to Castro. Many of us wonder why we sell anything to Cuba, instead of selecting some items that can be sold and others that can't.

Why lard in particular was banned from the list we do not know. Maybe it was because the department of commerce thought it might look too much as if we were greasing Castro's palm or his skids or something of the sort. With $2 million worth of lard, Castro would have been even more difficult to pin down and would have been as hard to control as a greased pig.

Rickover Proposes Private Enterprise Handle Defense

ALTHOUGH THE long-standing controversy over military-versus-civilian control of the American military establishment has not broken into the open for some time three recent incidents show how the issue still seethes under the surface.

Prime among these, of course, was the opening of old wounds of Korea brought about by publication of newspaper interviews some 10 years ago with Gen. Douglas MacArthur and made public a few hours after his death.

These resurrected the bitter question of who was right — MacArthur or President Truman — in how the Korean War should have been fought. MacArthur wanted to carry the war beyond the Yalu river and stop the Red Chinese in their tracks. Truman resisted and relieved the old general of his command.

The other day a strong difference of opinion arose over the posture of United States defenses against possible Soviet attack. Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis LeMay kicked it off by saying the U. S. military edge over the Soviet Union has decreased in the last few years. Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara fired right back and vigorously denied the LeMay statement.

THE THIRD INCIDENT took more subtle form. It developed when Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, father of the nuclear-powered submarine, suggested to a Congressional committee the job of running national defense could be pulled away from the military and contracted out to private enterprise. An unusual suggestion, yes, but Rickover has come up with some seemingly unlikely ideas in the past and always has a receptive audience in Congress.

The tug-of-war between the military brass and civilian authority will certainly continue as long as there is such a thing as a military establishment. For the time being, at least, Congress and the American public seem content to let civilians carry on with the upper hand.

MacArthur's death has not ended — but probably intensified — the argument over who has final say in such matters. Many of the facts in the dispute are ignored, of course, because of passionate views on either side.

CLEARER HEADS which attempt to prevail in this instance are prone to believe that while statements made by MacArthur in two interviews a decade ago were accurately reported they could not, quite naturally, tell the whole story.

Some of these observers are certain, for instance, that when the general talked of dropping 35 to 50 atom bombs on Red Chinese territory behind the Yalu he did not mean this literally since he must have been aware there were not that many A-bombs in the American stockpile. (Some people say MacArthur never mentioned A-bombs but had conventional bombs in mind.)

MacArthur, it is also pointed out, could not have been so completely ignorant of what was going on and was able to predict then — with such brilliant accuracy — some of the disasters now taking place in the Far East.

Unfortunate in the McNamara-LeMay exchange is the effect their conflicting views on our military strength is having on the American public. Here are two of the country's outstanding authorities on U. S. defenses and they disagree completely on where we stand. One must be right and one must be wrong. However, since the information on which they base these conflicting views is withheld for secrecy reasons, how is the man on the street to make up his mind?

RICKOVER'S comments on the subject, not likely to endear him to generals and fellow admirals, bring into the foreground some interesting food for thought.

In his view, the increasing complexity of modern weapons is diminishing the role of the military and enhancing the importance of civilian eggheads. Since little military genius has gone into the design of intercontinental ballistic missiles, for instance, why not let trained civilian crews operate them.

According to the admiral, development of these newer weapons has required new systems of military management which have created friction between the military and their civilian superiors.

Rickover goes even further when he states the position of the professional military man is now rapidly declining and that he may have lost forever responsibility for making basic strategic decisions.

'Silent' Disease Often Turned Up

THE WORD "SILENT" is often used to describe diseases that hide behind a barricade of comfort. For example, if we X-ray a patient's gall bladder and it is filled with stones, we are not completely surprised when the patient says, "I've never had pain or been troubled by indigestion." The common term: silent gallstones.

Here is another patient who says she has never had any urinary symptoms whatever. Yet a routine X-ray reveals that she has a large kidney stone, entirely unsuspected. Term: silent kidney stone.

Mrs. Smith at last convinces her husband to go in for his physical examination because he has just turned 40 and she thinks it is an ideal birthday present. He has always been an apparently healthy man. Never any pain or other symptoms. A routine electrocardiogram shows that he has sustained a "silent" infarction (inflammation of the heart due to coronary thrombosis) some time ago.

And so we continue to use the unscientific but expressive word "silent" in describing symptom-free tuberculosis, diabetes, ulcer of the stomach and other conditions.

Patients, free from indigestion and painful discomforts, are greatly surprised when X rays show a gastric or duodenal ulcer. Yet, this is a relatively common occurrence. Sometimes the discovery is made on routine X-ray study. At other, more dramatic occasions, the very first indication of such trouble is sudden hemorrhage or perforation of an ulcer causing medical and surgical emergency. All this is but another reason indicating that you'd better have a routine physical whether or not you're apparently healthy.

SLAP ON THE WRIST

In a recent column I wrote that I wouldn't take away tobacco or liquor or fatty meats; or suggest exercise for a happy 70-to 80-year-old. I said that his personal calendar was proof enough that he was able to overcome any so-called bad habits. I don't believe in changing signals when anyone can make such good yardage (70 to 80 years).

However, everyone doesn't agree with this philosophy. Consider this one-sentence slap on the wrist:

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: In the name of God, how can you urge people to commit suicide on the instalment plan? — Mr. W. (86 years old)

DEAR DR. STEINCROHN: I've got a problem. Although I feel healthy otherwise (at the age of 42) I have begun to creak in all my bones. Is it serious— Mrs. S.

Comment: My guess: not serious. Just an indication that the calendar has not been lying.

DEAR DR. STEINCROHN: Is it safe to buy tinned food if there's a dent in the side of the can? Otherwise the can seems all right. — Mrs. R.

Comment: I'll guess it's safe, if it doesn't seem to be out of shape. However, a good rule when considering the use of canned food is: when in doubt, better not use it.

DEAR DR. STEINCROHN: My daughter has just been told by her doctor she has osteoporosis. It worries me. Is it serious?—Mrs. F.

Comment: It is a demineralization of bone which usually occurs later in life. It is not so serious if controlled early with injections and pills containing male and female hormones. Untreated, it may cause spontaneous fractures (produced without a history of injury) and other deformities.

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "How To Stop Killing Yourself," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 15 cents in coin for handling. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, in care of this newspaper.

By United Press International

Today is Saturday, April 25, the 116th day of 1964 with 250 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1846, the first shots of the Mexican War were fired.

Goldwater Gains Ground Steadily

THEY DID everything they could to kill him off in New Hampshire, and very nearly succeeded. Nor is it by any means a sure thing even now that Senator Goldwater will be nominated in San Francisco, although it would tax the conspiratorial powers of Lucifer to devise a way to keep him from it. Those are the facts slowly penetrating the minds of the assassins who whistled away from New Hampshire happily certain that they had left behind them a corpse, only to see the shadow of the victim looming up between them and the treasure of San Francisco.

"Why Goldwater Is Gaining Ground" — the title of an article in the current issue of U.S. News and World Report . . . "Goldwater Dead, Eh?" — the title of an editorial in the New York Daily News . . . "In the next few weeks developments in the Barry Goldwater drive for the GOP Presidential nomination will produce solid exidence that he will go into the San Francisco convention within shooting distance of victory"— the lead sentence in a dispatch from Washington columnist Ted Lewis . . . "A growing number of politicians believe Senator Barry Goldwater will enter the Republican National Convention with enough strength to either win the Presidential nomination on the first ballot or to pick the winner" — lead in a dispatch by the prominent political reporter Joseph Loftus of the New York Times . . . "At the present time, there is too much tendency to write off Goldwater. Delegates nominate and Goldwater is very close to having the requisite numbers. If he wins in California, either he will be the candidate, or he will name him" — Nixon . . . "Mr. President, Sir, Senator Goldwater said he was leading the pack for the Republican nomination. Do you think he will be the Republican nominee?" " . . . I think he will be up there pretty high." Had enough?

ONE MUST NOT, however, underestimate the strength of the Establishment, which is formidable. It is correct that the nomination of Senator Goldwater would mean a very considerable wrench in the affairs of the Party, precisely because a) he is not the candidate of the Eastern priesthood, who have acted as the Curia for the GOP for two generations; and because b) he comes from one end of the ideological spectrum within it, rather than from the middle. But these problems, one traditional, the other ontological, do not appear to be weighing very heavily on the delegates themselves, whom Mr. Goldwater continues to pick up, block after block, preparing now to arrive at San Francisco, always assuming he wins in California, with something in the neighborhood of 600 of the 655 votes he needs. Who, at that point, will say him nay, merely to confirm Walter Lippmann's theory of American history that a right winger cannot be nominated?

I take the opportunity to reiterate a suggestion I made about a year ago, which brought much wonderment and some wrath down upon my head. And that is this, that Senator Goldwater should earnestly propose to General Eisenhower that he accept the nomination for the vice presidency. (With reference to the constitutionality of the proposal, for which I was widely chastised, shortly after I made it a year ago, General Eisenhower revealed that he had secured an informal ruling by the Justice Department in 1960, which advised him that an ex-President could run for the vice-presidency without violating the 12th or 22nd Amendments.)

TO COMPRESS drastically the analysis: General Eisenhower could superby balance Senator Goldwater's ticket and allay the fears of those who wonder whether the Senator has had enough experience, particularly in international affairs. The problem of course would be to persuade the General to accept. The argument that to accept such a post would be undignified could be countered by recalling that John Quincy Adams, as ex-President, accepted a seat in the House of Representatives, where he served with distinction. In the last analysis, the General's decision would depend on whether he believes it truly important, as several times he stated he thought it was in connection with the proposed removal of John Kennedy from the White House, to remove his successor Democrat, Lyndon Johnson. If Mr. Eisenhower thinks that the Democratic road is to foreign calamity and local socialism, would he, who so often has stressed the ineluctable call of duty, have any right to refuse?

RALPH DE TOLEDANO

Scranton 'Image' Not So Accurate

THE "IMAGE" OF Governor William Scranton of Pennsylvania is one of a dedicated public servant who is more interested in good government than in politics. He claims that he has no "machine" and that he does not indulge in the petty jockeying for advantage which marks most state administrations.

If this image is at all accurate, it can only be because Mr. Scranton has his eyes tightly sealed. But those who know him say that little escapes his attention. He cannot plead ignorance to the blitz campaign to destroy the political future of Paul Hugus, GOP chairman for Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) or the systematic withdrawal of patronage by the Governor's office — simply because Mr. Hugus has declared himself for Senator Barry Goldwater and will not retreat from that position.

More significant as a token of how a Scranton Administration in Washington might act is the stubborn refusal of the Governor and of top Republicans in Pennsylvania — both in the state government and in the Congress — to pay any heed to what may develop into a serious scandal. This involves the Scranton machine in an effort to have its own hand-picked delegates at the San Francisco convention — whether they legally qualify or not.

THOUGH THIS is a local situation, its implications affect the nation. If the charges being made against a candidate for delegate in Pennsylvania's Westmoreland County are true, they cast a serious shadow on Mr. Scranton's image.

For some reason, the story has not interested the large metropolitan dailies of the state, but some local papers have begun to discuss it and to insist on a determination of the facts. Unless Governor Scranton moves decisively to clear the air, the case will undoubtedly end up in the courts where it will bring no luster to the reputation of the Republican administration in the state.

As far as I can make sense out of the tangle, this is the story:

I order to have a safely pro-Scranton delegate from the South Ligonier district Westmoreland county, the Scranton forces "nominated" the socially-prominent Thomas H. Nimick Jr. The Goldwater partisans, seeking to block Mr. Nimick, charge that he is not a resident of the district and that his nominating petition is in such "substantial error" as to bar certification by the Secretary of the Commonwealth — a Scranton supporter.

IN AN UNSUCCESSFUL effort to force the Westmoreland County Board of Elections to make an investigation, responsible citizens allege that the house in Ligonier which Mr. Nimick claims as his residence is occupied by someone else — on sublet from Mr. Nimick. He had occupied the house until some two years ago, then moved back to Pittsburgh — out of the district. The address given by Mr. Nimick in his nominating petition appears to be non-existent and cannot be found on any maps of the district. It seems to be unknown to residents of Ligonier. No residents could be found who knew of any established residence which would qualify Mr. Nimick to vote or run for office in the district.

It is further noted that the 1960 Pittsburgh phone book listed both a local address and one in the district in question for Mr. Nimick — the current director simply lists a Pittsburgh address — and that tax receipts for some real property held by Mr. Nimick are mailed only to the Pittsburgh address.

If these allegations are true, then Mr. Nimick is not qualified to serve as a delegate. So far, the Scranton forces have simply ignored protests. Yet if it explodes in the courts, it can be ruinous to the Republican Party in Pennsylvania. It could torpedo the re-election chances of U. S. Senator Hugh Scott. (Mr. Nimick lists himself in his petition as a former administrative assistant to Senator Scott.)

WHATEVER THE outcome of any litigation, it will hurt Governor Scranton. There is no doubt that the tangled issue has been brought to his attention. The charges are serious. As a conscientious governor, interested in the welfare of his state and his party, he should have intervened, determined the truth or error of the allegations, and acted. As it is, he gives the impression of a man who would like to see the controversy just disappear.

It did not do so in 1960, when Eisenhower still had all of the power of the presidency at his back.

Fear has been expressed by some Republican governors, visiting Washington in recent days, that the convention may become involved in wild and prolonged disagreement which would damage the party's reputation and leave a poor impression on the country.

The ex-president's position is not made easier in that he expressed displeasure to friends with the 1960 campaign records of both Nixon and Lodge, though he did little, when he could have, to help their ticket and actually was responsible for their defeat.

In our opinion, the best way the Republicans can lose the 1964 presidential race is to listen to the advice of the Democrats and Eisenhower on the question of nominating a candidate. And it is difficult to decide whose advice would be likely to hurt them more.

Castro Misses Grease

Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba is a slick customer but the United States came near making him and his path even slicker.

Representative Kenneth Keating, R., N. Y., who has a 53 rating when it comes to voting conservative, and therefore sometimes displeases the south, has a way of keeping his eyes open against catering to communist countries. He ferreted out a pending deal in which some $2 million worth of lard would have gone to Castro's Cuba from this country, and called the discovery to the attention of the department of commerce. That office immediately slapped a ban on the transaction and included lard among the articles that can't be sold to Castro. Many of us wonder why we sell anything to Cuba, instead of selecting some items that can be sold and others that can't.

Why lard in particular was banned from the list we do not know. Maybe it was because the department of commerce thought it might look too much as if we were greasing Castro's palm or his skids or something of the sort. With $2 million worth of lard, Castro would have been even more difficult to pin down and would have been as hard to control as a greased pig.

The Smithsonian Institution's new museum of History and Technology in Washington has on display a 180-ton steam locomotive and tender. They are so large that the hall had to be built around them.

In Cyprus, home industries survive in farmhouses and cottages. Lacework, scarves and spreads are made by the women and sold by men.

The economy of the Watusi tribe in Africa was a kind of cattle feudalism. A Watusi's wealth, prestige and political position depended on the size of his herd.

Rickover Proposes Private Enterprise Handle Defense

ALTHOUGH THE long-standing controversy over military-versus-civilian control of the American military establishment has not broken into the open for some time three recent incidents show how the issue still seethes under the surface.

Prime among these, of course, was the opening of old wounds of Korea brought about by publication of newspaper interviews some 10 years ago with Gen. Douglas MacArthur and made public a few hours after his death.

These resurrected the bitter question of who was right — MacArthur or President Truman — in how the Korean War should have been fought. MacArthur wanted to carry the war beyond the Yalu river and stop the Red Chinese in their tracks. Truman resisted and relieved the old general of his command.

The other day a strong difference of opinion arose over the posture of United States defenses against possible Soviet attack. Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis LeMay kicked it off by saying the U. S. military edge over the Soviet Union has decreased in the last few years. Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara fired right back and vigorously denied the LeMay statement.

THE THIRD INCIDENT took more subtle form. It developed when Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, father of the nuclear-powered submarine, suggested to a Congressional committee the job of running national defense could be pulled away from the military and contracted out to private enterprise. An unusual suggestion, yes, but Rickover has come up with some seemingly unlikely ideas in the past and always has a receptive audience in Congress.

The tug-of-war between the military brass and civilian authority will certainly continue as long as there is such a thing as a military establishment. For the time being, at least, Congress and the American public seem content to let civilians carry on with the upper hand.

MacArthur's death has not ended — but probably intensified — the argument over who has final say in such matters. Many of the facts in the dispute are ignored, of course, because of passionate views on either side.

CLEARER HEADS which attempt to prevail in this instance are prone to believe that while statements made by MacArthur in two interviews a decade ago were accurately reported they could not, quite naturally, tell the whole story.

Some of these observers are certain, for instance, that when the general talked of dropping 35 to 50 atom bombs on Red Chinese territory behind the Yalu he did not mean this literally since he must have been aware there were not that many A-bombs in the American stockpile. (Some people say MacArthur never mentioned A-bombs but had conventional bombs in mind.)

MacArthur, it is also pointed out, could not have been so completely ignorant of what was going on and was able to predict then — with such brilliant accuracy — some of the disasters now taking place in the Far East.

Unfortunate in the McNamara-LeMay exchange is the effect their conflicting views on our military strength is having on the American public. Here are two of the country's outstanding authorities on U. S. defenses and they disagree completely on where we stand. One must be right and one must be wrong. However, since the information on which they base these conflicting views is withheld for secrecy reasons, how is the man on the street to make up his mind?

RICKOVER'S comments on the subject, not likely to endear him to generals and fellow admirals, bring into the foreground some interesting food for thought.

In his view, the increasing complexity of modern weapons is diminishing the role of the military and enhancing the importance of civilian eggheads. Since little military genius has gone into the design of intercontinental ballistic missiles, for instance, why not let trained civilian crews operate them.

According to the admiral, development of these newer weapons has required new systems of military management which have created friction between the military and their civilian superiors.

Rickover goes even further when he states the position of the professional military man is now rapidly declining and that he may have lost forever responsibility for making basic strategic decisions.

'Silent' Disease Often Turned Up

THE WORD "SILENT" is often used to describe diseases that hide behind a barricade of comfort. For example, if we X-ray a patient's gall bladder and it is filled with stones, we are not completely surprised when the patient says, "I've never had pain or been troubled by indigestion." The common term: silent gallstones.

Here is another patient who says she has never had any urinary symptoms whatever. Yet a routine X-ray reveals that she has a large kidney stone, entirely unsuspected. Term: silent kidney stone.

Mrs. Smith at last convinces her husband to go in for his physical examination because he has just turned 40 and she thinks it is an ideal birthday present. He has always been an apparently healthy man. Never any pain or other symptoms. A routine electrocardiogram shows that he has sustained a "silent" infarction (inflammation of the heart due to coronary thrombosis) some time ago.

And so we continue to use the unscientific but expressive word "silent" in describing symptom-free tuberculosis, diabetes, ulcer of the stomach and other conditions.

Patients, free from indigestion and painful discomforts, are greatly surprised when X rays show a gastric or duodenal ulcer. Yet, this is a relatively common occurrence. Sometimes the discovery is made on routine X-ray study. At other, more dramatic occasions, the very first indication of such trouble is sudden hemorrhage or perforation of an ulcer causing medical and surgical emergency. All this is but another reason indicating that you'd better have a routine physical whether or not you're apparently healthy.

SLAP ON THE WRIST

In a recent column I wrote that I wouldn't take away tobacco or liquor or fatty meats; or suggest exercise for a happy 70-to 80-year-old. I said that his personal calendar was proof enough that he was able to overcome any so-called bad habits. I don't believe in changing signals when anyone can make such good yardage (70 to 80 years).

However, everyone doesn't agree with this philosophy. Consider this one-sentence slap on the wrist:

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: In the name of God, how can you urge people to commit suicide on the instalment plan? — Mr. W. (86 years old)

DEAR DR. STEINCROHN: I've got a problem. Although I feel healthy otherwise (at the age of 42) I have begun to creak in all my bones. Is it serious—Mrs. S.

Comment: My guess: not serious. Just an indication that the calendar has not been lying.

DEAR DR. STEINCROHN: Is it safe to buy tinned food if there's a dent in the side of the can? Otherwise the can seems all right. — Mrs. R.

Comment: I'll guess it's safe, if it doesn't seem to be out of shape. However, a good rule when considering the use of canned food is: when in doubt, better not use it.

DEAR DR. STEINCROHN: My daughter has just been told by her doctor she has osteoporosis. It worries me. Is it serious?—Mrs. F.

Comment: It is a demineralization of bone which usually occurs later in life. It is not so serious if controlled early with injections and pills containing male and female hormones. Untreated, it may cause spontaneous fractures (produced without a history of injury) and other deformities.

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "How To Stop Killing Yourself," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 15 cents in coin for handling. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, in care of this newspaper.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Saturday, April 25, the 116th day of 1964 with 250 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1846, the first shots of the Mexican War were fired.

Also in 1945, delegates from 46 countries met in San Francisco to form the United Nations.

Senator Soaper Says

It always seems to be the politest kid on the block who gets into trouble. If your boys says, "Thank you," your best advice is to tell him to go to the police and turn himself in.

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, JR.

Goldwater Gains Ground Steadily

THEY DID everything they could to kill him off in New Hampshire, and very nearly succeeded. Nor is it by any means a sure thing even now that Senator Goldwater will be nominated in San Francisco, although it would tax the conspiratorial powers of Lucifer to devise a way to keep him from it. Those are the facts slowly penetrating the minds of the assassins who whistled away from New Hampshire happily certain that they had left behind them a corpse, only to see the shadow of the victim looming up between them and the treasure of San Francisco.

"Why Goldwater Is Gaining Ground" — the title of an article in the current issue of U.S. News and World Report . . . "Goldwater Dead, Eh?" — the title of an editorial in the New York Daily News . . . "In the next few weeks developments in the Barry Goldwater drive for the GOP Presidential nomination will produce solid exidence that he will go into the San Francisco convention within shooting distance of victory"— the lead sentence in a dispatch from Washington columnist Ted Lewis . . . "A growing number of politicians believe Senator Barry Goldwater will enter the Republican National Convention with enough strength to either win the Presidential nomination on the first ballot or to pick the winner" — lead in a dispatch by the prominent political reporter Joseph Loftus of the New York Times . . . "At the present time, there is too much tendency to write off Goldwater. Delegates nominate and Goldwater is very close to having the requisite numbers. If he wins in California, either he will be the candidate, or he will name him" — Nixon . . . "Mr. President, Sir, Senator Goldwater said he was leading the pack for the Republican nomination. Do you think he will be the Republican nominee?" " . . . I think he will be up there pretty high." Had enough?

ONE MUST NOT, however, underestimate the strength of the Establishment, which is formidable. It is correct that the nomination of Senator Goldwater would mean a very considerable wrench in the affairs of the Party, precisely because a) he is not the candidate of the Eastern priesthood, who have acted as the Curia for the GOP for two generations; and because b) he comes from one end of the ideological spectrum within it, rather than from the middle. But these problems, one traditional, the other ontological, do not appear to be weighing very heavily on the delegates themselves, whom Mr. Goldwater continues to pick up, block after block, preparing now to arrive at San Francisco, always assuming he wins in California, with something in the neighborhood of 600 of the 655 votes he needs. Who, at that point, will say him nay, merely to confirm Walter Lippmann's theory of American history that a right winger cannot be nominated?

I take the opportunity to reiterate a suggestion I made about a year ago, which brought much wonderment and some wrath down upon my head. And that is this, that Senator Goldwater should earnestly propose to General Eisenhower that he accept the nomination for the vice presidency. (With reference to the constitutionality of the proposal, for which I was widely chastised, shortly after I made it a year ago, General Eisenhower revealed that he had secured an informal ruling by the Justice Department in 1960, which advised him that an ex-President could run for the vice-presidency without violating the 12th or 22nd Amendments.)

TO COMPRESS drastically the analysis: General Eisenhower could superby balance Senator Goldwater's ticket and allay the fears of those who wonder whether the Senator has had enough experience, particularly in international affairs. The problem of course would be to persuade the General to accept. The argument that to accept such a post would be undignified could be countered by recalling that John Quincy Adams, as ex-President, accepted a seat in the House of Representatives, where he served with distinction. In the last analysis, the General's decision would depend on whether he believes it truly important, as several times he stated he thought it was in connection with the proposed removal of John Kennedy from the White House, to remove his successor Democrat, Lyndon Johnson. If Mr. Eisenhower thinks that the Democratic road is to foreign calamity and local socialism, would he, who so often has stressed the ineluctable call of duty, have any right to refuse?

RALPH DE TOLEDANO

Scranton 'Image' Not So Accurate

THE "IMAGE" OF Governor William Scranton of Pennsylvania is one of a dedicated public servant who is more interested in good government than in politics. He claims that he has no "machine" and that he does not indulge in the petty jockeying for advantage which marks most state administrations.

If this image is at all accurate, it can only be because Mr. Scranton has his eyes tightly sealed. But those who know him say that little escapes his attention. He cannot plead ignorance to the blitz campaign to destroy the political future of Paul Hugus, GOP chairman for Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) or the systematic withdrawal of patronage by the Governor's office — simply because Mr. Hugus has declared himself for Senator Barry Goldwater and will not retreat from that position.

More significant as a token of how a Scranton Administration in Washington might act is the stubborn refusal of the Governor and of top Republicans in Pennsylvania — both in the state government and in the Congress — to pay any heed to what may develop into a serious scandal. This involves the Scranton machine in an effort to have its own hand-picked delegates at the San Francisco convention — whether they legally qualify or not.

THOUGH THIS is a local situation, its implications affect the nation. If the charges being made against a candidate for delegate in Pennsylvania's Westmoreland County are true, they cast a serious shadow on Mr. Scranton's image.

For some reason, the story has not interested the large metropolitan dailies of the state, but some local papers have begun to discuss it and to insist on a determination of the facts. Unless Governor Scranton moves decisively to clear the air, the case will undoubtedly end up in the courts where it will bring no luster to the reputation of the Republican administration in the state.

As far as I can make sense out of the tangle, this is the story:

I order to have a safely pro-Scranton delegate from the South Ligonier district Westmoreland county, the Scranton forces "nominated" the socially-prominent Thomas H. Nimick Jr. The Goldwater partisans, seeking to block Mr. Nimick, charge that he is not a resident of the district and that his nominating petition is in such "substantial error" as to bar certification by the Secretary of the Commonwealth — a Scranton supporter.

IN AN UNSUCCESSFUL effort to force the Westmoreland County Board of Elections to make an investigation, responsible citizens allege that the house in Ligonier which Mr. Nimick claims as his residence is occupied by someone else — on sublet from Mr. Nimick. He had occupied the house until some two years ago, then moved back to Pittsburgh — out of the district. The address given by Mr. Nimick in his nominating petition appears to be non-existent and cannot be found on any maps of the district. It seems to be unknown to residents of Ligonier. No residents could be found who knew of any established residence which would qualify Mr. Nimick to vote or run for office in the district.

It is further noted that the 1960 Pittsburgh phone book listed both a local address and one in the district in question for Mr. Nimick — the current director simply lists a Pittsburgh address — and that tax receipts for some real property held by Mr. Nimick are mailed only to the Pittsburgh address.

If these allegations are true, then Mr. Nimick is not qualified to serve as a delegate. So far, the Scranton forces have simply ignored protests. Yet if it explodes in the courts, it can be ruinous to the Republican Party in Pennsylvania. It could torpedo the re-election chances of U. S. Senator Hugh Scott. (Mr. Nimick lists himself in his petition as a former administrative assistant to Senator Scott.)

WHATEVER THE outcome of any litigation, it will hurt Governor Scranton. There is no doubt that the tangled issue has been brought to his attention. The charges are serious. As a conscientious governor, interested in the welfare of his state and his party, he should have intervened, determined the truth or error of the allegations, and acted. As it is, he gives the impression of a man who would like to see the controversy just disappear.

Court Rejects Stassen's Bid To Enter Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court rejected Friday an appeal by Harold E. Stassen seeking to get on the ballot for California's Republican presidential primary June 2.

The court's action was announced after its regular Friday closed conference.

The announcement said Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices William O. Douglas and Arthur J. Goldberg had dissented. The vote thus was 6-3.

The court made no comment on the case, but said an opinion may be filed later.

Justice Douglas on Wednesday had ordered California officials to suspend preparations for the primary pending outcome of the Stassen appeal. Douglas specified that the stay was to terminate automatically if the court rejected Stassen's appeal. California is now left free to go ahead with the printing of ballots and other preparations.

The Stassen appeal was filed Tuesday after the California Supreme Court upheld action of California Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan in refusing to put Stassen's name on the ballot on the ground of insufficient voter signatures.

Earlier today, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk of California had asked the Supreme Court to reject quickly Stassen's appeal.

LOCK CARS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Keep the family car in the family by locking it, suggests the National Automobile Theft Bureau.

The countrywide theft prevention and car recovery agency is maintained by 350 auto insurance companies. It is estimated that cars are stolen at the rate of $1 million worth a day. Careless motorists who don't lock their cars make stealing easy, the Bureau said.

Coronation Slated

A coronation program entitled "Majestic Moments," will be presented 7 p.m. Wednesday by the Girls' Auxiliary at Swartz Baptist Church. In the ceremonies, five queens will be crowned, and presentation of the charge will be made to Queen Regent in Service Sharon Ramsey. Queen regent is the auxiliary's highest post.

Storm Dumps 3.03 Inches Of Rain Here

Strong guests of wind also blew over trees across North Seventh and North Sixth streets in West Monroe, but otherwise, wind damage was minor.

Flash flooding left streets throughout the Twin Cities almost impassable in areas. Monroe police had to re-route traffice at Milton, Glenmar and Roselawn streets and at Lexington Boulevard when the danger of water creeping into houses became too great.

Street Commissioner W. D. H. Rodriguez said the biggest danger to houses came from passing cars causing heavy waves to wash into the houses and some businesses. However, no one reported water entering homes even though the water was as deep as 12 inches in some front and back yards.

Street crews were kept busy operating pumps so that the South Second and Plum Street underpasses would not become flooded and block traffic.

Rodriguez pointed out that this "was the largest concentration of precipitation in such a short period" that has struck Monroe in many years.

Area towns, including Oak Grove, Columbia, Bastrop, Farmerville, and Rayville reported heavy rains but no wind damage. Apparently little loss of property was sustained in the Monroe area.

Mayor W. L. Howard said that street crews in Monroe were to be kept out late Friday until the danger of another storm passed. He said the water was running off rapidly and, barring another storm, should be almost gone by this morning.

City water department officials are expected to measure Bayou DeSiard this morning to determine the amount of rise in the water level resulting from the storm.

Tornado warnings were broadcast for the Monroe area shortly before noon and were in effect until 2 p.m. Friday, after a twister destroyed numerous houses in the western part of Shreveport.

Drier and cooler air is now indicated for most of this region by Sunday afternoon as a low front is pushed northwestward into the Great Lakes region.

Temperatures in Monroe and the surrounding area will climb back to a mild 80 to 84 today and Sunday, dropping to a low tonight of 65 to 68. The forecast calls for partly cloudy skies with widely scattered thunderstorms and southerly winds 8 to 16 mph today.

6 More Victims Identified From Jetliner Crash

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Presumptive identification has been made of six more victims of the Feb. 25 jetliner crash here in Lake Pontchartrain.

Orleans Parish Coroner Nicholas J. Chetta said Friday the presumptive identification was on the basis of personal effects recovered from the area where the DC-8 went down with the loss of 58 lives shortly after takeoff from New Orleans.

Death certificates were signed for:

Clarice Mary Nassif, 33, Montreal, Canada.

Richard Charles Yoder, 21, Villa Parks, Ind.

Sgt. Ervin D. Sharry, 39, Rosepine, La.

Joan Grace Spaulding, 23, New York City.

Vernon A. Collins, 43, Groton, Conn.

fice, the District Crippled Childrens' Office, the Regional Chest Clinic and the Monroe Regional Laboratory.

But the mill-tax is strictly for the health unit — not to be used to support the other offices located in the new buildings, which were constructed at a cost of over a half-million dollars.

Dr. Summer, in a six-page report covering the operation of the health unit, notes that the health unit practices preventive medicine only.

"No ill people are treated," he said. "These are referred to their doctors or to the E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital."

Regarding preventive medical care, Dr. Summer pointed out that a total of 25,406 immunizations were given last year against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, smallpox, polio, typhoid and influenza.

Two maternity clinics are held each week, one veneral disease clinic each week, the regional tuberculosis clinic is twice a week, crippled children's clinic is held twice a month, special hearing clinics are held several times a year and immunization clinics are held every day.

With over 80 per cent of the Ouachita population participating in the polio program last year, Dr. Summer noted that not a single case of polio was reported in 1963.

On other programs, he made these points:

Venereal disease control — A total of 476 patients were admitted to the venereal disease clinics. A total of 1618 visits were made in the interest of the control of venereal diseases such as syphilis, gonorrhea and other venereal diseases.

Tuberculosis Control — Two clinics a week are conducted in the interest of tuberculosis control both for the parish and the region. Approximately 160 cases of tuberculosis are carried on the register for supervision. A total of 1917 visits were made to known cases, suspects and contacts.

Maternity Service — Some 546 cases were admitted to the maternity clinics. Some 4159 visits were made by cases to the clinics and by nurses to visit the maternity patients in their homes.

General Sanitation — Some 389 private premises and 90 public and individual premises were visited. Other services included inspections of schools, supervision of water supplies, installation of new septic tank supervision and assistance with connecting of public sewers.

Rabies Control — Some 1,405 stray animals were picked up and confined in the dog pound. The health unit operates and maintains the dog pound located at Selman Field.

Protection of Food and Milk — A total of 393 public eating and drinking places were registered for supervision. Some 2724 visits were made to eating and drinking establishments while 121 retail food stores were registered and supervised.

These are just a few of the services provided by the health unit financed by a one-mill tax to be presented for renewal Tuesday to Ouachita property owners.

BIG SCOOP

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The St. Louis-based Peabody Coal Company soon will boast what is being billed as the world's largest "shovel" to dig coal.

The Marion Shovel Company of Ohio is building the shovel which will have a digging capacity 74 per cent larger than those in use now.

The shovel will stand higher than a 21-story building, and each bite into rock fill a six-room house. The size of the shovel will enable it to deposit its load a football field and a half away from the digging point.

Court Rejects Stassen's Bid To Enter Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court rejected Friday an appeal by Harold E. Stassen seeking to get on the ballot for California's Republican presidential primary June 2.

The court's action was announced after its regular Friday closed conference.

The announcement said Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices William O. Douglas and Arthur J. Goldberg had dissented. The vote thus was 6-3.

The court made no comment on the case, but said an opinion may be filed later.

Justice Douglas on Wednesday had ordered California officials to suspend preparations for the primary pending outcome of the Stassen appeal. Douglas specified that the stay was to terminate automatically if the court rejected Stassen's appeal. California is now left free to go ahead with the printing of ballots and other preparations.

The Stassen appeal was filed Tuesday after the California Supreme Court upheld action of California Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan in refusing to put Stassen's name on the ballot on the ground of insufficient voter signatures.

Earlier today, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk of California had asked the Supreme Court to reject quickly Stassen's appeal.

LOCK CARS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Keep the family car in the family by locking it, suggests the National Automobile Theft Bureau.

The countrywide theft prevention and car recovery agency is maintained by 350 auto insurance companies. It is estimated that cars are stolen at the rate of $1 million worth a day. Careless motorists who don't lock their cars make stealing easy, the Bureau said.

Coronation Slated

In the ceremonies, five queens will be crowned, and presentation of the charge will be made to Queen Regent in Service Sharon Ramsey. Queen regent is the auxiliary's highest post.

utility poles were struck by lightning.

Strong guests of wind also blew over trees across North Seventh and North Sixth streets in West Monroe, but otherwise, wind damage was minor.

Flash flooding left streets throughout the Twin Cities almost impassable in areas. Monroe police had to re-route traffice at Milton, Glenmar and Roselawn streets and at Lexington Boulevard when the danger of water creeping into houses became too great.

Street Commissioner W. D. H. Rodriguez said the biggest danger to houses came from passing cars causing heavy waves to wash into the houses and some businesses. However, no one reported water entering homes even though the water was as deep as 12 inches in some front and back yards.

Street crews were kept busy operating pumps so that the South Second and Plum Street underpasses would not become flooded and block traffic.

Rodriguez pointed out that this "was the largest concentration of precipitation in such a short period" that has struck Monroe in many years.

Area towns, including Oak Grove, Columbia, Bastrop, Farmerville, and Rayville reported heavy rains but no wind damage. Apparently little loss of property was sustained in the Monroe area.

Mayor W. L. Howard said that street crews in Monroe were to be kept out late Friday until the danger of another storm passed. He said the water was running off rapidly and, barring another storm, should be almost gone by this morning.

City water department officials are expected to measure Bayou DeSiard this morning to determine the amount of rise in the water level resulting from the storm.

Tornado warnings were broadcast for the Monroe area shortly before noon and were in effect until 2 p.m. Friday, after a twister destroyed numerous houses in the western part of Shreveport.

Drier and cooler air is now indicated for most of this region by Sunday afternoon as a low front is pushed northwestward into the Great Lakes region.

Temperatures in Monroe and the surrounding area will climb back to a mild 80 to 84 today and Sunday, dropping to a low tonight of 65 to 68. The forecast calls for partly cloudy skies with widely scattered thunderstorms and southerly winds 8 to 16 mph today.

6 More Victims Identified From Jetliner Crash

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Presumptive identification has been made of six more victims of the Feb. 25 jetliner crash here in Lake Pontchartrain.

Orleans Parish Coroner Nicholas J. Chetta said Friday the presumptive identification was on the basis of personal effects recovered from the area where the DC-8 went down with the loss of 58 lives shortly after takeoff from New Orleans.

Death certificates were signed for:

Clarice Mary Nassif, 33, Montreal, Canada.

Richard Charles Yoder, 21, Villa Parks, Ind.

Sgt. Ervin D. Sharry, 39, Rosepine, La.

Joan Grace Spaulding, 23, New York City.

Vernon A. Collins, 43, Groton, Conn.

Of the others, about a score have been identified by partial remains recovered from the lake.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

JOTTINGS IN PENCIL. . .Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's so-called "advisors" ought to take a course in political strategy. If the governor is serious about his presidential hopes—and some people aren't too sure that he is—the smart thing for him to have done was call a non-stop around-the-clock conference with the civil rights leaders who plotted the "stall-in" for opening day at the World's Fair. Win or lose, the college try would have improved Rocky's standing with the voters far more than his cruising around making speeches and shaking hands in states miles away from his own New York.

Frank Sinatra may be offered the Nicky Arnstein role in the film version of "Funny Girl." (Sure, Nicky Arnstein was Italian — didn't you know?) At any rate, it's a safe bet that Sydney Chaplin won't get the part, not after the loud and explosive tiff he had with producer Ray Stark backstage at the musical. Stark's last words were: "Make arrangements with your lawyers and get out of the show." Chaplin's retort was not for the ears of kiddies . . . Eddie Fisher has lost Pamela Turnure — formerly Jacqueline Kennedy's White House social secretary — to George Stevens Jr. . . . Wire services should check on the fate of expatriate Bud Powell, the marvelous jazz pianist who has lived in Paris for years. He's been suffering from tuberculosis for months, and the most recent report is depressing.

The World's Fair situation really would be funny if it didn't involve so many people's furtunes and hopes. Take, for example, the "Wonder World" water show, which has been rehearsing in the pool of the St. George Hotel —as best it can — while it waited to perform in the much larger pool at the fair. Only a fraction of the swimmers could rehearse at the St. George, because the cast was too large to operate in the hotel pool — so, they faced a routine they'd never done together.

One of TV's biggest nighttime names was treated to a Mickey Finn at a local bar partronized by The Clan. His error was being nasty and vicious with somebody else's girl" at a nearby table . . . Despite the boomlet for Adlai Stevenson as President Johnson's running mate in the November elections, United Nations insiders believe the Ambassador doesn't want the vice presidency. In fact, they feel he would like to return to private life late this year, available only for "special assignments" from the government.

Pia Lindstrom, Ingrid Bergman's 24-year-old daughter, landed a key role in the new troianni film, "Marriage, Italian Style," now shooting in Naples . . . Singer Mary Ford, who split with guitarist Les Ford — —is currently doing a single, using her sister and brother in the act . . . Cassius Clay has set a deal with a ghostwriter to concoct a book titled "I'm the Greatest," which the champion describes as "sort of my life story."

Sid Luft has hired another lawyer to handle the divorce case against Judy Garland. Although it was supposed to come up in court June 1, it probably will be postponed again and again. The big laugh to insiders was the printed item alleging that Judy had cancelled her worldwide concert tour because she wanted to do a play instead. Don't hold your breath until Judy does the play . . . Darryl Zanuck, back in Paris, told the French reporters: "New York is the perfect place for about a month, but that's enough." On the more serious side, he anounced: "I really don't enjoy being head of 20th Century Fox and having to give so many orders, and I'll only do it for another year. After that, I intend to live in Paris and get back to directing pictures again."

Ty Hardin hasn't been weeping since his wife, former beauty queen Marlene Schmidt, took off for Europe leaving no note saying she intended to return. He's been dating the prettiest of Hollywood's starlets, including the lovely Eileen O'Neill . . . .As soon as "Sing Along With Mitch" taped its final TV show, star warbler Leslie Uggams packed for a nightclub tour that will gross $125,000.

Advice Is Given About Upkeep Of D'Arbonne

FARMERVILLE (Special) — The Union Parish Board of Health has given some advice concerning the upkeep of the D'Arbonne Lake area.

The board asked that, "each camp be treated as a private home and that the sanitary code be strictly enforced so that there would be no sewerage running into the lake."

The board also advised that houseboat owners will need a permit from the local sanitarian to launch a houseboat on the lake, and that chemical toilets be installed before the permits were issued.

The board also asked cooperation in keeping the lake beautiful by not dumping trash into it or littering the banks.

VICE PRESIDENT POSSIBILITY

McNamara Fields Campaign Queries

WASHINGTON (AP)—As deftly as an old pro politician, a beaming Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara fielded questions Friday about what he would do if President Johnson asked him to run for vice president.

When the sparring was over, McNamara hadn't said yes and he hadn't said no.

But reporters came away from his news conference with a strong impression that the Pentagon's chief might be "available."

McNamara is reported to be —or at least to have been — an independent Republican.

But when reporters tried to "set the record straight" on his political affiliation, McNamara smilingly slid off that one, too.

The defense secretary — considered more a management executive than a politician in view of his Ford Motor Co. background — was in such a good mood that he even spoke lightly about an issue that has brought him up fighting in the recent past.

That is the question of how dependable are U.S. missiles? Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a contender for the Republican presidential nomination, has coupled questions about their dependability with attacks on McNamara.

"I think we are in a political campaign and I suspect between now and November we will hear more of such charges," the defense secretary said with a smile.

If Johnson has extended any direct or indirect vice-presidential offers to McNamara, the President certainly isn't tipping his hand publicly.

In his rose garden news conference Thursday, Johnson lauded McNamara as "very able, very imaginative and a very great American."

"He never talks politics with me," the President said.

Bossier Band Concert Set At Louisiana Tech

RUSTON (Special) — Bossier High School's band will give a concert Monday at 7 p.m. in the Student Center at Louisiana Tech.

The band, under the direction of Ken Larsen, has traveled extensively to such places as Canada, Mexico and Cuba. It was during travels to these countries and throughout the United States that the band received its most valued awards.

Winning most of its recognition through participation in the Lions International Parade competition held annually in various major cities throughout the United States, the Bossier band ranks today as one of the foremost musical organizations in the South.

In competition in Miami in 1956, they won first place. They repeated their winning in San Francisco in 1957, New York in 1959, Atlantic City in 1961 and Miami Beach in 1963.

This summer they will again enter the Lions International Competition in Toronto.

Sen. Engle Rests After Operation

Green, who recently joined Engle's staff, said he was not informed on details of the operation but said the senator's doctor reported he was resting comfortably.

Engleunderwent a brain operation last August and since then has announced that he would seek re-election to the Senate.

Some California officials have questioned Engle's physical ability to mount an active campaign, but the senator has insisted he is continuing in the race.

He has suffered from partial paralysis and difficulty in speaking since his first operation.

Aides of Engle denied reports recently that he had been injured in a fall or that he was considering withdrawing from the election contest.

DOGS LOSING BARK?

CHICAGO (UPI)—A study published in the current Archives of Pathology of the American Medical Association (AMA) showed pet dogs fed human foods develop a "human-like" high level of cholesterol in the blood.

The study was reported by Irwin Schiller, B.S., Nevin E. Berglund, D.V.M., J.R. Terry, D.V.M., Ronald Reichlin, Richard E. Truehart, M.D., and George E. Cox, M.D., all of Evanston, Ill.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore Van Dellen

VIEWS ON DARK GLASSES

A few months ago I received a letter asking why some people wear dark glasses at night. I replied that the practice is silly and psychiatrists contend those who do so "are neurotics who are trying to hide or escape from the public."

A few days later an Indianapolis, Ind., woman wrote: "I am neither silly nor ready for the psychiatrist's couch but I use dark glasses not only on bright days but at night. The reason is that I have had cataract surgery on both eyes and sunlight and auto headlights practically blind me. A friend who has diabetes also finds it necessary to protect her eyes in this way on extremely bright days."

Another rebuttal came from a Chicagoan, who wrote: "Your answer made me see red. Since 1937, I have had chronic eye infections and one eye pains when exposed to light or movement. In addition, I need dark glasses to hide the unsightly damaged eye."

The following letter came from an Alexandria, Va., reader: "People who wear colored glasses at night are not necessarily neurotic — just vain. I use contact lenses and sometimes wear dark glasses at night when it is windy or dusty. They act as a shield."

This person could use ordinary specs as a shield and I guarantee she will see better at night. I have no objection to tinted lenses during the day, especially when the eyes are inflamed or sensitive to strong light. Wearing them indoors at night is another matter. But, regardless of opinions, likes, and dislikes, never wear dark glasses when driving a car at night.

STICKY EYELIDS

G. T. writes: When I awaken in the morning I can hardly open my eyes because they are sticky. Can you tell me what this is due to?

REPLY

Inflammation of the conjunctiva, the membrane that lines the inside of the eyelids, may be caused by infection, injury, irritation, or allergy. Yours sounds like infection. Send stamped, self - addressed envelope for leaflet on conjunctivitis.

WANTS POSITIVE GIRL

John writes: My blood is Rh positive and I am of the opinion that I should marry a girl with the same type of blood. Do you agree?

EPLY

There is a good chance that you will, considering that 85 per cent of the population is Rh positive. I also predict that when you fall in love, your silly idea will be forgotten.

CAN'T ABSORB GLUTEN

J. A. L. writes: Is sprue a condition of the stomach lining?

REPLY

Sprue (adult celiac disease) is classified as a malabsorption syndrome. The stomach lining lacks a certain substance that prevents the absorption of foods containing gluten. This means the individual must avoid any products made from wheat, rye, abrley, buckwheat, and oats.

CALCIUM AFTER FRACTURE

M. B. writes: Will a high calcium diet quicken the healing of a broken bone?

REPLY

LEG ULCER

J. W. writes: I have a varicose ulcer on the leg. Will removal of the varicose vein heal the sore?

REPLY

Usually. If not, the ulcer is removed and replaced with a skin graft.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINT — Self - reliance is an asset to recovery.

Church Slates Special Events

The 24th anniversary of the organization of Ridge Avenue Baptist Church, Ridge Ave. at Splane Dr., will be observed Sunday with a noon dinner on the church grounds following the 10:30 a.m. worship hour.

The Rev. H. L. Sampson, pastor, will preach the anniversary sermons. The church was organized May 24, 1940, by Rev. A. T. Mitchell, who pastored it until his retirement June 1, 1963. Starting with 71 members and land and building valued at a little over $600, it now has around 1,000 members and property and buildings valued at around $435,000.

no 5 10th Anniversary am

Highland Park Baptist Church, Roberts and Orleans streets, will observe its 10th anniversary Sunday with an old-fashioned dinner on the grounds, following the 11 a.m. services. A former pastor of the church, Rev. Charles B. Thompson, will be featured speaker.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Bargain Hunting Yule Shopper Irks Family

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I'd like your advice on what to do about my aunt. She telephoned this morning just to chat. To be polite I asked her what she was doing today. She replied, "I am going downtown to do some Christmas shopping." Then she explained.

Auntie watches for bargains all through the year and picks them up for Christmas gifts. By August she has all her Christmas shopping done. This explains why her gifts are always fadded, torn, dried out and shopworn.

This tightwad has more money than all the rest of the family put together. Her husband was in World War I and she still has his Liberty Bonds. I am so furiated by her cheapness I could pop a blood vessel. Should I tell her how I feel and get it off my chest? BURNED TO CINDERS.

Dear Cinders: No. You've told me. That's enough. Now forget it.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a teen-ager who will soon be bald if I don't do something about a terrible habit I've had since the sixth grade. Without realizing it I've been pulling out my hair. During study period when I should be concentrating I pull my hair out. When I get upset about something it is worse than ever. I wake up in the morning and find hair on the pillow, so you see I pull my hair out even when I sleep.

I've tried awfully hard to control myself but it's hopeless. Please tell me if you have ever heard of this before. Also, what can I do about it? Thanks a million.—PROBLEMS PROBLEMS

Dear Problems: This habit is in the same category with stuttering and nailbiting — and it is not uncommon

The guidance counselor at school should invite your mother in for a visit. Together they can decide on a course of action. You will stop pulling your hair out when you settle down emotionally and resolve the problems which are tormenting you.

Dear Ann Landers: I've been going with a beautiful girl from a small town downstate. I'll call her Faye. Last night we talked about many things. I asked her if she would mind telling me everything about her past romances. She was reluctant at first and then poured out a story that left me so weak I almost blacked out.

Faye went steady with a fellow during her senior year in high school and they were intimate for about eight months. She said she thought she was in love with him and felt sure they would marry. It was as if someone had stuck a dagger through my heart. Faye says he was the only one, but now I wonder. If she could have fooled me so completely, what might she do after I married her?

I love this girl but I don't trust her anymore. Do you think I will ever get over this?—DART

Dear Dart: No, I don't. In fact, the way your mind is working you'll probably have her pictured as the town tramp within a week.

Loving is confidence, understanding and forgiving. You'd better find yourself a 100 per cent pure maiden. A fellow with your attitude would forever remind a wife who had made an early mistake that she was "damaged goods."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

GO TO POLLS

KUALA LUMPUR, Malayasia (UPI)—Prime Minister Tangku Abdul Rahman's ruling Alliance Party goes to the polls Saturday to seek a mandate on its decision to stand firm in the face of Indonesian opposition.

The voting is for 282 state assembly seats in the 11 states which made up the Malayan Federation prior to the formation of Malaysia, and for Malaya's 104 seats in the 159-seat Malaysian Parliament. During the campaign Rahman has been asking voters to choose between their new nation and Indonesian domination.

Green, who recently joined Engle's staff, said he was not informed on details of the operation but said the senator's doctor reported he was resting comfortably.

Engleunderwent a brain operation last August and since then has announced that he would seek re-election to the Senate.

Some California officials have questioned Engle's physical ability to mount an active campaign, but the senator has insisted he is continuing in the race.

He has suffered from partial paralysis and difficulty in speaking since his first operation.

Aides of Engle denied reports recently that he had been injured in a fall or that he was considering withdrawing from the election contest.

DOGS LOSING BARK?

CHICAGO (UPI)—A study published in the current Archives of Pathology of the American Medical Association (AMA) showed pet dogs fed human foods develop a "human-like" high level of cholesterol in the blood.

The study was reported by Irwin Schiller, B.S., Nevin E. Berglund, D.V.M., J.R. Terry, D.V.M., Ronald Reichlin, Richard E. Truehart, M.D., and George E. Cox, M.D., all of Evanston, Ill.

How To Keep Well

VIEWS ON DARK GLASSES

A few months ago I received a letter asking why some people wear dark glasses at night. I replied that the practice is silly and psychiatrists contend those who do so "are neurotics who are trying to hide or escape from the public."

A few days later an Indianapolis, Ind., woman wrote: "I am neither silly nor ready for the psychiatrist's couch but I use dark glasses not only on bright days but at night. The reason is that I have had cataract surgery on both eyes and sunlight and auto headlights practically blind me. A friend who has diabetes also finds it necessary to protect her eyes in this way on extremely bright days."

Another rebuttal came from a Chicagoan, who wrote: "Your answer made me see red. Since 1937, I have had chronic eye infections and one eye pains when exposed to light or movement. In addition, I need dark glasses to hide the unsightly damaged eye."

The following letter came from an Alexandria, Va., reader: "People who wear colored glasses at night are not necessarily neurotic — just vain. I use contact lenses and sometimes wear dark glasses at night when it is windy or dusty. They act as a shield."

This person could use ordinary specs as a shield and I guarantee she will see better at night. I have no objection to tinted lenses during the day, especially when the eyes are inflamed or sensitive to strong light. Wearing them indoors at night is another matter. But, regardless of opinions, likes, and dislikes, never wear dark glasses when driving a car at night.

STICKY EYELIDS

G. T. writes: When I awaken in the morning I can hardly open my eyes because they are sticky. Can you tell me what this is due to?

REPLY

Inflammation of the conjunctiva, the membrane that lines the inside of the eyelids, may be caused by infection, injury, irritation, or allergy. Yours sounds like infection. Send stamped, self - addressed envelope for leaflet on conjunctivitis.

WANTS POSITIVE GIRL

John writes: My blood is Rh positive and I am of the opinion that I should marry a girl with the same type of blood. Do you agree?

EPLY

There is a good chance that you will, considering that 85 per cent of the population is Rh positive. I also predict that when you fall in love, your silly idea will be forgotten.

CAN'T ABSORB GLUTEN

J. A. L. writes: Is sprue a condition of the stomach lining?

REPLY

Sprue (adult celiac disease) is classified as a malabsorption syndrome. The stomach lining lacks a certain substance that prevents the absorption of foods containing gluten. This means the individual must avoid any products made from wheat, rye, abrley, buckwheat, and oats.

CALCIUM AFTER FRACTURE

M. B. writes: Will a high calcium diet quicken the healing of a broken bone?

REPLY

LEG ULCER

J. W. writes: I have a varicose ulcer on the leg. Will removal of the varicose vein heal the sore?

REPLY

Church Slates Special Events

The 24th anniversary of the organization of Ridge Avenue Baptist Church, Ridge Ave. at Splane Dr., will be observed Sunday with a noon dinner on the church grounds following the 10:30 a.m. worship hour.

The Rev. H. L. Sampson, pastor, will preach the anniversary sermons. The church was organized May 24, 1940, by Rev. A. T. Mitchell, who pastored it until his retirement June 1, 1963. Starting with 71 members and land and building valued at a little over $600, it now has around 1,000 members and property and buildings valued at around $435,000.

no 5 10th Anniversary am

Highland Park Baptist Church, Roberts and Orleans streets, will observe its 10th anniversary Sunday with an old-fashioned dinner on the grounds, following the 11 a.m. services. A former pastor of the church, Rev. Charles B. Thompson, will be featured speaker.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Bargain Hunting Yule Shopper Irks Family

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I'd like your advice on what to do about my aunt. She telephoned this morning just to chat. To be polite I asked her what she was doing today. She replied, "I am going downtown to do some Christmas shopping." Then she explained.

Auntie watches for bargains all through the year and picks them up for Christmas gifts. By August she has all her Christmas shopping done. This explains why her gifts are always fadded, torn, dried out and shopworn.

This tightwad has more money than all the rest of the family put together. Her husband was in World War I and she still has his Liberty Bonds. I am so furiated by her cheapness I could pop a blood vessel. Should I tell her how I feel and get it off my chest? BURNED TO CINDERS.

Dear Cinders: No. You've told me. That's enough. Now forget it.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a teen-ager who will soon be bald if I don't do something about a terrible habit I've had since the sixth grade. Without realizing it I've been pulling out my hair. During study period when I should be concentrating I pull my hair out. When I get upset about something it is worse than ever. I wake up in the morning and find hair on the pillow, so you see I pull my hair out even when I sleep.

I've tried awfully hard to control myself but it's hopeless. Please tell me if you have ever heard of this before. Also, what can I do about it? Thanks a million.—PROBLEMS PROBLEMS

Dear Problems: This habit is in the same category with stuttering and nailbiting — and it is not uncommon

The guidance counselor at school should invite your mother in for a visit. Together they can decide on a course of action. You will stop pulling your hair out when you settle down emotionally and resolve the problems which are tormenting you.

Dear Ann Landers: I've been going with a beautiful girl from a small town downstate. I'll call her Faye. Last night we talked about many things. I asked her if she would mind telling me everything about her past romances. She was reluctant at first and then poured out a story that left me so weak I almost blacked out.

Faye went steady with a fellow during her senior year in high school and they were intimate for about eight months. She said she thought she was in love with him and felt sure they would marry. It was as if someone had stuck a dagger through my heart. Faye says he was the only one, but now I wonder. If she could have fooled me so completely, what might she do after I married her?

I love this girl but I don't trust her anymore. Do you think I will ever get over this?—DART

Dear Dart: No, I don't. In fact, the way your mind is working you'll probably have her pictured as the town tramp within a week.

Loving is confidence, understanding and forgiving. You'd better find yourself a 100 per cent pure maiden. A fellow with your attitude would forever remind a wife who had made an early mistake that she was "damaged goods."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

GO TO POLLS

KUALA LUMPUR, Malayasia (UPI)—Prime Minister Tangku Abdul Rahman's ruling Alliance Party goes to the polls Saturday to seek a mandate on its decision to stand firm in the face of Indonesian opposition.

The voting is for 282 state assembly seats in the 11 states which made up the Malayan Federation prior to the formation of Malaysia, and for Malaya's 104 seats in the 159-seat Malaysian Parliament. During the campaign Rahman has been asking voters to choose between their new nation and Indonesian domination.

SCHOOL MIX TROUBLE

Chester Officials Renew Efforts To End Racial Strife

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—School officials went to court Friday in a renewed effort to end the racial strife that has plagued the city for nearly a year.

They asked the Delaware County Court for an injunction against further civil rights demonstrations when the public schools reopen the first of next week. A hearing probably will be held Monday morning.

This development came as civil rights spokesmen, who have led demonstrations for the past month against what they call de facto segregation in schools, repeated statements that they would force another closing of the schools if the Board of Education reopens them.

Officials, who had closed the 18 public schools Wednesday in fear for the safety of pupils, said they will reopen them Monday and Tuesday.

John J. Vaul, assistant superintendent of schools, said the board will carry out its plans despite the civil rights threat.

Mrs. Francis P. Donahoo, president of the board, says one school will be reopened Monday, and more on Tuesday if there are no incidents.

Frank Brooks, treasurer of the Chester Committee for Freedom now, said at a rally Thursday night, "We're going to close 'em up again."

The FBI has been ordered to investigate alleged brutality by Chester police, in the arrest of two reporters of the Philadelphia Bulletin, and the beating of one of them.

One reporter was arrested and avowedly beaten while covering demonstrations Wednesday night. In all, 216 persons were arrested then.

Reporter Timothy Tyler was charged with assaulting a policeman. Thursday, reporter William W. Lawrence was detained about 90 minutes when he went to a Chester police station, but he was released without charges.

Both newsmen are white.

The Philadelphia Press Association and Robert McLean, board chairman of the Bulletin, sent telegrams of protest to Chester Mayor James H. Gorbey. McLean also sent a copy of his protest to U.S. Atty. Drew J. T. O'Keefe in Philadelphia.

McLean, in his telegram, said: "After Mr. Tyler had identified himself to police, he was attacked with blackjacks and nightsticks by five or more police officers without provocation. His only actions were taken in self-defense to protect himself from Brutal manhandling."

McLean also protested "the illegal and improper arrest" of Lawrence "upon his arrival at the police station to inquire into the condition and whereabouts of Mr. Tyler."

He asked Mayor Gorbey to investigate and take steps to protect reporters. Gorbey said he would do so.

O'Keefe said he ordered the FBI to investigate because of "the critical nature of the charges."

Man Receives Jail Sentence In West Monroe

One case involving theft by check was handled by Judge John F. McCormick in West Monroe City Court Friday.

Melvin Free, 23, of Rt. 1, Box 171, Port Allen, was sentenced to six months in jail for the offense.

Sylvia Mack, 36, of South Herman Street, West Monroe, was fined $500 for aggravated battery. Henry E. Ervin, 36, also of South Herman Street, was found not guilty of charges of displaying a dangerous weapon.

In other action, Louie D. Doughtie, 41, 109 Francis St., Rayville, was fined $300 for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages. Doughtie was also fined $25 for reckless driving.

Those fined for reckless driving were Robert S. Collins, 24, 1039 Park Ave., Monroe, $10; George A. Waggoner, 40, Rt. 2, Eros, $25; Madeline Kelly, 52, Old Sterlington Road, Monroe, $20; Ben Crawford, 42, 207 Parent St., $20; Tommy D. Elmore, 21, 619 Wilson St., Monroe, $25, and leaving scene of accident, $50; Collie C. Stegall, Rt. 4, Box 504, $25; Verlyn Roskan, 34, 615 Lakeshore Dr., $25; Norvelle Taylor, 20, 300 S. 22nd St., $25; Walter Willis Jr., 18, 1903 Cypress St., $20; Alexandria Harper, 37, 2012 Conover St., Monroe, $25.

Fined for speeding were Charles C. Smith, 25, 439 Felder Ave., Montgomery, Ala., $20; Lloyd C. Smith, 35, Gloria Street, Jackson, Miss., $15; William C. Hill, 34, 604 N. 4th St., $15.

Other cases were for minor violations.

'American Day' Choir Program Set For May 1

The second annual "I Am an American Day" observance will be held here Friday with the Northeast Louisiana State College Choir, under the direction of Davis Bingham, presenting a program of American music.

Entitled "Parade of American Music," the 60-voice collegiate chorus will appear at Neville High School auditorium at 8:15 p.m. The public is invited. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

"This colorful presentation will include music for Americans of all ages," Bingham said. The program will be composed of folksongs, spirituals, pop tunes, music from Broadway, a sacred cantata and patriotic numbers.

A male chorus will repeat the Randall Thompson "Testament of Freedom," which proved to be so popular at the first such patriotic observance last year.

Bingham is the originator, producer and coordinator for the event. Sponsors include the College's Student Government Association and Chambers of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe.

Serving as master of ceremonies will be Garland Shell, local advertising executive. The Order of the Arrow, Boy Scouts of America, is providing ushers. Other Scout groups are cooperating in publicizing the event.

Crew Clearing Banks Of River In West Monroe

Work had been started Friday over the Ouachita River levee at Lazarre Street on the site of a future river picnic area in West Monroe.

Three bulldozers of the Tensas Basin Levee Board and a crew of workmen are assisting in the clearance of undergrowth along the bank.

The levee board has undertaken the project in cooperation with the civic improvement committee of the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce.

Board workers also will clear the river's west bank from the I-20 bridge to just north of the Highway 80 traffic bridge.

The city park, when completed, will front approximately 600 to 700 feet on the river.

City crews will complete levelling and seed the area with grass. Picnic facilities will be added by the city recreation committee as finances permit, officials report.

Civic Improvement Chairman A. L. DeLoach, also a West Monroe alderman, had praise Friday for the levee board. The board and Mr. Seymour (Ed Seymour, Monroe member of the Tensas Basin Levee District) are to be congratulated for this effort," he said.

"The park will be a valuable asset to the city's recreation facilities."

Scientist Describes Martian Life Forms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any possible life on Mars is probably a layer of vegetation thinner than tissue paper—about .00039 of an inch thick—and difficult to recognize as life.

This was suggested Friday by a space scientist, Dr. G. P. Kuiper of the University of Arizona, who said he feels there is primitive life on Mars, possibly in the form of lichens, algae and viruses.

He ruled out any higher forms, but said that in ages past the red planet may have had atmospheric and other conditions that could have supported more advanced forms of plant life.

"I think," he told newsmen, "that Mars has seen better days."

Kuiper said the primitive vegetation he thinks may exist on Mars would have built-in pigments to protect it from strong solar ultraviolet radiation. The pigments' protective action would be analagous to that of suntan lotion.

Kuiper, a veteran astronomer, gave his views at a news conference following a symposium on "The Martian Atmosphere" at the annual meeting of the American Geophysical Union.

He said it might well take another 50 years to settle whether there is life on Mars—even with "fly-bys" of the planet by unmanned spacecraft such as one planned tentatively for later this year. He indicated, though, that a manned landing that would include a biologist might do so before the 50-year period ends.

Key to his view that any vegetative life on Mars would be only an extremely thin layer was the finding, reported at the same meeting, that the Martian atmosphere contains only tiny amounts of water vapor.

Dr. Hyron Spinrad of the University of California at Berkeley who reported this, said high resolution spectral analysis of light coming from Mars indicates the atmospheric water vapor is so sparse that if all of it were collected on the planet's surface it would be only 10 to 20 microns deep. A micron is .000039 inches.

Spinrad also said there is no evidence of chlorophyl, the pigment that imparts green color to earth plants.

Kuiper said other factors ruling out higher forms of plant life include:

—Night temperatures ranging down to some 135 degrees below zero — temperatures he said "would crack the cells of higher forms of plant life.

3 Local Girls To Compete In BTU Contests

Three local girls will participate in final contests next weekend at the Louisiana Baptist Training Union convention in Alexandria.

The convention is used as a leadership training meeting and features key Southern Baptist personalities as conference personnel. The program begins at 9:30 a.m. Friday May 1 and is concluded with an afternoon session Saturday, May 2. The girls include Miss Charlotte Faye Wiggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Wiggins, Monroe; Miss Dianne Balfour daughter of Mrs. H. B. Balfour Jr., West Monroe; and Miss Luna Livingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Livingston, Monroe. Miss Balfour will compete in the Speaker's tournament, Miss Livingston in the Regular Speaker's tournament, and Miss Wiggins, in the Intermediate Sword Drill.

Winners of the competition in the speakers tournaments will represent Louisiana in Southern Baptist Youth conferences at Ridgecrest, North Carolina and Glorrieta, N.M., during the summer.

Featured speaker at the two-day convention will be Dr. W. C. Fields, public relations secretary for the Southern Baptist convention and editor of the Baptist program.

Installation Set By High 12 Club

New officers of the West Monroe High Twelve Club will be installed at 7:30 p.m. today at the Highland Park Country Club by Bob Clynch, of Baton Rouge, second vice president of the United States High Twelve Club.

Officers to be installed are Jeff Caldwell, president; Dr. Scott Strickland, vice president; V. J. Pleasant, secretary; and Luther O. Yeager, treasurer.

Also attending will be dignitaries from Monroe and Shreveport.

300 To Attend K.C. Convention Opening Today

More than 300 delegates and their wives are expected here today for the seventh biennial convention of the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, Louisiana District Two.

The two-day meeting will get underway with registration at 11 a.m. today in the Frances Hotel Lobby. A business session is set for 2:30 p.m. in the Frances Hotel Gold Room for the delegates while their wives are being entertained at the same time in the hotel lobby.

A reception is slated for 6:30 p.m. in the Monroe Council 1337 Home on Oliver Road where the delegation will receive official welcomes to the city by Monroe Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard at 7 p.m. Response to the welcome will be made by Master of Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, Louisiana District Two, Charles C. Jaubert, K.S.G. of Lake Charles. A buffet supper will be served from 7:30 p.m. - 9 p.m. followed by dancing and entertainment.

Sunday activities will start at 7:30 a.m. when the entire group will assemble at the hotel in official dress to parade to church. A Pontifical Low Mass will be said at 8 a.m. in St. Matthews Church. Most Rev. Charles P. Greco, D.C. Bishop of Alexandria, State and Supreme Council Chaplain, will be the celebrant.

Another business meeting will be held in the Gold Room at 10:30 a.m., lasting until 12-noon when a banquet is slated on the Hotel Roof. The convention will adjourn following the noon-banquet.

Local College Geology Group To Leave Today

Prof. Marcus Mapp and 10 Northeast State College geology majors were scheduled to leave here early this morning for a two-day field trip to Mississippi and Alabama.

In the group are two graduate students, Edward Hopper of Monroe and Rosemary White of West Monroe, and eight undergraduates: George Nichols, Mac Ward, Karen Bauer and Ellen Mahr, all of Monroe; Evans McIntyre, of Bastrop; Kenneth Holoway, of Leesville; Larry Baria, of Alexandria, and Ed Giessler, of New Orleans.

The Northeast State geologists will study rock formations along a line from Vicksburg to York, Ala. "This area provides almost a complete section of rocks," Professor Mapp said.

Last semester Dr. Frank Welder conducted a field trip south along the Louisiana and Texas coasts and into central Texas.

Neville Cadet Band To Play Park Concert

The second in a series of concerts Sunday afternoon in Forsythe Park will feature the Neville High School Cadet band under the direction of Herbert Gathright.

The concerts, highlighting a different band each Sunday, begin at 2 p.m. and no admission is charged. The series, which will continue through May 24, are being sponsored by the Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Sunday's program will include "Night and Day," a selection of marches, a clarinet feature number "Waltzing Clarinets" and overtures. The band has played at the "Four States Band Masters Convention" in Texarkana, Tex., presented a winter concert in February and is now planning to attend the state band festival in Lafayette this year.

Fleeing Nazi Flies Into Switzerland

BASEL, Switzerland (UPI) — An escaped Nazi war criminal fled to Switzerland in a borrowed plane with his beautiful woman friend, authorities disclosed Friday. There were reports he was aided by a Nazi underground movement.

The German war criminal was Hans Walter Zech-Nenntwich, 47, who was convicted Monday of helping kill 5,200 Jews in wartime Russia. He broke out of a maximum security jail at Braunschweig with the aid of an old Hitlerite comrade and flew here with Margrit (Little Angel) Steinheuer, 32.

The pilot, a part-time electrical engineer named Hans Altendietering, said the bull-necked Zech-Nenntwich and the woman "laughed and seemed in fine spirits" and showed no signs of nervousness. The field did not know the identity of the couple.

Zech-Nenntwich is believed to have large funds in Switzerland.

Basel chief prosecutor Walter Burkhard told newsmen Zech-Nenntwich arrived at the Basel airport on a flight from Nordhorn, Germany, and then went by taxi to the suburban Muehlhausen train station and took a train into interior Switzerland.

Authorities said Zech-Nenntwich will be arrested on sight any where in Switzerland and probably extradited to West Germany.

In Frankfurt, Hesse deputy state prosecutor Ulrich Kruelger told UPI that West German prosecutors are "working on the assumption some kind of Nazi underground exists" to aid hunted war criminals cheat justice.

He said Zech-Nenntwich's escape from Braunschweig Wednesday night may be the latest work of the group.

Krueger is deputy to Hesse chief prosecutor Fritz Bauer who voiced suspicions of a conspiracy to cheat justice earlier this year. He said there was clear proof several accused war criminals could not have escaped West German courts without the aid of "experienced, organized assistance from a group operating clandestinely."

Krueger said the Nazi underground obviously must provide the cash, false identity papers, hideouts and transportation that have enabled hunged Nazis to flee the country and find refuge in Spain and several countries of South America and Africa.

Zech-Nenntwich is the first ex-Nazi to get away after a war crimes court had sentenced him. He was serving a four-year term for the mass murder of Polish Jews. A guard who had served with him under Adolf Hitler permitted him to escape.

SCHOOL MIX TROUBLE

Chester Officials Renew Efforts To End Racial Strife

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—School officials went to court Friday in a renewed effort to end the racial strife that has plagued the city for nearly a year.

They asked the Delaware County Court for an injunction against further civil rights demonstrations when the public schools reopen the first of next week. A hearing probably will be held Monday morning.

This development came as civil rights spokesmen, who have led demonstrations for the past month against what they call de facto segregation in schools, repeated statements that they would force another closing of the schools if the Board of Education reopens them.

Officials, who had closed the 18 public schools Wednesday in fear for the safety of pupils, said they will reopen them Monday and Tuesday.

John J. Vaul, assistant superintendent of schools, said the board will carry out its plans despite the civil rights threat.

Mrs. Francis P. Donahoo, president of the board, says one school will be reopened Monday, and more on Tuesday if there are no incidents.

Frank Brooks, treasurer of the Chester Committee for Freedom now, said at a rally Thursday night, "We're going to close 'em up again."

The FBI has been ordered to investigate alleged brutality by Chester police, in the arrest of two reporters of the Philadelphia Bulletin, and the beating of one of them.

One reporter was arrested and avowedly beaten while covering demonstrations Wednesday night. In all, 216 persons were arrested then.

Reporter Timothy Tyler was charged with assaulting a policeman. Thursday, reporter William W. Lawrence was detained about 90 minutes when he went to a Chester police station, but he was released without charges.

Both newsmen are white.

The Philadelphia Press Association and Robert McLean, board chairman of the Bulletin, sent telegrams of protest to Chester Mayor James H. Gorbey. McLean also sent a copy of his protest to U.S. Atty. Drew J. T. O'Keefe in Philadelphia.

McLean, in his telegram, said: "After Mr. Tyler had identified himself to police, he was attacked with blackjacks and nightsticks by five or more police officers without provocation. His only actions were taken in self-defense to protect himself from Brutal manhandling."

McLean also protested "the illegal and improper arrest" of Lawrence "upon his arrival at the police station to inquire into the condition and whereabouts of Mr. Tyler."

He asked Mayor Gorbey to investigate and take steps to protect reporters. Gorbey said he would do so.

O'Keefe said he ordered the FBI to investigate because of "the critical nature of the charges."

'American Day' Choir Program Set For May 1

The second annual "I Am an American Day" observance will be held here Friday with the Northeast Louisiana State College Choir, under the direction of Davis Bingham, presenting a program of American music.

Entitled "Parade of American Music," the 60-voice collegiate chorus will appear at Neville High School auditorium at 8:15 p.m. The public is invited. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

"This colorful presentation will include music for Americans of all ages," Bingham said. The program will be composed of folksongs, spirituals, pop tunes, music from Broadway, a sacred cantata and patriotic numbers.

A male chorus will repeat the Randall Thompson "Testament of Freedom," which proved to be so popular at the first such patriotic observance last year.

Bingham is the originator, producer and coordinator for the event. Sponsors include the College's Student Government Association and Chambers of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe.

Serving as master of ceremonies will be Garland Shell, local advertising executive. The Order of the Arrow, Boy Scouts of America, is providing ushers. Other Scout groups are cooperating in publicizing the event.

Crew Clearing Banks Of River In West Monroe

Work had been started Friday over the Ouachita River levee at Lazarre Street on the site of a future river picnic area in West Monroe.

Three bulldozers of the Tensas Basin Levee Board and a crew of workmen are assisting in the clearance of undergrowth along the bank.

The levee board has undertaken the project in cooperation with the civic improvement committee of the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce.

Board workers also will clear the river's west bank from the I-20 bridge to just north of the Highway 80 traffic bridge.

The city park, when completed, will front approximately 600 to 700 feet on the river.

City crews will complete levelling and seed the area with grass. Picnic facilities will be added by the city recreation committee as finances permit, officials report.

Civic Improvement Chairman A. L. DeLoach, also a West Monroe alderman, had praise Friday for the levee board. The board and Mr. Seymour (Ed Seymour, Monroe member of the Tensas Basin Levee District) are to be congratulated for this effort," he said.

"The park will be a valuable asset to the city's recreation facilities."

Man Receives Jail Sentence In West Monroe

One case involving theft by check was handled by Judge John F. McCormick in West Monroe City Court Friday.

Melvin Free, 23, of Rt. 1, Box 171, Port Allen, was sentenced to six months in jail for the offense.

Sylvia Mack, 36, of South Herman Street, West Monroe, was fined $500 for aggravated battery. Henry E. Ervin, 36, also of South Herman Street, was found not guilty of charges of displaying a dangerous weapon.

In other action, Louie D. Doughtie, 41, 109 Francis St., Rayville, was fined $300 for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages. Doughtie was also fined $25 for reckless driving.

Those fined for reckless driving were Robert S. Collins, 24, 1039 Park Ave., Monroe, $10; George A. Waggoner, 40, Rt. 2, Eros, $25; Madeline Kelly, 52, Old Sterlington Road, Monroe, $20; Ben Crawford, 42, 207 Parent St., $20; Tommy D. Elmore, 21, 619 Wilson St., Monroe, $25, and leaving scene of accident, $50; Collie C. Stegall, Rt. 4, Box 504, $25; Verlyn Roskan, 34, 615 Lakeshore Dr., $25; Norvelle Taylor, 20, 300 S. 22nd St., $25; Walter Willis Jr., 18, 1903 Cypress St., $20; Alexandria Harper, 37, 2012 Conover St., Monroe, $25.

Fined for speeding were Charles C. Smith, 25, 439 Felder Ave., Montgomery, Ala., $20; Lloyd C. Smith, 35, Gloria Street, Jackson, Miss., $15; William C. Hill, 34, 604 N. 4th St., $15.

Other cases were for minor violations.

BUTLER TO CENTO

LONDON (UPI) — Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler will lead the British delegation to the Ministerial Conference of the (CENTO) in Washington next week, the Foreign Office announced Friday.

He will be accompanied by ranking officials of the Foreign Office, Chief of Defense Staff Earl Mountbatten, Ambassador to Ankara Sir Denis Allen and Air Marshal Sir Leslie Bavel, the permanent military deputy to NATO.

Scientist Describes Martian Life Forms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any possible life on Mars is probably a layer of vegetation thinner than tissue paper—about .00039 of an inch thick—and difficult to recognize as life.

This was suggested Friday by a space scientist, Dr. G. P. Kuiper of the University of Arizona, who said he feels there is primitive life on Mars, possibly in the form of lichens, algae and viruses.

He ruled out any higher forms, but said that in ages past the red planet may have had atmospheric and other conditions that could have supported more advanced forms of plant life.

"I think," he told newsmen, "that Mars has seen better days."

Kuiper said the primitive vegetation he thinks may exist on Mars would have built-in pigments to protect it from strong solar ultraviolet radiation. The pigments' protective action would be analagous to that of suntan lotion.

Kuiper, a veteran astronomer, gave his views at a news conference following a symposium on "The Martian Atmosphere" at the annual meeting of the American Geophysical Union.

He said it might well take another 50 years to settle whether there is life on Mars—even with "fly-bys" of the planet by unmanned spacecraft such as one planned tentatively for later this year. He indicated, though, that a manned landing that would include a biologist might do so before the 50-year period ends.

Key to his view that any vegetative life on Mars would be only an extremely thin layer was the finding, reported at the same meeting, that the Martian atmosphere contains only tiny amounts of water vapor.

Dr. Hyron Spinrad of the University of California at Berkeley who reported this, said high resolution spectral analysis of light coming from Mars indicates the atmospheric water vapor is so sparse that if all of it were collected on the planet's surface it would be only 10 to 20 microns deep. A micron is .000039 inches.

Spinrad said there is no evidence of chlorophyll, the pigment that imparts green color to earth plants.

Kuiper said other factors ruling out higher forms of plant life include:

—Night temperatures ranging down to some 135 degrees below zero — temperatures he said "would crack the cells of higher forms of plant life.

3 Local Girls To Compete In BTU Contests

Three local girls will participate in final contests next weekend at the Louisiana Baptist Training Union convention in Alexandria.

The convention is used as a leadership training meeting and features key Southern Baptist personalities as conference personnel. The program begins at 9:30 a.m. Friday May 1 and is concluded with an afternoon session Saturday, May 2. The girls include Miss Charlotte Faye Wiggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Wiggins, Monroe; Miss Dianne Balfour daughter of Mrs. H. B. Balfour Jr., West Monroe; and Miss Luna Livingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Livingston, Monroe. Miss Balfour will compete in the Speaker's tournament, Miss Livingston in the Regular Speaker's tournament, and Miss Wiggins, in the Intermediate Sword Drill.

The Sword drill is a demonstration of skill in locating specific references in the Bible and of the participants ability to match his knowledge of biblical facts with specific references. Each of the girls is one of seven state finalists in their respective divisions.

Winners of the competition in the speakers tournaments will represent Louisiana in Southern Baptist Youth conferences at Ridgecrest, North Carolina and Glorrieta, N.M., during the summer.

Featured speaker at the two-day convention will be Dr. W. C. Fields, public relations secretary for the Southern Baptist convention and editor of the Baptist program.

Installation Set By High 12 Club

New officers of the West Monroe High Twelve Club will be installed at 7:30 p.m. today at the Highland Park Country Club by Bob Clynch, of Baton Rouge, second vice president of the United States High Twelve Club.

Officers to be installed are Jeff Caldwell, president; Dr. Scott Strickland, vice president; V. J. Pleasant, secretary; and Luther O. Yeager, treasurer.

Also attending will be dignitaries from Monroe and Shreveport.

300 To Attend K.C. Convention Opening Today

More than 300 delegates and their wives are expected here today for the seventh biennial convention of the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, Louisiana District Two.

The two-day meeting will get underway with registration at 11 a.m. today in the Frances Hotel Lobby. A business session is set for 2:30 p.m. in the Frances Hotel Gold Room for the delegates while their wives are being entertained at the same time in the hotel lobby.

A reception is slated for 6:30 p.m. in the Monroe Council 1337 Home on Oliver Road where the delegation will receive official welcomes to the city by Monroe Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard at 7 p.m. Response to the welcome will be made by Master of Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, Louisiana District Two, Charles C. Jaubert, K.S.G. of Lake Charles. A buffet supper will be served from 7:30 p.m. - 9 p.m. followed by dancing and entertainment.

Sunday activities will start at 7:30 a.m. when the entire group will assemble at the hotel in official dress to parade to church. A Pontifical Low Mass will be said at 8 a.m. in St. Matthews Church. Most Rev. Charles P. Greco, D.C. Bishop of Alexandria, State and Supreme Council Chaplain, will be the celebrant.

Another business meeting will be held in the Gold Room at 10:30 a.m., lasting until 12-noon when a banquet is slated on the Hotel Roof. The convention will adjourn following the noon-banquet.

Local College Geology Group To Leave Today

Prof. Marcus Mapp and 10 Northeast State College geology majors were scheduled to leave here early this morning for a two-day field trip to Mississippi and Alabama.

In the group are two graduate students, Edward Hopper of Monroe and Rosemary White of West Monroe, and eight undergraduates: George Nichols, Mac Ward, Karen Bauer and Ellen Mahr, all of Monroe; Evans McIntyre, of Bastrop; Kenneth Holoway, of Leesville; Larry Baria, of Alexandria, and Ed Giessler, of New Orleans.

The Northeast State geologists will study rock formations along a line from Vicksburg to York, Ala. "This area provides almost a complete section of rocks," Professor Mapp said.

Last semester Dr. Frank Welder conducted a field trip south along the Louisiana and Texas coasts and into central Texas.

Neville Cadet Band To Play Park Concert

The second in a series of concerts Sunday afternoon in Forsythe Park will feature the Neville High School Cadet band under the direction of Herbert Gathright.

The concerts, highlighting a different band each Sunday, begin at 2 p.m. and no admission is charged. The series, which will continue through May 24, are being sponsored by the Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Sunday's program will include "Night and Day," a selection of marches, a clarinet feature number "Waltzing Clarinets" and overtures. The band has played at the "Four States Band Masters Convention" in Texarkana, Tex., presented a winter concert in February and is now planning to attend the state band festival in Lafayette this year.

Marilynn Smith Sears Way To Titleholders Play Lead

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Defending champion Marilynn Smith of Runaway Bay, Jamaica, blistered the Augusta Country Club course with a six-under-par 66 Friday, setting three tournament records and taking the second round lead of the Titleholders Golf Tournament by four strokes.

The 66 was the lowest 18-hole round ever recorded in the tournament. Her 36-hole total of 139 smashed the record by four strokes and her 31 on the incoming nine beat that record by two strokes.

In second place at 143 was Judy Kimball of Sioux City, Iowa. She had a par 72.

The second lowest round of the day was a 69 by Clifford Ann Creed of Alexandria, La., which tied her with tournament favorite Mickey Wright of Dallas, Tex., and Joann Prentice of Birmingham, Ala. at 144. Miss Wright fired a two-under-par 70. Miss Prentice matched par.

First round leader Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill. slumped to a 76 and fell six strokes off the pace at 145.

"This is the best round I ever shot," said a jubilant Miss Smith.

Braves Whip Dodgers 6-3 On Key Hits

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ed Bailey's two-run homer and a two-run double by Lee Maye were the key hits as Milwaukee whipped Los Angeles 6-3 Friday night and handed the staggering Dodgers their eighth loss in 10 games this season.

The victory wiped out a Milwaukee protest lodged by Manager Bobby Bragan after the second inning. Bragan contended that Los Angeles shortstop Maury Wills was out of uniform because he wore a windbreaker under his uniform and sweatshirt.

The victory went to Hank Fischer, who won his second game with an eight-hitter. Fischer won only four games all of last season.

Cards Sneak By Houston

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals scored in the 11th inning on Dick Groat's double and a pinch hit single by Phil Gagliano, edging the Houston Colts 3-2 Friday night.

Groat opened the 11th with a double to left, but Bill White struck out. Ken Boyer then was intentionally walked by reliever Hal Woodeshick, but Gagliano crossed up the strategy by smacking a single to center.

The Cardinals had tied the score in the ninth when White led off with a single and Boyer doubled him to third. Woodeshick relieved Don Nottebart and gave up a run-producing single by Charley James before getting the side out.

The Colts had taken a 2-1 lead in the sixth inning when Cardinal right fielder Johnny Lewis fell and Bob Aspromonte's fly dropped in for a run-scoring double.

The Cardinals scored their first run in the second inning on a single by James, Tim McCarver's double and a sacrifice fly by Lewis. Walt Bond's first National League homer, in the fourth inning, gave Houston a tie.

Penn Relays Field Finals Finish Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Durable distance ace Vic Zwolak anchored Villanova to victories Friday in the only two relay finals—the four-mile and distance medleys—in the 70th Penn Relays.

Individual champions crowned in this first of two days of competition were Ernie Soundek of Michigan, with a 175-3 toss in the discus; Norman Tate of North Carolina College, 24-11 in the broad jump; Olney Croasdale of Harvard, with a 179-10 hammer throw, and Vin MCardle of Manhattan, 51.5 in the 400-meter hurdles.

Other finals are scheduled today, with Villanova the team to beat in the vast field of more than 5,000 athlets.

In addition to the relays proper, former Yale captain Jay Luck, now running for the New Haven Track Club, set a carnival record 51.2 in the Olympic development 400-meter hurdles.

The event is one of 15 special events on the program for athletes attempting to win a spot on the team that will represent the United States in Tokyo this fall.

Zwolak, the NCAA and IC4A cross country champion, ran the anchor mile on each of the winning Wildcat relay teamsm His 4:07.3 anchor propelled Villanova to a 16:50.7 four-mile relay.

His 4:13.7 effort two hours later held off a gallant try by Georgetown in 9:55.8. Georgetown was timed in 9:58.4. La-Salle, running in the second of three sections with the winner determined by time, took third place with a time of 10:02.6.

Tommy Sullivan, who ran the third leg on both winners, was the key to the distance medley decision. He increased the Villanova lead from three yards to about 25 on his 3:03.1 three-quarter of a mile. Zwolak then held off Georgetown's Joe Lynch.

In the four-mile, Zwolak pulled away from a two-yard lead over Seton Hall to about 40 yards and won it going away. Defending champion Fordham was a distant third, another 60 yards back.

Two other returning champions were shorn of their crowns. Bob Moreland of Michigan State failed to qualify for today's finals in the 100-yard dash and John Bakkensen of Harvard in the discus.

Moreland ran fifth in his qualifying heat, won by Odell Barry of Findlay in 9.9. Bakkensen's discus throw of 166-10 was second to Soudek's winning effort of 175-3.

Probably one of the most outstanding individual shows, was Wendell Mottley's brilliant 46.9 quarter-mile that anchored Yale to a 3:17 victory in the Heptagonal Games Association mile relay.

Broad jump college championship — 1, Norman Tate, North Carolina College, 24-11. 2, Clifton Mayfield, Connecticut Central State, 24-7¼. 3, Jerrold Negin, Navy, 23-10¾. 4, Henry Keller, Boston College, 23-10¼. 5, Fred Moore, Maryland State, 23-7¾. 6, Chris Ohiri, Harvard, 23-5¾.

100-yard dash qualifiers—Edwin Roberts, North Carolina College; Dori Reid, Michigan; Odell Barry, Findlay; Bob Mattis, Manhattan; John Owens, Penn; Sam Amukun, Colgate. Best time: Roberts, 9.7.

Discus championship — 1, Ernie Soudek, Michigan, 175-3. 2; John Bakkensen, Harvard, 166-10. 3, Robert Steigerwald, Manhattan, 163-11½. 4, James Zafferano, Temple, 163-5. 5, Dick Jackson, Southern Univ. 160-9.

880 relay qualifiers — Morgan State; Southern University, La.; Villanova; North Carolina College; Central State, Conn.; Michigan State. Best Time: Morgan State, 1:26.1.

440 relay qualifiers — Southern, Baton Rouge; North Carolina College; Michigan State; Morgan State; Central State, Conn.; Maryland State. Best time—Southern 41.5.

4-mile relay — 1, Villanova (Dave Hyland, 4:14.6; Jim Orr, 4:16.3; Tom Sullivan, 4:12.5; Vic Zwolak, 4:07.3) 16:50.7. 2, Seton Hall, 16:59.4. 3, Fordham, 17:08.3. 4, Georgetown, 17:22.3. 5, Michigan State, 17:24.2m

Split Singles

MANILA (AP)—India and the Philippines split their opening singles matches Friday in the Eastern Zone finals of the Davis Cup tennis competition.

Jaidip Mukerjea gave India the lead by overpowering Johnny Jose 7-5, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

But 44-year-old Felicisimo Ampon pushed The Philippines back into contention by knocking off Premjit Lall 6-0, 6-3, 7-5.

AT RUSTON TODAY

Neville Favored In 2-AA Events

Neville's Tigers, flying the favorite's flag, journey to Ruston today for the District 2-AA track meet against Jonesboro, Haynesville, Winnfield and host Ruston.

The top two finishers in each event will qualify for the regional double-A meet at Pineville May 1.

The Bengals figure to qualify in 14 of the 17 events missing out only in the 880 run, the shot put and discus.

No loop foe has been able to catch the fleet Tiger relay units this year as the 440 crew has posted a 43.9 clocking, the 880 foursome a 1:31.1 time and the mile quartet a 3:28.7 mark.

Jonesboro and Ruston have waged a close battle all spring for the second spot in the baton events with the Bearcats having an edge so far in the 440 and mile distances and Jonesboro on top at the 880 length.

If Jonesboro coach Bobby Stone makes a contemplated change in his mile relay team the Tigers could be the meet dark horse in that event. Stone may scratch star sprinter Johnny Garlington from the 220 dash and use him as mile relay anchor man.

With Garlington out of the 220 the field should be wide open for a Neville sweep with speedsters Gary Pappas and Gary Holt. Pappas is already favored in the 100 yard dash and the long jump.

Ruston's Mike Edmonds is considered unbeatable in the high jump where he has posted a 6-0 mark this year. He may also push Neville's favored Bill Langston in the javelin.

The distance contests appear to belong to a pair of Haynesville runners. Butch Maddox has a 2:02.7 clocking in the 880 run and teams with Travis Bouldree in the mile to give the Tornado strength in the four lap event. Don West of Neville could beat Bouldree in the mile however and may be a sure second in the race as Maddox may not run due to a muscle pull.

Billy Patterson of Ruston has the best hurdle times in the district this season with Neville's J. Dodd Brooks running a close second.

Another probable Tiger point getter is Doug Cookston in the pole vault. He has consistently leaped 12 feet this year and took first place in the Neville Relays at that height. His major competition should come from teammate David Trousdale and Haynesville's Tom Miller.

Aubrey Futrell of Jonesboro is the top contender in the weights having scored wins over district opponents in both the shot put and the discus.

The meet will be at the Ruston High track and will get under way with the field events at 5:30 p.m. The running contests start at 6:30.

Willie's Wallop Clinches Score For Giants, 15-5

CINCINNATI (AP) — Willie Mays hit his seventh home run and singled twice, driving in two runs and scoring five, as San Francisco trounced Cincinnati 15-5 Friday night with an 18-hit attack.

Mays, who also walked twice in his perfect night at the plate, increased his batting average to .500. His homer, a solo blast, came in the fourth inning.

Willie McCovey got the Giants off to a fast start, smashing his fifth home run in the first inning with Mays aboard. Mays had walked and stolen second.

Juan Marichal, the Giants' ace right-hander, won his second game against no defeats despite giving the Reds' 13 hits. Marichal struck out 13 batters, the season high for the major leagues. He walked two men.

The Giants drove starter John Tsitouris from the mound with a seven-run outburst in the second. They scored on six singles.

Harvey Kuenn got two singles and drove in three runs for the Giants. His hit in the sixth was his first in 21 times at bat.

Duo Deadlock For 1st Place

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The lead in the $40,000 Texas Open golf tournament continued in a tie Friday but it was reduced by eight, leaving Gene Littler and Terry Dill on top with 134 for 36 holes.

Each shot a three-under-par 67 the same as Thursday and Littler, the former National Open champion from La Jolla, Calif., and Dill, the talkative Texan from Muleshoe, will boast a one-stroke lead going into the third round Saturday.

Jerry Steelsmith, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Bob Charles, Don January, Jack Rule Jr., Gary Floan, Bob Rosburg and Charles Sifford dropped out of a tie for first, thus dissolving the biggest one round jam around the top in tournament history.

Steelsmith had a par 70 Friday, Harrison had a 69, Charles the same, January a 71, Rule a 72, Sifford 70, Floan 73 and Rosburg 73.

Dan Sikes of Ponte a Beach, Fla., eased into the runner-up spot at 135 when he shot a 66—one of five such rounds over the 6,715-yard Oak Hills County Club course.

The low round of the day, however, was fired oy Moon Mullins of Indio, Calif., who laid down an eagle-aided 65. But he had a 73 in the first round Thursday and still was well down the list.

Doug Sanders, Bert Weaver, Howie Johnson and Chuck Courtney were the other's firing 66s as the course played easier due to the absence of wind.

Benton Is Guest Of Wildlife Club

HEBERT (Special) — Jake Benton of Monroe, past president of the Ouachita Parish Wildlife Unit, and member of the executive board of that group, was the special guest of the Dave's Bayou 57 Club Wildlife Unit when they met Tuesday night at the Woolen Lake Community Center.

Benton discussed activities of the Ouachita Unit and congratulated the 57 Club by saying that Richland Parish has the least number of game violations in the area, particularly night hunting of deer. He said that this was due to the efficiency of the enforcement division of wildlife agents and the close cooperation of the 57 Club.

Bench Will Be Lonely; Just Ten On This Squad

BRADDOCK, N.D. (AP)—The bench will be a lonely place when Braddock High School plays baseball this spring — there are just 10 men on the team.

Said Coach Richard Ulrich: "The younger players will have to come through exceptionally well if we are to have a winning season."

Vic Zwolak Anchors Two Villanova Wins

Penn Relays Field Finals Finish Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Durable distance ace Vic Zwolak anchored Villanova to victories Friday in the only two relay finals—the four-mile and distance medleys—in the 70th Penn Relays.

Individual champions crowned in this first of two days of competition were Ernie Soundek of Michigan, with a 175-3 toss in the discus; Norman Tate of North Carolina College, 24-11 in the broad jump; Olney Croasdale of Harvard, with a 179-10 hammer throw, and Vin MCardle of Manhattan, 51.5 in the 400-meter hurdles.

Other finals are scheduled today, with Villanova the team to beat in the vast field of more than 5,000 athlets.

In addition to the relays proper, former Yale captain Jay Luck, now running for the New Haven Track Club, set a carnival record 51.2 in the Olympic development 400-meter hurdles.

The event is one of 15 special events on the program for athletes attempting to win a spot on the team that will represent the United States in Tokyo this fall.

Zwolak, the NCAA and IC4A cross country champion, ran the anchor mile on each of the winning Wildcat relay teamsm His 4:07.3 anchor propelled Villanova to a 16:50.7 four-mile relay.

His 4:13.7 effort two hours later held off a gallant try by Georgetown in 9:55.8. Georgetown was timed in 9:58.4. LaSalle, running in the second of three sections with the winner determined by time, took third place with a time of 10:02.6.

Tommy Sullivan, who ran the third leg on both winners, was the key to the distance medley decision. He increased the Villanova lead from three yards to about 25 on his 3:03.1 three-quarter of a mile. Zwolak then held off Georgetown's Joe Lynch.

In the four-mile, Zwolak pulled away from a two-yard lead over Seton Hall to about 40 yards and won it going away. Defending champion Fordham was a distant third, another 60 yards back.

Two other returning champions were shorn of their crowns. Bob Moreland of Michigan State failed to qualify for today's finals in the 100-yard dash and John Bakkensen of Harvard in the discus.

Moreland ran fifth in his qualifying heat, won by Odell Barry of Findlay in 9.9. Bakkensen's discus throw of 166-10 was second to Soudek's winning effort of 175-3.

Probably one of the most outstanding individual shows, was Wendell Mottley's brilliant 46.9 quarter-mile that anchored Yale to a 3:17 victory in the Heptagonal Games Association mile relay.

Broad jump college championship — 1, Norman Tate, North Carolina College, 24-11. 2, Clifton Mayfield, Connecticut Central State, 24-7¼. 3, Jerrold Negin, Navy, 23-10¾. 4, Henry Keller, Boston College, 23-10¼. 5, Fred Moore, Maryland State, 23-7¾. 6, Chris Ohiri, Harvard, 23-5¾.

100-yard dash qualifiers—Edwin Roberts, North Carolina College; Dori Reid, Michigan; Odell Barry, Findlay; Bob Mattis, Manhattan; John Owens, Penn; Sam Amukun, Colgate. Best time: Roberts, 9.7.

Discus championship — 1, Ernie Soudek, Michigan, 175-3. 2, John Bakkensen, Harvard, 166-10. 3, Robert Steigerwald, Manhattan, 163-11½. 4, James Zafferano, Temple, 163-5. 5, Dick Jackson, Southern Univ. 160-9.

Hammer throw championship—1, Olney Crosadale, Harvard, 179-10. 2, Thomas Gage, Cornell, 179. 3, Robert Mead, Manhattan, 176 4½. 4, John Connors, Manhattan, 174 9½. 5, Warren Sumoski, Connecticut, 168 11½.

Distance medley — 1, Villanova (Noel Carrol, 1:50.3; Al Adams, 48.7; Jim Sullivan, 3:03.1; Vic Zwolak, 4:13.7) 9:55.8. 2, Georgeotwn, 9:58.4. 3, LaSalle, 10:02.6. 4, Michigan, 10:04.8. 5, Brown, 10:10.4.

440 relay qualifiers — Southern, Baton Rouge; North Carolina College; Michigan State; Morgan State; Central State, Conn.; Maryland State. Best time—Southern 41.5.

4-mile relay — 1, Villanova (Dave Hyland, 4:14.6; Jim Orr, 4:16.3; Tom Sullivan, 4:12.5; Vic Zwolak, 4:07.3) 16:50.7. 2, Seton Hall, 16:59.4. 3, Fordham, 17:08.3. 4, Georgetown, 17:22.3. 5, Michigan State, 17:24.2m

Marilynn Smith Sears Way To Titleholders Play Lead

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Defending champion Marilynn Smith of Runaway Bay, Jamaica, blistered the Augusta Country Club course with a six-under-par 66 Friday, setting three tournament records and taking the second round lead of the Titleholders Golf Tournament by four strokes.

The 66 was the lowest 18-hole round ever recorded in the tournament. Her 36-hole total of 139 smashed the record by four strokes and her 31 on the incoming nine beat that record by two strokes.

In second place at 143 was Judy Kimball of Sioux City, Iowa. She had a par 72.

The second lowest round of the day was a 69 by Clifford Ann Creed of Alexandria, La., which tied her with tournament favorite Mickey Wright of Dallas, Tex., and Joann Prentice of Birmingham, Ala. at 144. Miss Wright fired a two-under-par 70. Miss Prentice matched par.

First round leader Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill. slumped to a 76 and fell six strokes off the pace at 145.

"This is the best round I ever shot," said a jubilant Miss Smith.

Braves Whip Dodgers 6-3 On Key Hits

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ed Bailey's two-run homer and a two-run double by Lee Maye were the key hits as Milwaukee whipped Los Angeles 6-3 Friday night and handed the staggering Dodgers their eighth loss in 10 games this season.

The victory wiped out a Milwaukee protest lodged by Manager Bobby Bragan after the second inning. Bragan contended that Los Angeles shortstop Maury Wills was out of uniform because he wore a windbreaker under his uniform and sweatshirt.

The victory went to Hank Fischer, who won his second game with an eight-hitter. Fischer won only four games all of last season.

Cards Sneak By Houston

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals scored in the 11th inning on Dick Groat's double and a pinch hit single by Phil Gagliano, edging the Houston Colts 3-2 Friday night.

Groat opened the 11th with a double to left, but Bill White struck out. Ken Boyer then was intentionally walked by reliever Hal Woodeshick, but Gagliano crossed up the strategy by smacking a single to center.

The Cardinals had tied the score in the ninth when White led off with a single and Boyer doubled him to third. Woodeshick relieved Don Nottebart and gave up a run-producing single by Charley James before getting the side out.

The Colts had taken a 2-1 lead in the sixth inning when Cardinal right fielder Johnny Lewis fell and Bob Aspromonte's fly dropped in for a run-scoring double.

The Cardinals scored their first run in the second inning on a single by James, Tim McCarver's double and a sacrifice fly by Lewis. Walt Bond's first National League homer, in the fourth inning, gave Houston a tie.

AT RUSTON TODAY

Neville Favored In 2-AA Events

Neville's Tigers, flying the favorite's flag, journey to Ruston today for the District 2-AA track meet against Jonesboro, Haynesville, Winnfield and host Ruston.

The top two finishers in each event will qualify for the regional double-A meet at Pineville May 1.

The Bengals figure to qualify in 14 of the 17 events missing out only in the 880 run, the shot put and discus.

No loop foe has been able to catch the fleet Tiger relay units this year as the 440 crew has posted a 43.9 clocking, the 880 foursome a 1:31.1 time and the mile quartet a 3:28.7 mark.

Jonesboro and Ruston have waged a close battle all spring for the second spot in the baton events with the Bearcats having an edge so far in the 440 and mile distances and Jonesboro on top at the 880 length.

If Jonesboro coach Bobby Stone makes a contemplated change in his mile relay team the Tigers could be the meet dark horse in that event. Stone may scratch star sprinter Johnny Garlington from the 220 dash and use him as mile relay anchor man.

With Garlington out of the 220 the field should be wide open for a Neville sweep with speedsters Gary Pappas and Gary Holt. Pappas is already favored in the 100 yard dash and the long jump.

Ruston's Mike Edmonds is considered unbeatable in the high jump where he has posted a 6-0 mark this year. He may also push Neville's favored Bill Langston in the javelin.

The distance contests appear to belong to a pair of Haynesville runners. Butch Maddox has a 2:02.7 clocking in the 880 run and teams with Travis Bouldree in the mile to give the Tornado strength in the four lap event. Don West of Neville could beat Bouldree in the mile however and may be a sure second in the race as Maddox may not run due to a muscle pull.

Billy Patterson of Ruston has the best hurdle times in the district this season with Neville's J. Dodd Brooks running a close second.

Another probable Tiger point getter is Doug Cookston in the pole vault. He has consistently leaped 12 feet this year and took first place in the Neville Relays at that height. His major competition should come from teammate David Trousdale and Haynesville's Tom Miller.

Aubrey Futrell of Jonesboro is the top contender in the weights having scored wins over district opponents in both the shot put and the discus.

The meet will be at the Ruston High track and will get under way with the field events at 5:30 p.m. The running contests start at 6:30.

Willie's Wallop Clinches Score For Giants, 15-5

CINCINNATI (AP) — Willie Mays hit his seventh home run and singled twice, driving in two runs and scoring five, as San Francisco trounced Cincinnati 15-5 Friday night with an 18-hit attack.

Mays, who also walked twice in his perfect night at the plate, increased his batting average to .500. His homer, a solo blast, came in the fourth inning.

Willie McCovey got the Giants off to a fast start, smashing his fifth home run in the first inning with Mays aboard. Mays had walked and stolen second.

Juan Marichal, the Giants' ace right-hander, won his second game against no defeats despite giving the Reds' 13 hits. Marichal struck out 13 batters, the season high for the major leagues. He walked two men.

The Giants drove starter John Tsitouris from the mound with a seven-run outburst in the second. They scored on six singles.

Harvey Kuenn got two singles and drove in three runs for the Giants. His hit in the sixth was his first in 21 times at bat.

Duo Deadlock For 1st Place

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The lead in the $40,000 Texas Open golf tournament continued in a tie Friday but it was reduced by eight, leaving Gene Littler and Terry Dill on top with 134 for 36 holes.

Each shot a three-under-par 67 the same as Thursday and Littler, the former National Open champion from La Jolla, Calif., and Dill, the talkative Texan from Muleshoe, will boast a one-stroke lead going into the third round Saturday.

Jerry Steelsmith, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Bob Charles, Don January, Jack Rule Jr., Gary Floan, Bob Rosburg and Charles Sifford dropped out of a tie for first, thus dissolving the biggest one round jam around the top in tournament history.

Steelsmith had a par 70 Friday, Harrison had a 69, Charles the same, January a 71, Rule a 72, Sifford 70, Floan 73 and Rosburg 73.

Dan Sikes of Ponte a Beach, Fla., eased into the runner-up spot at 135 when he shot a 66—one of five such rounds over the 6,715-yard Oak Hills County Club course.

The low round of the day, however, was fired oy Moon Mullins of Indio, Calif., who laid down an eagle-aided 65. But he had a 73 in the first round Thursday and still was well down the list.

Doug Sanders, Bert Weaver, Howie Johnson and Chuck Courtney were the other's firing 66s as the course played easier due to the absence of wind.

Benton Is Guest Of Wildlife Club

HEBERT (Special) — Jake Benton of Monroe, past president of the Ouachita Parish Wildlife Unit, and member of the executive board of that group, was the special guest of the Dave's Bayou 57 Club Wildlife Unit when they met Tuesday night at the Woolen Lake Community Center.

Benton discussed activities of the Ouachita Unit and congratulated the 57 Club by saying that Richland Parish has the least number of game violations in the area, particularly night hunting of deer. He said that this was due to the efficiency of the enforcement division of wildlife agents and the close cooperation of the 57 Club.

Bench Will Be Lonely; Just Ten On This Squad

BRADDOCK, N.D. (AP)—The bench will be a lonely place when Braddock High School plays baseball this spring — there are just 10 men on the team.

Lafayette Runs Mile In 3:23.4

Tallulah Close 2nd In Baton Contest

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — A Lafayette High foursome sped to the fastest mile relay clocked in the history of Louisiana white prep schools here Friday in a five team meet at Bolton High.

The quartet was timed at 3:23.4 over the four lap distance. The previous known best was 3:24.6 by Neville and Fair Park in the New Orleans Recreation Department's Meet of Champions. Neville first set the old mark in 1962 and Fair Park tied it last year.

Tallulah finished second behind Lafayette with a 3:24.0 time to also better the old standard.

Lafayette won the meet with 84½ points followed by Bolton with 79, Sulphur 71, Ouachita 33½ and Tallulah was 32.

Ouachita, making its first serious competitive attempt in several years, took the 440 relay in 44.2 and placed second in the 880 baton race. The Lions ran fifth in the torrid mile relay.

Bolton dominated the sprints with Richard Golman winning both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. The Bears' also swept the hurdles as their two timber stars, Gray Easterling and Bo Rosenthal, tied for fist in the 120 highs and finished one-two in the lows.

The pair was timed at 14.6 in the shorter race and Easterling took the 180 lows in 20.1. Rosenthal also finished second in the long jump and third in the triple jump.

Ouachita coach Bo Herring reported his young squad came out of the meet in good shape. It was the last event for the Lions before the District 1-AAA go at West Monroe next week.

Herring said, "I'm very proud of the way this team has developed. The boys are young and have worked very hard."

Ouachita's sprint relay units are among the best in the area and are given a good chance to take state honors.

The Lions also picked up points in the discus and javelin. Big Larry Lolley was second in the platter contest with a throw of 149-8, only one inch behind the winner. Freshman Steve Rupport was fourth in the spear toss.

440 dash: Steve Carnahan, Sulphur, 50.1; Edwin Arnold, Sulphur; Ken Lewis, Lafayette.

220 dash: Richard Goldman, Bolton, 22.7; Paul Peterson, Tallulah; Norman Coates, Bolton.

Javelin: 1. Bobby Barnes, Sulphur, 187-7; Marvin Benard, Bolton; Irvin Laew, Lafayette; Steve Rupport, Ouachita.

High Jump: 1. Roger Shaw, Bolton, 6-0; Richard Graves, Lafayette; Lou Groth, Lafayette.

AT NORTH AND SOUTH

Pompano Preuss Crushes Trainor

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Phyllis (Tish) Preuss, Pompano Beach, Fla., blonde, played picture golf Friday and scored a 7 and 6 victory over Mrs. George Trainor of Rochester, N.Y., in the 18-hole final of the North and South Amateur Women's Golf Tournament.

It was the most one-sided finals match in the championship's 62-year history.

The 25-year-old Floridian, runner-up last year, shot two under-par golf and did not lose a hole. She won three of the first four and led the 46-year-old New Yorker by six at the turn.

Positioning her drives masterfully, Miss Preuss for the second day in a row didn't hit a ball out of the fairway. She missed only three greens and was in only one trap in her abbreviated trip around the 6,000 yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Mrs. Trainor, on the other hand, eight times failed to hit the green in regulation figures, strayed from the fairway six times and was in three traps as she played six-over-par golf.

Miss Preuss, a member of the 1962 U.S. Curtis Cup team, and runnerup and semifinalist in the National Amateur in recent years, birdied the par four first hole for the third time in four rounds. She knocked in a 15-foot putt for the first of her four birdies Friday.

A par four on the third hole and a conceded birdie four on the long fourth put her three up.

Mrs. Trainor saved a half on the par five fifth. After her first two shots were in the rough, she put the ball on the green with her third. The ball came to rest in a sandy lie under a pine branch. She stroked the ball to within four feet of the hole with her putter and made her par.

Pizarro Tops Chicago 6-1 In 1st Showing

CHICAGO (AP) — Southpaw Juan Pizarro, making his first appearance of the season, pitched and batted the Chicago White Sox to a 6-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox Friday night.

Pizarro, a holdout most of spring training, limited the Red Sox to three hits and singled twice as he drove in three runs.

The White Sox jumped on starter Bill Monbouquette for three runs in the third inning when J. C. Martin singled and scored on Joe Cunningham's double and Floyd Robinson capped the rally with a home run.

Pizarro lost his shutout when Dick Stuart hit a home run in the fourth but made up for it with a run-scoring single in the fourth and a two-run single in the sixth.

Pizarro's route-going performance was the first complete game of the season by a White Sox pitcher. A crowd of 8,504 braved 40-degree weather to see the game.

Northeast Signs Denham Springs Grid Letterman

Kenneth Holland, a 185-pound end who played his prep football under Northeast State Assistant Coach Ralph Lane at Denahm Springs last fall, has signed a letter-of-intent with Northeast.

The new Indian recruit was a three-year letterman and starred on both offense and defense. He stands 6-2.

"Kenneth is a good all-around end, a capable defender and a sure-handed receiver with good speed," said Lane. "He is an outstanding student as well."

WITH OLYMPIC DREAMS

Fleet Tigers In California

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (Special) — Olympic athletes from four nations will launch major outdoor meets and relay carnivals on the Pacific Coast today in the sixth annual Mt. San Antonio Relays.

The meet will be held in a stadium where 12 world records have been set or equaled.

Al Oerter, Dallas Long, Ralph Boston, Ron Morris, Roy Hicks, Norm Hoffman, Keith Forman and Young Richard Stebbins, the Grambling 100 and 220 meter bullet, are a few who expect to start on the road to Tokyo this weekend.

Surprisingly, Grambling, a Louisiana school strong in football, basketball and baseball, is the subject of most of the tongue-wagging at the relays.

The speedy Tigers have the best time in the United States in the 440, 880 and mile relays, and could equal or break a couple of world marks today. Grambling has been clocked in 40.2, 1:23.3 and 3.09.0.

The Mt. SAC Relays will attract a record total of 2,343 athletes.

C. K. Yang of the Republic of China and the Pasadena Athletic Club is returning in the decathlon to the scene of his fantastic world record of 9,121 points: While Harry Jerome and Bill Crothers are Canada's hopes for Olympic gold medals.

In the featured university open division competition, Grambling will risk its no. 1 relay ratings against whizzers from New Mexico, Los Angeles Striders, San Jose State, Fresno State, Camp Pendleton, Oregon State, Brigham Young University and the Pasadena Athletic Club.

Prep, college and junior college athletes opened competition Friday. The three day meet will end Sunday with the final five decathlon events.

Pirates Beat New York By 9-4 Count

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bill Virdons home run and three singles led the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 9-4 victory over the New York Mets Friday night.

Pirates' starter Bob Friend went the distance, gave up eight hits, struck out five and didn't walk a man as he won his 11th straight from the Mets, who have yet to beat him.

Virdon led the Pirates' 15-hit attack, singling his first three times at bat and following with a two-run homer in the sixth. He walked his last time at bat.

Met southpaw Al Jackson, who shut out the Pirates 6-0 in New York last Sunday, was routed in the sixth after yielding 12 hits and eight runs, one of them unearned.

Weather Could Delay Tech's Demon Outing

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech baseball coach Berry Hinton will be casting an anxious eye to the skies this morning in hopes the weather won't force his Bulldogs out of more action.

More rain would also force postponement of today's Gulf States Conference doubleheader with league leading Northwestern State.

If it doesn't rain again, Hinton has hopes the Tech diamond will dry off enough by the 1:30 p.m. starting time to permit play.

Northwestern has parlayed some sharp pitching and timely hitting to take a surprising lead in the conference race. The Demons have a 9-2 record in league play. Tech is 15-10 for the season, but only 4-8 in the GSC.

If the game goes on, Hinton plans to start righthander George Woodson (5-2) and Arnold Ramsey (3-3) against NSC.

Tallulah Close 2nd In Baton Contest

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — A Lafayette High foursome sped to the fastest mile relay clocked in the history of Louisiana white prep schools here Friday in a five team meet at Bolton High.

The quartet was timed at 3:23.4 over the four lap distance. The previous known best was 3:24.6 by Neville and Fair Park in the New Orleans Recreation Department's Meet of Champions. Neville first set the old mark in 1962 and Fair Park tied it last year.

Tallulah finished second behind Lafayette with a 3:24.0 time to also better the old standard.

Lafayette won the meet with 84½ points followed by Bolton with 79, Sulphur 71, Ouachita 33½ and Tallulah was 32.

Ouachita, making its first serious competitive attempt in several years, took the 440 relay in 44.2 and placed second in the 880 baton race. The Lions ran fifth in the torrid mile relay.

Bolton dominated the sprints with Richard Golman winning both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. The Bears' also swept the hurdles as their two timber stars, Gray Easterling and Bo Rosenthal, tied for fist in the 120 highs and finished one-two in the lows.

The pair was timed at 14.6 in the shorter race and Easterling took the 180 lows in 20.1. Rosenthal also finished second in the long jump and third in the triple jump.

Ouachita coach Bo Herring reported his young squad came out of the meet in good shape. It was the last event for the Lions before the District 1-AAA go at West Monroe next week.

Herring said, "I'm very proud of the way this team has developed. The boys are young and have worked very hard."

Ouachita's sprint relay units are among the best in the area and are given a good chance to take state honors.

The Lions also picked up points in the discus and javelin. Big Larry Lolley was second in the platter contest with a throw of 149-8, only one inch behind the winner. Freshman Steve Rupport was fourth in the spear toss.

440 dash: Steve Carnahan, Sulphur, 50.1; Edwin Arnold, Sulphur; Ken Lewis, Lafayette.

Mile run: Ken Williamson, Bolton, 4:37.3; John Couvillion, Bolton; Ned Patin, Lafayette.

220 dash: Richard Goldman, Bolton, 22.7; Paul Peterson, Tallulah; Norman Coates, Bolton.

Javelin: 1. Bobby Barnes, Sulphur, 187-7; Marvin Benard, Bolton; Irvin Laew, Lafayette; Steve Rupport, Ouachita.

High Jump: 1. Roger Shaw, Bolton, 6-0; Richard Graves, Lafayette; Lou Groth, Lafayette.

Pompano Preuss Crushes Trainor

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Phyllis (Tish) Preuss, Pompano Beach, Fla., blonde, played picture golf Friday and scored a 7 and 6 victory over Mrs. George Trainor of Rochester, N.Y., in the 18-hole final of the North and South Amateur Women's Golf Tournament.

It was the most one-sided finals match in the championship's 62-year history.

The 25 - year - old Floridian, runner-up last year, shot two under-par golf and did not lose a hole. She won three of the first four and led the 46-year-old New Yorker by six at the turn.

Positioning her drives masterfully, Miss Preuss for the second day in a row didn't hit a ball out of the fairway. She missed only three greens and was in only one trap in her abbreviated trip around the 6,000 yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Mrs. Trainor, on the other hand, eight times failed to hit the green in regulation figures, strayed from the fairway six times and was in three traps as she played six-over-par golf.

Miss Preuss, a member of the 1962 U.S. Curtis Cup team, and runnerup and semifinalist in the National Amateur in recent years, birdied the par four first hole for the third time in four rounds. She knocked in a 15-foot putt for the first of her four birdies Friday.

A par four on the third hole and a conceded birdie four on the long fourth put her three up.

Mrs. Trainor saved a half on the par five fifth. After her first two shots were in the rough, she put the ball on the green with her third. The ball came to rest in a sandy lie under a pine branch. She stroked the ball to within four feet of the hole with her putter and made her par.

Pizarro Tops Chicago 6-1 In 1st Showing

CHICAGO (AP) — Southpaw Juan Pizarro, making his first appearance of the season, pitched and batted the Chicago White Sox to a 6-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox Friday night.

Pizarro, a holdout most of spring training, limited the Red Sox to three hits and singled twice as he drove in three runs.

The White Sox jumped on starter Bill Monbouquette for three runs in the third inning when J. C. Martin singled and scored on Joe Cunningham's double and Floyd Robinson capped the rally with a home run.

Pizarro lost his shutout when Dick Stuart hit a home run in the fourth but made up for it with a run-scoring single in the fourth and a two-run single in the sixth.

Pizarro's route-going performance was the first complete game of the season by a White Sox pitcher. A crowd of 8,504 braved 40-degree weather to see the game.

Northeast Signs Denham Springs Grid Letterman

Kenneth Holland, a 185-pound end who played his prep football under Northeast State Assistant Coach Ralph Lane at Denahm Springs last fall, has signed a letter-of-intent with Northeast.

The new Indian recruit was a three-year letterman and starred on both offense and defense. He stands 6-2.

"Kenneth is a good all-around end, a capable defender and a sure-handed receiver with good speed," said Lane. "He is an outstanding student as well."

Golf Club Will Revive Tourney

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP)—Members of the Wykagyl Golf Club have decided to revive its professional round-robin tournament, formerly a fixture there, a club spokesman said Friday.

Forty club members contributed $1,000 apiece to underwrite the expenses of the tournament, which will carry $25,000 in prize money. The 16-player event will be played July 9-12, the week of the British Open, when there is no tournament scheduled on the regular PGA tour.

WITH OLYMPIC DREAMS

Fleet Tigers In California

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (Special) — Olympic athletes from four nations will launch major outdoor meets and relay carnivals on the Pacific Coast today in the sixth annual Mt. San Antonio Relays.

The meet will be held in a stadium where 12 world records have been set or equaled.

Al Oerter, Dallas Long, Ralph Boston, Ron Morris, Roy Hicks, Norm Hoffman, Keith Forman and Young Richard Stebbins, the Grambling 100 and 220 meter bullet, are a few who expect to start on the road to Tokyo this weekend.

Surprisingly, Grambling, a Louisiana school strong in football, basketball and baseball, is the subject of most of the tongue-wagging at the relays.

The speedy Tigers have the best time in the United States in the 440, 880 and mile relays, and could equal or break a couple of world marks today. Grambling has been clocked in 40.2, 1:23.3 and 3.09.0.

The Mt. SAC Relays will attract a record total of 2,343 athletes.

C. K. Yang of the Republic of China and the Pasadena Athletic Club is returning in the decathlon to the scene of his fantastic world record of 9,121 points: While Harry Jerome and Bill Crothers are Canada's hopes for Olympic gold medals.

In the featured university-open division competition, Grambling will risk its no. 1 relay ratings against whizzers from New Mexico, Los Angeles Striders, San Jose State, Fresno State, Camp Pendleton, Oregon State, Brigham Young University and the Pasadena Athletic Club.

Prep, college and junior college athletes opened competition Friday. The three day meet will end Sunday with the final five decathlon events.

Pirates Beat New York By 9-4 Count

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bill Virdons home run and three singles led the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 9-4 victory over the New York Mets Friday night.

Pirates' starter Bob Friend went the distance, gave up eight hits, struck out five and didn't walk a man as he won his 11th straight from the Mets, who have yet to beat him.

Virdon led the Pirates' 15-hit attack, singling his first three times at bat and following with a two-run homer in the sixth. He walked his last time at bat.

Met southpaw Al Jackson, who shut out the Pirates 6-0 in New York last Sunday, was routed in the sixth after yielding 12 hits and eight runs, one of them unearned.

Weather Could Delay Tech's Demon Outing

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech baseball coach Berry Hinton will be casting an anxious eye to the skies this morning in hopes the weather won't force his Bulldogs out of more action.

More rain would also force postponement of today's Gulf States Conference doubleheader with league leading Northwestern State.

If it doesn't rain again, Hinton has hopes the Tech diamond will dry off enough by the 1:30 p.m. starting time to permit play.

Northwestern has parlayed some sharp pitching and timely hitting to take a surprising lead in the conference race. The Demons have a 9-2 record in league play. Tech is 15-10 for the season, but only 4-8 in the GSC.

If the game goes on, Hinton plans to start righthander George Woodson (5-2) and Arnold Ramsey (3-3) against NSC.

Mulhearn Wins State Golf Title

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Neville's Ray Mulhearn blistered LSU's campus course for a four-under-par 67 to set a new record and win the Louisiana State high school golf championship here Friday.

Mulhearn's 140 total for the 36-hole medal play tournament was three shots better than the old record held by Jerry Lee Comeaux of Cathedral of Lafayette.

Winning the team championship was Bolton of Alexandria with a 604 total for its four-man team. Second was Catholic High of Baton Rouge at 606. Third was Lee of Baton Rouge at 607. Cathedral of Lafayette finished fourth at 608. All of the top four teams cracked the old team standard of 609 swings, set by Neville in last year's tournament.

Shooting LSU rugged back nine first, Mulhearn posted four birdies on that side to record the lowest competition round ever tallied for the back side.

He was five under par by the time he finished his 10th hole but he double bogied the next hole and appeared in trouble.

Mulhearn stormed back with an eagle on the difficult, 463-yard fourth hole to get back five shots under regulation figures. A string of pars carried him to the ninth hole but he bogied there after hitting his tee shot into a trap. He was even par for the front side.

Lumpe Batters Twins In 5-0 Detroit Blank

ST. PAUL MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Jerry Lumpe raked Minnesota pitching for three hits and drove in three runs in support of Mickey Lolich's sharp pitching as Detroit dumped the Twins 5-0 Friday.

Lumpe singled in the first inning and scored, doubled home a run in the fifth and drove in two more in the sixth with a bases-loaded single.

Lolich, going for the first time against the Twins, held them hitless until Earl Battey lined a single with two out in the fifth and finished with a three-hitter.

Al Kaline drove in Lumpe with Detroit's first run in the first inning, and the Tigers got another in the fifth on successive doubles by Don Wert and Lumpe.

In the sixth, three runs scored on singles by Willie Horton, Bill Freehan and Lumpe, an error, sacrifice and two walks.

Minnesota never got a runner past second base. Battey went to second in the fifth when Zoilo Versalles was hit by a pitch, Vic Power doubled in the sixth and Harmon Killebrew reached second in the seventh when Lumpe dropped his high pop-up.

Lolich turned in his first big league shutout, striking out seven and walking two.

Causey Error Allows Solons Big Uprising

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Wayne Causey's two-base throwing error opened the door for a five-run 10th inning uprising that gave Washington a 6-1 victory over Kansas City Friday night.

A's starter Orlando Pena and Claude Osteen of the Senators each had allowed only six hits as the teams went into the 10th tied 1-1.

With one out, Causey picked up Don Lock's grounder and threw the ball into the stands. Fred Valentine then walked and Ed Brinkman followed with a single that sent Lock across with the tie-breaking run. That was all for Pena.

Osteen then singled for one run, Don Blasingame doubled for two runs and Chuck Hinton singled in another. Jim King, who made the first out of the inning, also made the final out to end the uprising.

Gallopers Sniff At Richer Turf

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Twenty-four 3-year-old horses, 12 of them fillies, put their best feet forward today with hopes they will show enough to qualify for richer races to come.

The $25,000-added Chesapeake Stakes at Laurel, Md., and the $10,000 Oaks Prep and $6,000 Stepping Stone Purse, both at Churchill Downs, are not the richest races on the day's national card. But as previews of things to come they rate the top spot.

Seven of the 3-year-olds clash in the 1 1-16-mile Chesapeake. Four of them—Kentucky Jug, Repeating, Ouzo and Knightly Manner—are eligible for next Saturday's Kentucky Derby at Churchill. But only Kentucky Jug and Knightly Manner are considered likely starters in the big race. Kentucky Jug is Calumet Farm's chief hope for an eighth Kentucky Derby victory.

Of the other three Chesapeake entries, Sheldrake and Zurich are eligible for the Preakness May 16 and the Belmont Stakes June 6.

The seven-furlong Stepping Stone is even more closely associated with the Derby. It drew five colts pointing for America's most famous horse race. They are The Scoundrel, third choice in the future books back of Hill Rise and Northern Dancer; Mr. Brick; Dandy K; Geology, and Dunfee.

The $10,000 Oaks Prep is a seven-furlong tune-up for the $40,000 Kentucky Oaks to be run at Churchill May 1. Grecian Princess, winner of the Louisiana Derby, Miami Mood and Shama are topweights under 121 pounds each in the field of 12.

Todays' top race financially is the $75,000-added Grey Lag Handicap over 1⅛ miles at Aqueduct. Mongo and Gun Bow are in the field of eight under equal weights of 128 pounds.

The two leading candidates to snap Kelso's four-year reign as American's top thoroughbred met earlier in Bowie's Campbell Memorial and Mongo gained the decision by the narrowest of margins. Gun Bow, however, is the early 8-5 choice off his victory in the Gulfstream Handicap. Mongo, a disappointment in the recent Excelsioc at Aqueduct, is quoted at 2-1. With eight starters, the Grey Lag will be worth $83,100 with $54,015 going to the winner.

In other top events on today's program, the New Jersey season opens at Garden State Park with the six-furlong $25,000-added Delaware Stakes for 3-year olds the chief attraction; Suffolk Downs features The Sullolk Downs at six furlongs Golden Gate Fields heads its card with the 1 1-16-mile William G. Gilmore Handicap; at a mile and Lincoln Downs presents a handicap at 1 1-16 miles.

West Monroe Dixie Youth

First National Bank blanked Central Bank 2-0 in a West Monroe Dixie Youth baseball game Friday night. Glenn Barnes doubled and Alan Reitzemmar contributed two singles to the winners' attack. Gary Wilcoxin went two for three for the losers.

Score by Innings:

First National ............... 002 000—2
Central Bank ............... 000 000—0

Johnny Ellis and Rickay North; Jerry Martin and Gary Wilcoxsin.

Muny Course To Be Closed For Tourney

Municipal Golf Course pro Johnny Myers has announced that the course will be closed to regular play Sunday until after the four-ball tournament.

The course will be open again as soon as the last tournament for some tees off in the afternoon.

If rain should force postponement of the event, Myers said that it will be rescheduled for Sunday May 10.

Phils Trounce Chicago Cubs; Bunning Wins

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Tony Gonzalez drove in four runs and Jim Bunning pitched a six-hit shutout as the Philadelphia Phillies overwhelmed the Chicago Cubs 10-0 Friday night.

Gonzalez drove in three of the runs with a double in a five-run second inning and knocked in another with a single in the first. He also stroked another single.

The Phillies collected 16 hits, including the three by Gonzalez, a triple and two doubles by John Herrnstein and a two-run homer by Johnny Callison.

Bunning, wining his second game without a loss, struck out nine and walked only two. Bob Buhl was the loser.

Herrnstein started the second inning for Philadelphia by hammering a triple off the center field scoreboard. Clay Dalrymple scored Herrnstein with a single and went to second on Bobby Wine's sacrifice bunt.

The $25,000-added Chesapeake Stakes at Laurel, Md., and the $10,000 Oaks Prep and $6,000 Stepping Stone Purse, both at Churchill Downs, are not the richest races on the day's national card. But as previews of things to come they rate the top spot.

Seven of the 3-year-olds clash in the 1 1-16-mile Chesapeake. Four of them—Kentucky Jug, Repeating, Ouzo and Knightly Manner—are eligible for next Saturday's Kentucky Derby at Churchill. But only Kentucky Jug and Knightly Manner are considered likely starters in the big race. Kentucky Jug is Calumet Farm's chief hope for an eighth Kentucky Derby victory.

Of the other three Chesapeake entries, Sheldrake and Zurich are eligible for the Preakness May 16 and the Belmont Stakes June 6.

The seven-furlong Stepping Stone is even more closely associated with the Derby. It drew five colts pointing for America's most famous horse race. They are The Scoundrel, third choice in the future books back of Hill Rise and Northern Dancer; Mr. Brick; Dandy K; Geology, and Dunfee.

The $10,000 Oaks Prep is a seven-furlong tune-up for the $40,000 Kentucky Oaks to be run at Churchill May 1. Grecian Princess, winner of the Louisiana Derby, Miami Mood and Shama are topweights under 121 pounds each in the field of 12.

Todays' top race financially is the $75,000-added Grey Lag Handicap over 1⅛ miles at Aqueduct. Mongo and Gun Bow are in the field of eight under equal weights of 128 pounds.

The two leading candidates to snap Kelso's four-year reign as American's top thoroughbred met earlier in Bowie's Campbell Memorial and Mongo gained the decision by the narrowest of margins. Gun Bow, however, is the early 8-5 choice off his victory in the Gulfstream Handicap. Mongo, a disappointment in the recent Excelsioc at Aqueduct, is quoted at 2-1. With eight starters, the Grey Lag will be worth $83,100 with $54,015 going to the winner.

In other top events on today's program, the New Jersey season opens at Garden State Park with the six-furlong $25,000-added Delaware Stakes for 3-year olds the chief attraction; Suffolk Downs features The Sullolk Downs at six furlongs Golden Gate Fields heads its card with the 1 1-16-mile William G. Gilmore Handicap; at a mile and Lincoln Downs presents a handicap at 1 1-16 miles.

West Monroe Dixie Youth

First National Bank blanked Central Bank 2-0 in a West Monroe Dixie Youth baseball game Friday night. Glenn Barnes doubled and Alan Reitzemmar contributed two singles to the winners' attack. Gary Wilcoxin went two for three for the losers.

Muny Course To Be Closed For Tourney

Municipal Golf Course pro Johnny Myers has announced that the course will be closed to regular play Sunday until after the four-ball tournament.

The course will be open again as soon as the last tournament for some tees off in the afternoon.

If rain should force postponement of the event, Myers said that it will be rescheduled for Sunday May 10.

Phils Trounce Chicago Cubs; Bunning Wins

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Tony Gonzalez drove in four runs and Jim Bunning pitched a six-hit shutout as the Philadelphia Phillies overwhelmed the Chicago Cubs 10-0 Friday night.

Gonzalez drove in three of the runs with a double in a five-run second inning and knocked in another with a single in the first. He also stroked another single.

The Phillies collected 16 hits, including the three by Gonzalez, a triple and two doubles by John Herrnstein and a two-run homer by Johnny Callison.

Bunning, wining his second game without a loss, struck out nine and walked only two. Bob Buhl was the loser.

Mulhearn Wins State Golf Title

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Neville's Ray Mulhearn blistered LSU's campus course for a four-under-par 67 to set a new record and win the Louisiana State high school golf championship here Friday.

Mulhearn's 140 total for the 36-hole medal play tournament was three shots better than the old record held by Jerry Lee Comeaux of Cathedral of Lafayette.

Winning the team championship was Bolton of Alexandria with a 604 total for its four-man team. Second was Catholic High of Baton Rouge at 606. Third was Lee of Baton Rouge at 607. Cathedral of Lafayette finished fourth at 608. All of the top four teams cracked the old team standard of 609 swings, set by Neville in last year's tournament.

Shooting LSU rugged back nine first, Mulhearn posted four birdies on that side to record the lowest competition round ever tallied for the back side.

He was five under par by the time he finished his 10th hole but he double bogied the next hole and appeared in trouble.

Mulhearn stormed back with an eagle on the difficult, 463-yard fourth hole to get back five shots under regulation figures. A string of pars carried him to the ninth hole but he bogied there after hitting his tee shot into a trap. He was even par for the front side.

INDIVIDUAL LEADERS:

Lumpe Batters Twins In 5-0 Detroit Blank

ST. PAUL MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Jerry Lumpe raked Minnesota pitching for three hits and drove in three runs in support of Mickey Lolich's sharp pitching as Detroit dumped the Twins 5-0 Friday.

Lumpe singled in the first inning and scored, doubled home a run in the fifth and drove in two more in the sixth with a bases-loaded single.

Lolich, going for the first time against the Twins, held them hitless until Earl Battey lined a single with two out in the fifth and finished with a three-hitter.

Al Kaline drove in Lumpe with Detroit's first run in the first inning, and the Tigers got another in the fifth on successive doubles by Don Wert and Lumpe.

In the sixth, three runs scored on singles by Willie Horton, Bill Freehan and Lumpe, an error, sacrifice and two walks.

Minnesota never got a runner past second base. Battey went to second in the fifth when Zoilo Versalles was hit by a pitch, Vic Power doubled in the sixth and Harmon Killebrew reached second in the seventh when Lumpe dropped his high pop-up.

Causey Error Allows Solons Big Uprising

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Wayne Causey's two-base throwing error opened the door for a five-run 10th inning uprising that gave Washington a 6-1 victory over Kansas City Friday night.

A's starter Orlando Pena and Claude Osteen of the Senators each had allowed only six hits as the teams went into the 10th tied 1-1.

With one out, Causey picked up Don Lock's grounder and threw the ball into the stands. Fred Valentine then walked and Ed Brinkman followed with a single that sent Lock across with the tie-breaking run. That was all for Pena.

Osteen then singled for one run, Don Blasingame doubled for two runs and Chuck Hinton singled in another. Jim King, who made the first out of the inning, also made the final out to end the uprising.

IMPORTANT
If follow up service means anything to you be sure to check on the dealer's ability to provide parts and competent repairs before you buy! We employ 11 of the most experienced mechanics in this area and our parts department is stocked with over $50,000.00 of parts to service our brands of mowers. Efficient service is provided right in our own building instead of being farmed out to some "authorized" but "disinterested" repair shop that did not make the sale in the first place.

BONING UP ON THEIR SHAKESPEARE at the Ouachita Parish Public Library are the officers of the North Louisiana Branch, National League of American Pen Women, who are attending the Festival in Ruston today, commemorating the 400th anniversary of the Bard. The officers, who will be installed at a luncheon meeting at the Student Union Building, are from left, Mrs. Gene Biegenwald, outgoing president and new treasurer; Mrs. Jack R. Taylor, vice-president; Mrs. Edward A. Burns, recording secretary; and Mrs. David Carter, new president of the group.

Shakespearean Festival Lures Area Pen Women To Ruston Luncheon Meet

Members of the North Louisiana Branch, National League of American Pen Women, will gather in Ruston today to hold their quarterly luncheon meeting in conjunction with the Shakespearean Festival sponsored by Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. Dr. Frances Fletcher, Professor of English at Tech, is in charge of the arrangements for the group to take in the various festival activities during the day.

Pen Women and their guests will register at the Art Building at 11 a.m. and view the special art show offered during the festival. Guest speaker for the 12 o'clock luncheon at the Student Union Building will be Dr. John B. Wilson, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and chairman of the festival.

Highlight of the short business meeting, presided over by outgoing president, Mrs. Gene Biegenwald, will be the installation of new officers for the coming year. They are Mrs. David Carter, president; Mrs. Jack R. Taylor, vice - president; Mrs. Edward A. Burns, recording secretary; Mrs. H. M. James, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Biegenwald, treasurer.

Following the luncheon, the group will attend a Shakespearean movie at 2 p.m. and a presentation of "Twelfth Night" by college students at 8 p.m.

Those planning to attend from Monroe are members, Mrs. Biegenwald, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Burns, Mrs. James, Mrs. J. O. Brown Jr., Mrs. E. E. Lawson, Mrs. J. R. White, Mrs. Courtney Oliver, Mrs. Roland Brown and guests, Mrs. A. L. Causey, Mrs. Pascal Norris, Miss Mary Anita Lennon, Mrs. Herschel Gentry Jr., Mrs. Charles Wilkins, Mrs. John Cale, Mrs. Christine Hutts and Miss Jean Tucker. Members from Farmerville attending are Mrs. Elise Tugwell and Mrs. Debbie Nettles with guests, Mrs. Pete Davis and Mrs. Ruth Dawkins.

Kitchen Shower Compliments Eleanor Lee

A kitchen shower at the home of Mrs. J. W. McLemore Jr. of Winnsboro last Saturday was given complimentary to Miss Mary Eleanor Lee, bride-elect of Jimmie H. Durr. Mrs. Quitman Robinson was co-hostess for the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Edgar Lee Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie H. Durr Sr., all of Winnsboro, are the parents of the couple who will be married on June 3 at the First Methodist Church in Winnsboro.

Guests were received by Mrs. McLemore and Miss Lee, who wore a two piece whipped cream aqua print and a corsage of bronze asters with novel miniature kitchen gadgets.

Arrangements of spring flowers decorated the reception area, where guests gathered. During the party hours several games were played with a gift won by Miss Kathleen Charpentier of Homer, roommate of Miss Lee at L. S. U.

Guests invited to share the occasion with the honoree and her hostesses were Mrs. Jimmy H. Durr, Mrs. S. E. Lee Sr., Mrs. F. O. Brackett, Mrs. W. W. Stitt, Mrs. B. I. Berry, Mrs. Kirby Lee, Mrs. Roger Young, Mrs. Harriett Etheridge, Mrs. T. W. Stodghill Jr., and Misses Devanna Bryant, Virginia Kincaid, Kathleen Charpentier, Margaret Mays, Eddie Stitt, Jane Lee, Kathy Robinson and Faith Robinson.

Entertainment Planned For Wives Of Knights

The wives of visiting Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, attending the Louisiana District Two convention here this weekend, will be entertained during the business sessions with a tour and a style show. Honored guest for the women's activities will be Mrs. Charles Jaubert, wife of the Louisiana District Two Master, from Lake Charles.

Comprising the welcoming committee for the visitors are Mrs. James W. Hice, Mrs. Robert Swan and Mrs. Adam Priou, who will greet the ladies in the lobby of the Frances Hotel at 2:30 this afternoon. From there they will board a chartered bus that will take them to Trend House for a tour of the store, followed by refreshments.

The ladies will join their husbands for a cocktail party at 6:30, buffet at 7:30 and dance at 9, all to be held at the Knights of Columbus Assembly Building on Oliver Road.

Following Mass at St. Matthews Catholic Church, the ladies will adjourn to the Lotus Club for a style show presented by Jack's Imagination Shop and Rhealee's Hats. Mrs. Sam Jungina is in charge of arrangements for the show.

A banquet for Knights and their ladies at the St. Francis at noon Sunday will complete the activities for the convention.

Perfume Atomizer Woes Solved By Pen Engineers

NEW YORK (UPI) — To better please the proboscis, the perfume industry is having its own atomic war—over atomizers.

The man who first proved you could sell the most expensive fragrances to the housewife along Mainsville, U.S.A., started the way by developing a new mechanical atomizer.

"The rubber bulb atomizer which was the standby for spraying perfumes and toilet waters for years always had its deficiencies," said Cournand, head of Lanvin Parfums Inc.

"The oils in the perfume sooner or later attacked the rubber and made the bulb leak. Besides it didn't work too well unless it was held absolutely level. Most women like to spray at various angles."

"The development of aerosol propellant provided a fine leakproof spray, but it has three serious drawbacks," Cournand said. His aerosol-backing foes don't agree.

"First, he said, "the propellant changes the fragrance noticeably. Second, the propellant is explosive. If a woman uses it while she or someone close to her is smoking, it could be dangerous.

"Third, because it is explosive, you can use it only in a metal or strong opaque plastic container. One cannot see how much is left in the vial."

Pondering the problem, Cournand said he remembered that the fountain pen people had problems in the early days of high altitude airline travel. Pens leaked as air pressure rose. But somehow the problem was solved.

So Cournand took his problem of making better perfume atomizers to an engineer for a fountain pen company and to a surgical supply house engineer.

"Between them," he said, "They came up with natural spray. It is purely mechanical: it does not leak. It makes a fine spray such as surgeons use in the operating room, and the fragrance is not diluted. No explosive propellant is added."

MONOGRAM PINS

Adolescent girls, the Jewelry Industry Council reports, prefer monogram pins, preferably the size of a half dollar. Sterling or gold-filled, please. Other pins on their "wanted" list are gimmicky types, including pins that look like small odd bugs, bows, arrows, flowers.

YEAST DOUGHS

A fairly generous amount of fat and sugar are usually found in refrigerator yeast doughs because these ingredients help the yeast to work even during the cold storage.

The younger Mr. Clark flew in to Houston early last week and drove on to Monroe, where he will enjoy a two month vacation at the Clark home on Fannie Street.

Expert Urges Book Boosting

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A California sociologist feels that books are assuming a diminishing role in the education of contemporary children.

Dr. William Dienstein, of Fresno State College told a recent conference of librarians that "a child gets three-quarters of his education from radio, television and conversation."

The result is that today's youth sees little need for heavy reading.

"If a child doesn't think reading is important," Dr. Dienstein said, "then we have to teach him its importance.

"Libraries must provide people with the opportunity to develop their ability to cope with reality."

DEAR ABBY

All Immigrants Should Know What's Available

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is writing this letter for me because I cannot read or write English. My dream of becoming an American citizen will soon come true, although I speak and write only Spanish. I just learned that it is possible for foreign-born people to take American citizenship tests in their native language, and I hope you will tell others who cannot read, write or speak English that this is so.

AN OLD BUT NEW AMERICAN

DEAR AMERICAN: Thank you for your letter. It is with much pleasure that I share the following information with all interested readers: "According to immigration law, persons born before December 24th, 1902, and have resided in the United States at least 20 years, can take their citizenship tests in their native tongue." Immigrants who came to America after the turn of the century, and who never learned English, should know that this opportunity is available to them.

DEAR ABBY: Every time we go to my brother's home my husband embarrasses me to death. He wrestles with my twin nieces, who are 19 years old.

He just can't leave them alone for five minutes. He has to be grabbing one of them by her legs, pulling her out of her chair onto the floor, and trying to pin her arms down. When we leave there he always has the buttons torn off his shirt or his pockets torn. I know it's all in fun, but I think he ought to know better. Am I being overly critical? I am 24, my husband is 25, and I am not jealous.

WRESTLER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: It's time YOU went to the mat with your husband and pinned HIS ears back. Tell him to keep his hands off the girls, and then have a long talk with the girls about how young ladies should conduct themselves.

---

DEAR ABBY: To the unhappy young bride who is living with her in-laws, I say, "Leave now, and don't wait. If your husband tries to talk you into staying, go without him. If he loves you, he will follow. The longer you wait the harder it will be to get away. There will be one baby after another." Abby, my husband told me when we were first married that we would live with his parents for three years. It turned out to be ten times three, plus four. Yes, after 34 years, I am still living with my in-laws, and it hasn't been easy. Sign me—

Perfume Atomizer Woes Solved By Pen Engineers

NEW YORK (UPI) — To better please the proboscis, the perfume industry is having its own atomic war—over atomizers.

The man who first proved you could sell the most expensive fragrances to the housewife along Mainsville, U.S.A., started the way by developing a new mechanical atomizer.

Arrayed now against battling Edouard Cournand are proponents for aerosol atomizers using a freon propellant — which Cournand himself had used until recently.

They claim the aerosol is superior. He claims it's inferior.

"The rubber bulb atomizer which was the standby for spraying perfumes and toilet waters for years always had its deficiencies," said Cournand, head of Lanvin Parfums Inc.

"The oils in the perfume sooner or later attacked the rubber and made the bulb leak. Besides it didn't work too well unless it was held absolutely level. Most women like to spray at various angles."

Older plunger atomizers leaked so they couldn't be carried in a bag.

"The development of aerosol propellant provided a fine leakproof spray, but it has three serious drawbacks," Cournand said. His aerosol-backing foes don't agree.

"First, he said, "the propellant changes the fragrance noticeably. Second, the propellant is explosive. If a woman uses it while she or someone close to her is smoking, it could be dangerous.

"Third, because it is explosive, you can use it only in a metal or strong opaque plastic container. One cannot see how much is left in the vial."

Pondering the problem, Cournand said he remembered that the fountain pen people had problems in the early days of high altitude airline travel. Pens leaked as air pressure rose. But somehow the problem was solved.

So Cournand took his problem of making better perfume atomizers to an engineer for a fountain pen company and to a surgical supply house engineer.

"Between them," he said, "They came up with natural spray. It is purely mechanical: it does not leak. It makes a fine spray such as surgeons use in the operating room, and the fragrance is not diluted. No explosive propellant is added."

MONOGRAM PINS

Adolescent girls, the Jewelry Industry Council reports, prefer monogram pins, preferably the size of a half dollar. Sterling or gold-filled, please. Other pins on their "wanted" list are gimmicky types, including pins that look like small odd bugs, bows, arrows, flowers.

YEAST DOUGHS

East Carroll HDC Schedules Dress Review

The East Carroll Home Demonstration club is sponsoring the Parish Dress Review on May 8 at 2 p.m. at the Lake Providence Country Club. In conjunction with the review there will be hobby exhibits, children's and adult's garments, and the 4-H Achievement Day winners will be presented.

Mrs. J. W. Johnson, chairman of the Dress Review, announces the committees as follows: co-chairman, Mrs. L. F. Swoope Jr.; script and narration, Mrs. Bess T. Purdy; stage and decorations, Mrs. C. R. Brown; refreshments, Mrs. R. L. Choat.

Judges will be Mrs. Opal McDuff, home economist, Louisiana Power and Light Co.; Mrs. Jackie Mitchell, Morehouse Parish HD Agent; Mrs. Katie Monroe, Northeast Louisiana Cooperative; Miss Joyce Murray, Assistant HD Agent, Morehouse Parish.

All dresses to be entered in the contest must be in the Extension Office by April 28 for prejudging of construction. On April 30 the dresses are to be judged for fit and appearance. Winners will be announced at the Dress Review.

WINDOW SEAT-NEW VERSION: On a dramatic window wall, designer David Whitcomb adds a modern version of the old-fashioned window seat. Height is dictated by the position of the slate-covered fireplace hearth which turns the corner to serve as an end table. Seating platform is covered with carpeting and three different fabrics are used on the windows and walls: Overdraperies in nubby texture, natural color; shades in a ticking stripe and a panel with a python pattern in tones of gold which is repeated in the cushions.

Architecturally Used Fabrics Accent Rooms

By BETTY PEPIS

The use of fabrics to accentuate good architectural points in a room or to minimize bad ones is a technique interior designers have been exploring in depth. Not only the amazing variety in printed motifs but recent emphasis on very large scale designs suggest these new uses for yard goods.

One of the most dramatic and unusual examples of this current trend was seen in a room designed by David Whitcomb for Burlington Industries (who claim to be America's largest producer of decorative fabrics for the home, and who may get even larger if this keeps up). Here in a two-story living room with two floor-to-ceiling windows, he paneled the space between the windows with a new snaky, python patterned plush, continuing the fabric onto seating and back cushions upholstered in the same fabric which were placed on a ledge built out into the room.

Equally unexpected was the effect achieved in a recently decorated New York City apartment living room where the windows were left bare and drapery was carried instead along the walls. There was a functional as well as decorative purpose behind this idea. The windows which blanked two sides of the room looked out onto views as spectacular at night as during the day. Since privacy was no problem (because of the high floor) and light control not needed because of the primarily northern exposure, it seemed a shame to cover the windows at all.

However, since the room belonged to a music lover and was frequently the scene of small informal concerts the exposed glass created an accoustical problem which would have been amplified by papered or painted walls. The designer there covered the walls with fabric — not in the conventional way — buy by stretching it on rods, top and bottom, and pleating it slightly. This acted as a most effective background for sound.

Among other intriguing ideas was the decoration of a dining ell, where a print with a motif mimicking delft tile was used on the wall only from the floor up to a wood strip placed at chair rail height. A built-in banquette was also covered with the identical blue and white design.

Cotton Exchange At New Orleans May Shut Down

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The president of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange said Friday the exchange, once the city's most active trading house, may be forced to close.

C. Layton Merritt said the manner in which the Secretary of Agriculture implements the new cotton-wheat subsidy bill may determine the exchange's future.

The exchange recently sold its building, in the downtown financial district, and is operating on a limited basis in a suite on the fourth floor of that building.

The crucial question now is, Merritt said, whether the 6½-cent a pound subsidy is paid to the farmer, to the mills or to any of the several intermediate agencies.

Union Parish 4-H Clothing Contest Held

Ninety-four 4-H Union Parish girls entered a clothing contest last Saturday, April 11 in the Extension Auditorium, with the girls modeling dresses they had made themselves for the judges.

The winners were: aprons, Delra Denton, first; Lou Ellen Nale, second; Janice Lynn Odom, third; skirts, Connie Bayles, first; Alicia Futch, second; Jacqueline Eubanks, third; skirt and blouse, Robbie Murry, first; Kay Galloway, second; Virginia Kay Albritton, third; sportswear, Robbie Murry, first; Beth Upshaw, second; Judy Brashier, third; sechool dress, Connie Roberts, first; Janis Everett, second; Dorothy Rose, third.

The winners in each division of the contest will model their garments in the parish 4-H style revue on achievement day, May 2 at 11:00 a.m. at the Farmerville High School auditorium.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. Ora Blondin, home demonstration agent from Lincoln Parish, and Mrs. Ray Alford, 4-H clothing leader.

Forty-five mothers, local 4-H leaders, and Judy and Verna Silmon, Junior leaders in 4-H, attended the contest.

FASHION GAME

A fashion game for women these days is to see how many different ways she can wear her pearls, the Jewelry Industry Council reports. Double and triple strands fill in the fashionable open necklines of today's clothes. A beautiful pear and diamond pin, or one with another precious stone, can be used to shorten a necklace in the front or back, or the necklace may even be attached to the dress. Another idea: the lariat necklace of baroque pearls, which leaves to the imagination the many ways it can be worn.

New Officers Elected By Delhi PTA

New officers for the Delhi P. T. A. were elected at the April meeting held in the cafeteria. Those elected were Rev. Paul Lipe, president; Mrs. Julian Thompson, first vice-president; Mrs. James Hogue, second vice-president; J. F. Roberts, third vice-president; Mrs. Robert Dick, secretary; Mrs. Harry Echols, treasurer; John Armstrong, parliamentarian; and Mrs. J. B. Higginbothan, historian.

Presiding over the meeting was Henry Hazlitt. Rev. Paul Lipe led the invocation. A program on "Louisiana" was presented by Mrs. Kolb's sixth grade.

During room count, banners were presented to Mrs. Watson's room for the primary grades, Mrs. Kolb's room for upper elementary, and the ninth grade for high school.

The newly elected officers will be installed at the May meeting.

Entre Nous Club Meets In Farmerville

The Entre Nous Book Club held its April meeting in the home of Mrs. Ben F. Post in Farmerville with Mrs. James T. Henry as co-hostess.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Richard Neely reviewed the book "The Feminine Mystique" by Betty Friedan.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Stein Baughman Jr., Mrs. Jones E. Booth, Mrs. J. L. Davidson, Mrs. Alvin Y. Green, Mrs. Sam Hartman, Mrs. Kenneth D. HINTS FROM HELOISE

Home Economist Gives Tips On Crayon Stains

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

What can I do?

Mother

Dear Folks:

We have had so many letters like this that we have written to an excellent home economist and here is her answer:

Dear Heloise:

"On the crayon question, which is a fairly common one . . . we sometimes despair. However, there are certain things that can be done. As you undoubtedly know, crayons are much like lipstick. They contain grease, wax and dye.

"The grease and wax can be easily removed by cleaning the clothes in any good dry cleaning solvent, but sometimes the dye remains. This dye may be taken out if the clothes are cleaned with a dry cleaning fluid immediately, and, of course, a good non-flammable solvent will remove the stains from the dryer.

"If any color remains in the dryer itself, you can use a good diluted chlorine bleach to dissolve the color. Many times if the clothing is white, a short soaking in well - diluted chlorine bleach (if applicable to the material) will remove the dye stain from the material itself.

"Another suggestion — sometimes a safe, all - purpose, all-fabric sodium perborate bleach (this is powdered and is sold under various names) will help.

"For persistent stains such as this dye from the crayons, I make a sort of paste of the powdered perborate bleach (be sure it is NOT a chlorine bleach) and put this on the moistened fabric where the stain is. Keep it moist and give it time. Often the dye comes out.

"As a last resort, your professional cleaner has spotting agents for removal of dye, but I don't trust myself to use these. I think a professional on spotting is needed."

Jessie Cartwright
Director of Home Economics

Dear Heloise:

As a food chemist I should like to recommend that ONLY glass, earthenware, or stainless steel containers be used to make tea in. If one intends to re-use the teabag, always leave just enough liquid on it to completely cover the bag, thus excluding it from the oxygen in the air.

F. W. Sawyer

Dear Heloise:

When I want to transfer an embroidery design on a piece of cloth I tape the pattern to the cloth.

I put this on my sewing machine and UN-THREAD the needle. I stitch along the line of the design and when the pattern is lifted the design is easily seen!

One can go over this design with a pencil. However, it should be used very lightly so that when the embroidery is finished the pencil mark does not show on your piece work.

E. D. T.

Dear Heloise:

When I went to buy my favorite bra a while back, they were out of my exact size . . .

I purchased the next smaller size and added an extender. This is a two-inch piece of cloth with hooks on one side and eyes on the other. One can buy them ready-made at dime and department stores.

It worked just fine, and here's the bonus: when the bra got old and the elastic began to lose its stretch, I just left out the extender, and the bra fit just like a new one.

Just about doubled its life . . . and now I buy all my bras "that-way" on purpose.

Georgiana

GOOD

When making scalloped potatoes, bake a one-inch thick center slice of ham right on top of the potatoes. When almost done, crumble ¼ cup American blue cheese (about 1¼ ounces) on top and return to oven until cheese begins to melt. (Potatoes won't be runny if you scald the milk before adding it.) Serve with a green salad for an easy meal.

AEC Detonates Nuclear Blast

The commission, announcing the test blast, described it as of low intermediate yield, meaning it had a blast force of between 20,000 and 200,000 tons of TNT.

The blast was the sixth weapons-related test to be announced this year.

NUTRIENTS

WINDOW SEAT-NEW VERSION: On a dramatic window wall, designer David Whitcomb adds a modern version of the old-fashioned window seat. Height is dictated by the position of the slate-covered fireplace hearth which turns the corner to serve as an end table. Seating platform is covered with carpeting and three different fabrics are used on the windows and walls: Overdraperies in nubby texture, natural color; shades in a ticking stripe and a panel with a python pattern in tones of gold which is repeated in the cushions.

Architecturally Used Fabrics Accent Rooms

By BETTY PEPIS

The use of fabrics to accentuate good architectural points in a room or to minimize bad ones is a technique interior designers have been exploring in depth. Not only the amazing variety in printed motifs but recent emphasis on very large scale designs suggest these new uses for yard goods.

One of the most dramatic and unusual examples of this current trend was seen in a room designed by David Whitcomb for Burlington Industries (who claim to be America's largest producer of decorative fabrics for the home, and who may get even larger if this keeps up). Here in a two-story living room with two floor-to-ceiling windows, he paneled the space between the windows with a new snaky, python patterned plush, continuing the fabric onto seating and back cushions upholstered in the same fabric which were placed on a ledge built out into the room.

Equally unexpected was the effect achieved in a recently decorated New York City apartment living room where the windows were left bare and drapery was carried instead along the walls. There was a functional as well as decorative purpose behind this idea. The windows which blanked two sides of the room looked out onto views as spectacular at night as during the day. Since privacy was no problem (because of the high floor) and light control not needed because of the primarily northern exposure, it seemed a shame to cover the windows at all.

However, since the room belonged to a music lover and was frequently the scene of small informal concerts the exposed glass created an accoustical problem which would have been amplified by papered or painted walls. The designer there covered the walls with fabric — not in the conventional way — buy by stretching it on rods, top and bottom, and pleating it slightly. This acted as a most effective background for sound.

Among other intriguing ideas was the decoration of a dining ell, where a print with a motif mimicking delft tile was used on the wall only from the floor up to a wood strip placed at chair rail height. A built-in banquette was also covered with the identical blue and white design.

Cotton Exchange At New Orleans May Shut Down

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The president of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange said Friday the exchange, once the city's most active trading house, may be forced to close.

C. Layton Merritt said the manner in which the Secretary of Agriculture implements the new cotton-wheat subsidy bill may determine the exchange's future.

The exchange recently sold its building, in the downtown financial district, and is operating on a limited basis in a suite on the fourth floor of that building.

The crucial question now is, Merritt said, whether the 6½-cent a pound subsidy is paid to the farmer, to the mills or to any of the several intermediate agencies.

Union Parish 4-H Clothing Contest Held

Ninety-four 4-H Union Parish girls entered a clothing contest last Saturday, April 11 in the Extension Auditorium, with the girls modeling dresses they had made themselves for the judges.

The winners were: aprons, Delra Denton, first; Lou Ellen Nale, second; Janice Lynn Odom, third; skirts, Connie Bayles, first; Alicia Futch, second; Jacqueline Eubanks, third; skirt and blouse, Robbie Murry, first; Kay Galloway, second; Virginia Kay Albritton, third; sportswear, Robbie Murry, first; Beth Upshaw, second; Judy Brashier, third; school dress, Connie Roberts, first; Janis Everett, second; Dorothy Rose, third.

The winners in each division of the contest will model their garments in the parish 4-H style revue on achievement day, May 2 at 11:00 a.m. at the Farmerville High School auditorium.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. Ora Blondin, home demonstration agent from Lincoln Parish, and Mrs. Ray Alford, 4-H clothing leader.

Forty-five mothers, local 4-H leaders, and Judy and Verna Silmon, Junior leaders in 4-H, attended the contest.

FASHION GAME

A fashion game for women these days is to see how many different ways she can wear her pearls, the Jewelry Industry Council reports. Double and triple strands fill in the fashionable open necklines of today's clothes. A beautiful pear and diamond pin, or one with another precious stone, can be used to shorten a necklace in the front or back, or the necklace may even be attached to the dress. Another idea: the lariat necklace of baroque pearls, which leaves to the imagination the many ways it can be worn.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Home Economist Gives Tips On Crayon Stains

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

What can I do?

Mother

Dear Folks:

We have had so many letters like this that we have written to an excellent home economist and here is her answer:

Dear Heloise:

"On the crayon question, which is a fairly common one . . . we sometimes despair. However, there are certain things that can be done. As you undoubtedly know, crayons are much like lipstick. They contain grease, wax and dye.

"The grease and wax can be easily removed by cleaning the clothes in any good dry cleaning solvent, but sometimes the dye remains. This dye may be taken out if the clothes are cleaned with a dry cleaning fluid immediately, and, of course, a good non-flammable solvent will remove the stains from the dryer.

"If any color remains in the dryer itself, you can use a good diluted chlorine bleach to dissolve the color. Many times if the clothing is white, a short soaking in well - diluted chlorine bleach (if applicable to the material) will remove the dye stain from the material itself.

"Another suggestion — sometimes a safe, all - purpose, all-fabric sodium perborate bleach (this is powdered and is sold under various names) will help.

"For persistent stains such as this dye from the crayons, I make a sort of paste of the powdered perborate bleach (be sure it is NOT a chlorine bleach) and put this on the moistened fabric where the stain is. Keep it moist and give it time. Often the dye comes out.

"As a last resort, your professional cleaner has spotting agents for removal of dye, but I don't trust myself to use these. I think a professional on spotting is needed."

Jessie Cartwright
Director of Home Economics

Dear Heloise:

As a food chemist I should like to recommend that ONLY glass, earthenware, or stainless steel containers be used to make tea in. If one intends to re-use the teabag, always leave just enough liquid on it to completely cover the bag, thus excluding it from the oxygen in the air.

F. W. Sawyer

Dear Heloise:

When I want to transfer an embroidery design on a piece of cloth I tape the pattern to the cloth.

I put this on my sewing machine and UN-THREAD the needle. I stitch along the line of the design and when the pattern is lifted the design is easily seen!

One can go over this design with a pencil. However, it should be used very lightly so that when the embroidery is finished the pencil mark does not show on your piece work.

E. D. T.

Dear Heloise:

When I went to buy my favorite bra a while back, they were out of my exact size . . .

I purchased the next smaller size and added an extender. This is a two-inch piece of cloth with hooks on one side and eyes on the other. One can buy them ready-made at dime and department stores.

It worked just fine, and here's the bonus: when the bra got old and the elastic began to lose its stretch, I just left out the extender, and the bra fit just like a new one.

Just about doubled its life . . . and now I buy all my bras "that-way" on purpose.

Georgiana

GOOD

When making scalloped potatoes, bake a one-inch thick center slice of ham right on top of the potatoes. When almost done, crumble ¼ cup American blue cheese (about 1¼ ounces) on top and return to oven until cheese begins to melt. (Potatoes won't be runny if you scald the milk before adding it.) Serve with a green salad for an easy meal.

AEC Detonates Nuclear Blast

The commission, announcing the test blast, described it as of low intermediate yield, meaning it had a blast force of between 20,000 and 200,000 tons of TNT.

The blast was the sixth weapons-related test to be announced this year.

NUTRIENTS

SEPARATE BILLS PLAN

Passman To Fight New Aid Proposals

WASHINGTON (Special) — Rep. Otto E. Passman (D) La., the most publicized congressional foe of foreign aid, said Friday he will fight two new proposals to increase the size of the overseas program.

These proposals, he said, would attempt to revive the International Development Association — already beaten once this year in congress — and split foreign aid into eight separate bills "so as to fragmentize the program."

The eight-bill procedure, endorsed by Sen. J. William Fulbright (D) Ark., would in some people's opinion result in larger total appropriations than the present lump-sum method.

Passman explained that the International Development Association is made up of two categories of member-countries — Part I "Developed" nations, which provide the hard-currency capital, and part II "So-called underdeveloped" countries, which receive the money.

The United States puts up directly, he added 43 per cent of these funds, while the other 15 part I countries, combined, contribute 57 per cent of the total. "But," he continued, "of these other 16 countries, the United States is giving direct foreign aid to 13 of them — so what is happening, then, is that our nation, either directly or indirectly, is footing by far the major portion of the IDA bill".

He described programs for this type of foreign aid as being of the "most deceptive nature — devised to fool the American people and a lot of members of congress, particularly some of the newer ones."

"When our money gets into one of these international agencies — such as the IDA — it is all mixed up with other nations' meager contributions." Congressman Passman commented, "and we have but little control, if any at all, as to how it is spent.

"For example," he continued, "Communist and Communist-leaning countries are members of these international organizations. With respect to the International Development Association, some of the Communist-leaning member-countries which are eligible could draw funds for their own use but could then, conceivably, lend the money to Cuba — which would mean, in effect, that the American taxpayers' hard-earned dollars would go into Cuba.

With regard to what he termed the "Fulbright gimmick to fragmentize and hide our aid," he said it would not have a "ghost of a chance" for survival in the house.

"But," the Louisianian concluded, "It illustrates clearly the efforts that are being made to remove our foreign aid from congressional control — which, as has already been permitted to develop, is woefully inadequate."

Bands To Give Concert At Olla

LaSalle High School at Olla will present its annual Spring concert of bands Tuesday in the school auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

The concert will feature numbers played by both the high school and elementary bands with a varied program. This will be the final appearance for the two bands this school year.

Admission to the concert will be fifty cents for students and seventy-five cents for adults.

STUDY OF BANK CRIMES

CHICAGO (AP) — Bank crimes soared to a record 1,548 in 1963, an increase of 360 per cent from the 450 such incidents in 1956.

Commerce Clearing House says a study indicates that factors contributing to the increase were lack of laws protecting financial institutions, lack of standard requirements for security in procedures and the increase in suburban and outlying area banks.

Stocks Take Hard Tumble In Soft Mart

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks tumbled in the final thirty minutes of the session Friday.

Dow - Jones industrial average sank 6.77 to 814.89 and rails retreated 3.27 to 196.18. Utilities dipped 0.17. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index dropped 0.63 to 79.75.

Pacific Petroleums topped the most active list with a loss of ⅞ to 13 on a turnover of 293,000 shares. The stock advanced on a heavy turnover Thursday after the company announced it had struck a large gas well in Canada.

Texas Gulf Sulphur was second with a gain of 1⅝ to 44¼ on 245,900 shares. Chrysler was third with a loss of ⅛ to 45⅜.

Ford and General Motors also were among the most active issues. Ford slipped ⅝ to 57⅛ despite news of a 19 per cent gain in first quarter earnings. General Motors dropped ⅛ to 83⅛. American Motors held unchanged.

Most of Thursday's gains in the rails were wiped out. Soo Lines sank 2⅛. The exchange forbid all stop orders in the stock and ordered all such orders placed for Monday's opening cancelled.

Steels moved lower. Jones & Laughlin dropped 1½. Republic, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Lukens all lost a point. Bethlehem eased ¾.

Allied Chemical and Du Pont slipped ½ but Dow Chemical dropped 1¾. Eastman Kodak firmed ⅛ and Union Carbide held unchanged. Barber Oil Sand Oil, (N.J.) 1¼, Philips Petroleum 1⅞, Shell Oil 1¼ and Pennzoil 4⅛.

Metals also were weak with U.S. Smelting off 2⅜, Kennecott Copper 1⅜, Reynolds Metals ⅞, Cerro 1¼, Alcoa 1⅛ and International Nickel 1½.

Control Data tumbled 4⅛, Beckman 2⅝ and Texas Instruments 2¼. IBM lost 1, Litton ⅞, Minneapolis-Honeywell ½, Motorola ½ and RCA ¼.

Airline shares made an unsuccessful attempt to recover some of Thursday's losses. Delta, a heavy loser Thursday, sank 4¼. Pan American World Airways gave up 1¾, Northwest 1⅞, Western ¾ and National ¼. United Airlines rose ½.

McDonnell Aircraft dropped 2⅜, North American Aviation 1⅞ and Douglas Aircraft ⅞. General Foods gave up 1⅞, Royal Crown Cola 3¼ and Armour 1⅜. Borden advanced 1⅞.

Polaroid dropped 1½ and Xerox lost a point. Corning Glass dropped 3½. American Telephone skidded 1¾. Sears Roebuck gave up 1⅞. Lorillard slipped ¾ and Liggett & Myers 1.

Prices also were lower on the American Exchange.

Big Explosion Rocks Town In Southern Italy

TRENTO, Italy (AP)—A violent explosion Friday shook the heart of this South Tyrol city.

The blast went off at the base of a monument to Italian soldiers who fought in this former Austrian area in World War I. It damaged the monument and broke windows of a building across the street. No one was reported hurt.

Police said the explosion was the work of German-speaking terrorists agitating against Italian rule.

Relations between Austria and Italy, strained by the South Tyrol issue, have improved recently. There has been talk of a new foreign minister's meeting to take up German-speaking citizens' demands for more autonomy.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures closed 80 cents to $1.85 a bale lower Friday.

Commission house liquidation was absorbed through other commission and local short covering.

Friday was first notice day for the May 1964 contract but no notices were issued.

Most traders awaited further developments on the new cotton law and how it will affect open market prices.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

TO ACQUIRE SHARES

NEW YORK (UPI) — Interlake Iron Corp. Friday announced plans to acquire 200,000 shares of its own common stock through tenders from stockholders at $30 per share.

Bankers Trust Co. of New York will serve as agent and invitations to tender are to be mailed early in May.

CONTRACT FOR GE

CALLS OFF ACQUISITION

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chas. Pfizer & Co. has called off its proposed acquisition of Morningstar-Paisley, Inc.

Pfizer said Morningstar was not able to satisfy all terms of a January agreement and that it therefore decided not to proceed further.

TO EXPAND

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Welded Tube Co. Friday announced it will spend $1.5 million for expansion of its plant facilities here. Welded Tube signed a long-term contract with Bethlehem Steel Co. covering the conversion of steel into welded tubing.

AUTO RETAIL SALES

DETROIT — Auto retail sales in mid-April set a record for the period. The April 11 - 20 sales totaled 223,250 cars, an average of 27,906 for each of the eight selling days. This was up 2.5 per cent from the daily selling rate of 27,214 a year earlier when 244,925 cars were retailed in nine selling days.

BUYS CHAIR FIRM

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—Textron, Inc. announced it has purchased Durham Manufacturing Corp., a Muncie, Ind. manufacturer of folding metal furniture from National Union Electric Corp. for an undisclosed amount of cash.

NEW SPACE SUBSIDIARY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Westinghouse Electric International Co. has set up a new defense and space subsidiary, organized to serve "as the nucleus for all Westinghouse defense and space activities in Europe and the Far East."

Peter G. Schmitt, vice president for advance technology for the international company, will take on the added post of president of the new organization.

CAPITAL OUTLAYS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Business and industry plan to jack up capital outlays this year by 12 per cent over 1963 and are shifting emphasis from modernization to expansion, according to a January McGraw-Hill sampling of company spending intentions.

The projected outlays were estimated at slightly more than $44 billion. When a similar check was made last fall companies said they planned only a 4 per cent rise in capital outlays over 1963.

SEPARATE BILLS PLAN

Passman To Fight New Aid Proposals

WASHINGTON (Special) — Rep. Otto E. Passman (D) La., the most publicized congressional foe of foreign aid, said Friday he will fight two new proposals to increase the size of the overseas program.

These proposals, he said, would attempt to revive the International Development Association — already beaten once this year in congress — and split foreign aid into eight separate bills "so as to fragmentize the program."

The IDA would be an international agency through which industrialized nations would pool resources for development of the undeveloped ones.

The eight-bill procedure, endorsed by Sen. J. William Fulbright (D) Ark., would in some people's opinion result in larger total appropriations than the present lump-sum method.

Passman explained that the International Development Association is made up of two categories of member-countries — Part I "Developed" nations, which provide the hard-currency capital, and part II "So-called underdeveloped" countries, which receive the money.

The United States puts up directly, he added 43 per cent of these funds, while the other 15 part I countries, combined, contribute 57 per cent of the total. "But," he continued, "of these other 16 countries, the United States is giving direct foreign aid to 13 of them — so what is happening, then, is that our nation, either directly or indirectly, is footing by far the major portion of the IDA bill".

He described programs for this type of foreign aid as being of the "most deceptive nature — devised to fool the American people and a lot of members of congress, particularly some of the newer ones."

"When our money gets into one of these international agencies — such as the IDA — it is all mixed up with other nations' meager contributions." Congressman Passman commented, "and we have but little control, if any at all, as to how it is spent.

"For example," he continued, "Communist and Communist-leaning countries are members of these international organizations. With respect to the International Development Association, some of the Communist-leaning member-countries which are eligible could draw funds for their own use but could then, conceivably, lend the money to Cuba — which would mean, in effect, that the American taxpayers' hard-earned dollars would go into Cuba.

With regard to what he termed the "Fulbright gimmick to fragmentize and hide our aid," he said it would not have a "ghost of a chance" for survival in the house.

"But," the Louisianian concluded, "It illustrates clearly the efforts that are being made to remove our foreign aid from congressional control — which, as has already been permitted to develop, is woefully inadequate."

Bands To Give Concert At Olla

LaSalle High School at Olla will present its annual Spring concert of bands Tuesday in the school auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

The concert will feature numbers played by both the high school and elementary bands with a varied program. This will be the final appearance for the two bands this school year.

Admission to the concert will be fifty cents for students and seventy-five cents for adults.

STUDY OF BANK CRIMES

CHICAGO (AP) — Bank crimes soared to a record 1,548 in 1963, an increase of 360 per cent from the 450 such incidents in 1956.

Commerce Clearing House says a study indicates that factors contributing to the increase were lack of laws protecting financial institutions, lack of standard requirements for security in procedures and the increase in suburban and outlying area banks.

Stocks Take Hard Tumble In Soft Mart

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks tumbled in the final thirty minutes of the session Friday.

Dow - Jones industrial average sank 6.77 to 814.89 and rails retreated 3.27 to 196.18. Utilities dipped 0.17. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index dropped 0.63 to 79.75.

Pacific Petroleums topped the most active list with a loss of ⅞ to 13 on a turnover of 293,000 shares. The stock advanced on a heavy turnover Thursday after the company announced it had struck a large gas well in Canada.

Texas Gulf Sulphur was second with a gain of 1⅝ to 44¼ on 245,900 shares. Chrysler was third with a loss of ⅛ to 45⅜.

Ford and General Motors also were among the most active issues. Ford slipped ⅝ to 57⅛ despite news of a 19 per cent gain in first quarter earnings. General Motors dropped ⅛ to 83⅛. American Motors held unchanged.

Most of Thursday's gains in the rails were wiped out. Soo Lines sank 2⅛. The exchange forbid all stop orders in the stock and ordered all such orders placed for Monday's opening cancelled.

Steels moved lower. Jones & Laughlin dropped 1½. Republic, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Lukens all lost a point. Bethlehem eased ¾.

Allied Chemical and Du Pont slipped ½ but Dow Chemical dropped 1¾. Eastman Kodak firmed ⅛ and Union Carbide held unchanged. Barber Oil Sand Oil, (N.J.) 1¼, Philips Petroleum 1⅞, Shell Oil 1¼ and Pennzoil 4⅛.

Metals also were weak with U.S. Smelting off 2⅜, Kennecott Copper 1⅜, Reynolds Metals ⅞, Cerro 1¼, Alcoa 1⅛ and International Nickel 1½.

Control Data tumbled 4⅛, Beckman 2⅝ and Texas Instruments 2¼. IBM lost 1, Litton ⅞, Minneapolis-Honeywell ½, Motorola ½ and RCA ¼.

Airline shares made an unsuccessful attempt to recover some of Thursday's losses. Delta, a heavy loser Thursday, sank 4¼. Pan American World Airways gave up 1¾, Northwest 1⅞, Western ¾ and National ¼. United Airlines rose ½.

McDonnell Aircraft dropped 2⅜, North American Aviation 1⅞ and Douglas Aircraft ⅞. General Foods gave up 1⅞, Royal Crown Cola 3¼ and Armour 1⅜. Borden advanced 1⅞.

Polaroid dropped 1½ and Xerox lost a point. Corning Glass dropped 3½. American Telephone skidded 1¾. Sears Roebuck gave up 1⅞. Lorillard slipped ¾ and Liggett & Myers 1.

Prices also were lower on the American Exchange.

Big Explosion Rocks Town In Southern Italy

TRENTO, Italy (AP)—A violent explosion Friday shook the heart of this South Tyrol city.

The blast went off at the base of a monument to Italian soldiers who fought in this former Austrian area in World War I. It damaged the monument and broke windows of a building across the street. No one was reported hurt.

Police said the explosion was the work of German-speaking terrorists agitating against Italian rule.

Relations between Austria and Italy, strained by the South Tyrol issue, have improved recently. There has been talk of a new foreign minister's meeting to take up German-speaking citizens' demands for more autonomy.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

Commission house liquidation was absorbed through other commission and local short covering.

Friday was first notice day for the May 1964 contract but no notices were issued.

Most traders awaited further developments on the new cotton law and how it will affect open market prices.

TO ACQUIRE SHARES

NEW YORK (UPI) — Interlake Iron Corp. Friday announced plans to acquire 200,000 shares of its own common stock through tenders from stockholders at $30 per share.

Bankers Trust Co. of New York will serve as agent and invitations to tender are to be mailed early in May.

CONTRACT FOR GE

CALLS OFF ACQUISITION

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chas. Pfizer & Co. has called off its proposed acquisition of Morningstar-Paisley, Inc.

Pfizer said Morningstar was not able to satisfy all terms of a January agreement and that it therefore decided not to proceed further.

TO EXPAND

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Welded Tube Co. Friday announced it will spend $1.5 million for expansion of its plant facilities here. Welded Tube signed a long-term contract with Bethlehem Steel Co. covering the conversion of steel into welded tubing.

AUTO RETAIL SALES

DETROIT — Auto retail sales in mid-April set a record for the period. The April 11 - 20 sales totaled 223,250 cars, an average of 27,906 for each of the eight selling days. This was up 2.5 per cent from the daily selling rate of 27,214 a year earlier when 244,925 cars were retailed in nine selling days.

BUYS CHAIR FIRM

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—Textron, Inc. announced it has purchased Durham Manufacturing Corp., a Muncie, Ind. manufacturer of folding metal furniture from National Union Electric Corp. for an undisclosed amount of cash.

NEW SPACE SUBSIDIARY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Westinghouse Electric International Co. has set up a new defense and space subsidiary, organized to serve "as the nucleus for all Westinghouse defense and space activities in Europe and the Far East."

Peter G. Schmitt, vice president for advance technology for the international company, will take on the added post of president of the new organization.

CAPITAL OUTLAYS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Business and industry plan to jack up capital outlays this year by 12 per cent over 1963 and are shifting emphasis from modernization to expansion, according to a January McGraw-Hill sampling of company spending intentions.

The projected outlays were estimated at slightly more than $44 billion. When a similar check was made last fall companies said they planned only a 4 per cent rise in capital outlays over 1963.
